

LAHS Students Named 2022 National Chinese Language Speech Contest (NCSC) Winners

The National Chinese Language Speech Contest (NCSC) concluded its multi-level competitions on April 10th. The first of its kind, NCSC involved about 550 grades 6-12 Chinese language learners across 37 states to showcase their presentational language skills. This platform also gave opportunities for students to exhibit their cultural learning via talent show culture performances.

Please join us in congratulating the following LAHS Mandarin students for winning the Chinese speech contests:
