

So basically the scene starts out with the camera panning across a kitchen table.

As the camera pans, you can see that the table is littered with dozens empty plates piled high and empty 2 liters of soda all over the place

Empty pizza boxes greasy and empty, yet still warm

Soon a soft gurgling becomes audible as well as the sound that could only be described as the sound a pig makes when eating straight out of a feeding trough....

The camera continues it's pan to reveal two pot bellied ponies, sitting at the table, one of them had their head buried in a pie tin while the other grumbled and gurgled as they nursed a hefty belly bulge that squished against the edge of the table

As the first pone finished off his pie and added the empty pie tin to his growing pile of dishes, a voice from off screen marvels at their gluttony!

"Wow! It's been a while since anyone's enjoy my cooking this much!"

The camera cuts to a very satisfied Huckleberry Bleu, wiping his brow and dusting flour off his apron, before waddling over to the two plump horses sat at his table

Bleu being on the larger side, stood about a head taller that the two horses he had in his kitchen. He wrapped his hooves around their shoulders and gave them a hearty squeeze.

"I'd like to pick a winner between you two but I don't think either of you two hold a candle to your friend there~"

all three of them look in the same direction just past the camera, where an absolutely massive pony sat, slurping up the last slice of a pizza he just inhaled what this pony didn't have in height he certainly made up for in width and appetite!

"Oh yeah, but we already knew we weren't gonna be able to top him!"

"Yeah, besides it's not really a competition when the food is just too dang good to stop eating!"

The ponies lick their lips and patted their bellies respectively, obviously very proud of what they had accomplished today

Bleu began to sweat from his brow once again, trying to steel his nerves as his face went red, "Oh my gosh you guys flatter me!" Bleu said with a chuckle

"It's the least I can do for you guys, being such great customers and all!"

Bleu takes in their compliments as he clears a large load of dishes off the table. After taking the dishes to the sink, he reaches into the cupboard and pulls down a final bottle of soda, he takes four ornate glasses and walks back over to his party guests

"you guys have been so much fun, here's one last glass of soda for the lot of you, on the house!" The trio of portly ponies cheer as Bleu pours them all a generous glass of the bubbly light blue drink.

"This has been such a riot Bleu! I feel bad we kinda ate all your food though...."

"Ahhhh no sweat guys! I'll be making something super special later and I promise there will be enough for all of us!"

Bleu said with a smirk as he raised his glass, "here's to you guys! thanks for coming and eating to your heart's content~" The ponies agreed in unison and began chugging the raspberry flavored contents of their glasses, all while Bleu merely raised the glass to his sealed lips, trying to hide a mischievous smile~

They all finished off their drinks and placed them down on the table, the largest of the 3 ponies let loose a hearty belch as he moved his hoof up to pick pizza toppings out of his teeth.

"Haha nice one!" one of the smaller ponies called out to him while handing his empty glass off to Bleu. The ponies were so entertained by their own gluttony that they failed to notice that Bleu hadn't drank the contents of his cup. "...and now we wait~" Bleu said under his breath as he walked back over to the sink to fetch some table settings for the upcoming feast~

Bleu began clearing the multitude of dishes off the table as the 3 continued their conversation, eaves dropping in and out to gauge the effects his special soda would have on them. Making multiple trips to and from the table, he caught several instances of them mentioning, "the hefty food coma setting in" and "wow all that food is hitting me like an elephant stampede, imma need a nap soon!"

"Perfect~" Bleu thought to himself as he opened up another cupboard door and brought down 3 massive plates. From the fridge he fetched a wide assortment of sauces and condiments. and from the top of the fridge he fetched a respectable length of rope.

Bleu walked over and began setting the table. placing the three plates upon the table, right in front of the visibly drowsy ponies. Their heads nodded up and down as they desperately tried to keep their eye lids open and finish their conversation, but it was only a matter of before they succumb to the effects of the Sleepytime Soda™

"H-hey..... are these..... for the next..... HIC course, Bleu?" one of the ponies asked sleepily.

"Why yes it is, friend! I'm glad you noticed!" Bleu answered excitedly. The other pony tried to press his curiosity further, "Those plates are huuuuuge~ yawn what exactly are you planning on..... feeding us bleeeeuuuuu....?" The sleepy pone could barely get his question out before laying his head down to upon the table and shutting his eyes completely.

"Haha! That's one!" Bleu cheered happily before looking back at the first pone, "heyyy Bleu, YAWWWWWN I can't eat another bite, can you put my portion..... in the fridge for..... later.....?"

That pone also slipped into his potion induced food coma, "That's two!"

Before Bleu could even glance at the bigger of the three ponies, he heard the tell tale snoring of the passed out glutton, "aaaaaand that's three! all for meeeeee!"

Bleu danced around excitedly as he celebrated, enjoying his agile figure while he could before he completely ruined his waistline with his impending feast!

Bleu licked his lips as he went to the first pone, lifted them out of their chair and onto the table, where he rolled them onto one of the plates he set out. Bleu continued this process for each of the three pones, the biggest one was especially difficult and nearly toppled the table but given enough time and enough leverage, the table was nearly set for Bleu's feast!

Bleu went around the table and lathered up each pony with the a medley of sauces and spices!

Ranch and Salad Toppings for one, Mayo and Honey Mustard for the second, and BBQ and Dry Rub for the big guy~

Each pone was so well stuffed and taught with food, Bleu could hardly keep his hooves off them. He ran his hooves up and down their belly, squishing and squeezing them to test how stuffed they actually were. He could hardly wait as his mouth watered at the sight of his spread! "Almost ready~"

Bleu took the rope and quickly tied their hind hooves, followed by their front hooves, locking them into a position that resembled as if they were diving into a swimming pool.

he did this for each pony, but did not cut the rope before moving onto the next pony. Instead he daisy chained them together into a conveyor of lathered up fat pone

Bleu stood proudly at the edge of the kitchen table, took one end of the rope, placed it into his mouth and began pulling the first pone towards him, plate and all!

This forced the other two sleeping ponies to follow suit, forming a train of gluttony, straight to Bleu's awaiting maw~

Bleu wrapped the excess rope around the hooves of the first pony, opened his mouth as wide and as he could and engulfed the pony up to their forehooves, lapping up and down their arms as he slurped the ranch off of them, all while suckling them down further and further as he enjoyed his meal.

Bleu didn't usually put his prey to sleep, I mean, what pred doesn't like a little struggle, but this new sensation of calm was one he hadn't experienced before.

There was no stress, no fighting hooves, no time crunch. Just gluttony. He could savor and enjoy his meal as slowly as he liked, the only real hassle being the bloated gut bulge he was gonna have to choke down, but truthfully, that was more of a bonus for him really~ glup!.... glurp!.... GLUCK!

More fat to pack his own gut with!

Bleu gulped his first course down happily as he let his hooves run up and down his throat, feeling his neck distend and undulate as the bloated pony slipped past his gums.

Then Bleu finally got to his favorite part of any well fed pred, the belly. Normally, this would be as much of a struggle as it is satisfying to squish down, but thanks to the generous layer of ranch Bleu had applied before hand, he had no problem squishing that tum down his throat, lubed up proper by the creamy condiments.

He squished and squeezed the hefty belly of the pone into his puffed out cheeks before sending the pony's abdomen down as an enormous throat bulge that slipped down his body slowly as it headed straight for his stomach~

Bleu leaned his head back and let gravity do the rest as he opened up the back of his throat and let the ponies back legs slip through his pursed lips and down his throat, leaving only the rope that restrained the pony dangling from his jowls.

"hehe That's one~"

Bleu blushed bright red as he felt his belly distend slowly with his first course! Patting the top of his newly acquired belly with both of his hooves as he enjoyed the feeling of being so full.

"oh man~ that really hit the spot! and I still have two more of ya?

phew~ I'm gonna be huge~"

After relishing in his own gluttony for a bit, it was time to continue his feast, the sleepy soda wouldn't last forever after all and there was still a lot of pony to get down~

Bleu took his belly off the table and let it droop down between his hind legs with a loud slosh, before taking the rope from his lips and pulling the next pony closer and closer to him, the pony stirred ever so slightly as his plate inched closer and closer to the hungry Bleu pony!

"mmph you're even bigger than your friend was~" Bleu thought to himself as he finally brought the second pony to his lips!

He tucked the rope against the side of his mouth and licked his lips, preparing himself before opening his mouth wide again and shoving the pony into his mouth!

Whether it was his own hunger, impatience, or the fact that he loved mayo and honey mustard, Bleu got carried away and guzzled down the top half of the pony as fast he could!

Taking him in up to his shoulders in a matter of around 30 seconds!

Bleu slurped the face and hooves of the pony as he supported the hefty bottom and belly of his pony meal. Enjoying the taste as well as the weight of his meal in his fore hooves.

Making it a point to bounce a few times to feel the surplus of food slosh around inside his pony meal, only wetting his appetite further as he felt his belly bulge slosh around underneath him~

Once the taste of mayo and honey mustard had faded from the pony's upper body, Bleu began feeding himself the rest of his second course. Slowly but surely allowing the pony to squish deep into his gullet just as his friend did before.

Bleu gobbled up the pony as if he were swallowing down an enormous sandwich, but instead of using both hooves to push his meal down, he had to use his entire front legs! Placing the weight of the pony on his legs while shoving the pony's bottom down his throat with his hooves!

As quickly as it began, it was nearly finished, Bleu awoke from his gluttonous trance to the tight sensation of his neck bulging out with his meal enormous belly and looked down at his lips as the pony's hooves were pulled into his mouth by the descending weight of the pony that occupied the condiment covered plate before him.

Bleu placed his hooves onto the throat bulge and squished it down into his belly! Distending it out that much further as he felt his belly bounce against the cold tile floor.

Bleu face went bright red as he looked down at himself. Where he could once see his hooves, he could only see the big blue expanse of his belly, chock full of pony!

He reached his hooves down underneath his enormous gut bulge and hefted the mass of fat up into his chest. Feeling the weight of his meal in its entirety before dropping back down against his lap with a loud

BLOOMPH~

HIC "and now that's two~"

Bleu patted his belly with both hands as his esophagus delivered a hearty belch courtesy of the two ponies~

UuUuUuUuRAaAaAaLP~

"Phew~ I'm getting just as big as you are, huh, big guy?"

Bleu teased at the sleeping pony, letting his eyes oogle over his final course~

Rope still dangling from his maw, Bleu begins yanking hard on the rope, pulling that enormous pony to him as he gulps the excess rope! Closer and closer the pig of pony inched closer to Bleu. Bleu took the plates the the previous two ponies sat on and stacked them to make room for his gargantuan third meal!

Finally, that enormous pony was in gobbling distance, Bleu reveled in the sheer size of his final course,

"Wow~ if the other ponies we're turkies, this was a big fat greased hog." Bleu leaned his fat body into the sleeping pony and gave his BBQ basted body a long slurp~

"Ahhhh~ And now, you're aaaaaall mine~"

"Huff I'm gonna be so fat after I get you down~" Bleu chuckled to himself as he picked up the hooves of the plump pony, wiped his brow...

"Bottom's up!" NOMP!

...and began swallowing down the final pony!

Bleu wasted no time in getting his meal down! He had already started to feel full after the last pony and it was only a matter of time before his body realized that he wasn't hungry anymore. But it was too difficult not to savor the flavor that enormous pony. Despite being much MUCH larger than the other two ponies, this one was all fat~ Bleu was able to squish and squeeze the pony as much as he needed to to choke him down and choke him down he did!

If one were standing just outside the kitchen, they would hear a cacophony of gulps, slurps, gurgles and hiccups as Bleu stuffed his face with as much of the fat pony as he could before gulping him down, adding to the growing throat bulge as the finish line drew ever closer.

Bleu stretched his jaws as far as the could go as he lifted the remainder of the fat pony high above the table and bobbed his head back and forth like a large bird of prey, as he began swallowing down the rest of the pony!

With every loud gulp and slurp, more and more of the pony slipped down Ward and disappeared past Bleu's lips!

Until finally all that remained of the meal was an enormous throat bulge, a bushy tail still hanging from Bleu's lips, and just below that, the other end of the rope~

Bleu had braced his hooves against the huge throat bulge to savor the final moments of his meal, until now with one final gulp goodbye....

He took his hooves off his throat bulge and let the weight of the pony drop into his belly with a loud

and with one last satisfied slurp! The tail fluff and the rest of the rope disappeared into Bleu's pursed lips as if he were slurping the final noodle of a very large bowl of spaghetti~

The force of the weight plopping into Bleu's already massive belly was enough to throw him backwards against the chairs the two ponies were sitting in, shattering them to pieces!

Bleu rolled onto his back, his hind legs rolling up into the air pressing his massively bloated belly into his face before sloshing back down into his lap
His gut sloshed back and forth a few times before coming to rest as Bleu licked his lips triumphantly.

He was absolutely massive and incredibly proud of his appetite, this had been his biggest meal in months and couldn't believe how massive he'd become

Bleu plapped into the sides of his belly as best he could making it slosh up and down as he felt his stomach gurgle and process his enormous meal
