PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Film director and media producer with 4 years of professional experience in creative direction, visual storytelling, and independent cultural production. Author of 100+ video projects spanning commercial brand content, experimental cinema, and author short films. Co-founder of Dramodern Production and founder of Вербел — an independent Ukrainian socio-political and cultural journal. My work engages with Ukrainian identity, cultural memory, and political thought through the medium of moving image and editorial discourse. Currently developing a feature film project and deepening independent research through the intersection of film and critical theory.
