

[MEWTWO DOCUMENT CONT.]

For more information, contact:

Aaron Blues
2 Spark, Lab 1
Ferrite

Note: Mewtwo has since left the region with Mew to learn more about the world. It is no longer under the control of anyone and as such it is no longer a threat.

The contents of this document are still mostly unconfirmed due to the nature of any and all encounters with "Mewtwo".

SUBJECT: MEWTWO (Unknown forme II)

TYPE: PRESUMED PSYCHIC || FIGHTING

HT: Approx. 2.3m | 7' 07

WT: Unknown

Abilities: Unknown

Curiously enough, Mewtwo achieved this form without external influence. It's quite possible that it is capable of temporarily forcing itself to grow stronger by a rapid form of evolution.

It is unknown whether or not this form is tied to Mewtwo's emotions.

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION:

In this form, Mewtwo assumes a more dominating and bulky appearance. It grows larger and with purple additions extending from its torso. Two tubes now sprout from the back of its head and connect to its back.

Mewtwo's limbs have a stockier appearance with ridges extending from its thighs and forearms. Its tail has also taken a less flexible and shorter appearance.

(Rendition of Mewtwo's new form)

ABILITIES:

Mewtwo seems to have traded the versatility of its initial form and first transformation for a more physically hardy form. Unlike before it did not seem to react to any attacks that made it through its barrier, so it would not be incorrect to say that this form grants it a greater defense.

Mewtwo still boasts incredible telepathic and telekinetic abilities. Taking this form might influence Mewtwo's ability to think rationally, however.

Mewtwo is capable of dealing incredibly heavy punches in this form. It can knock out even the most guarded of Pokemon with ease.

It is also capable of using moves in rapid succession and can attack opponents from several angles. It might be capable of using moves such as:

- focus punch (instantly)
- a move similar to focus blast, Mewtwo condensed energy and launched multiple blasts from above to attack
- an unknown, destructive attack that was formed by forming orbs out of what might simply be raw energy and arranging them almost like a double helix. This attack was capable of dealing heavy damage to even Mew. So perhaps calling it a "Neogenesis Supernova" due to the bright nature of the attack will be appropriate.

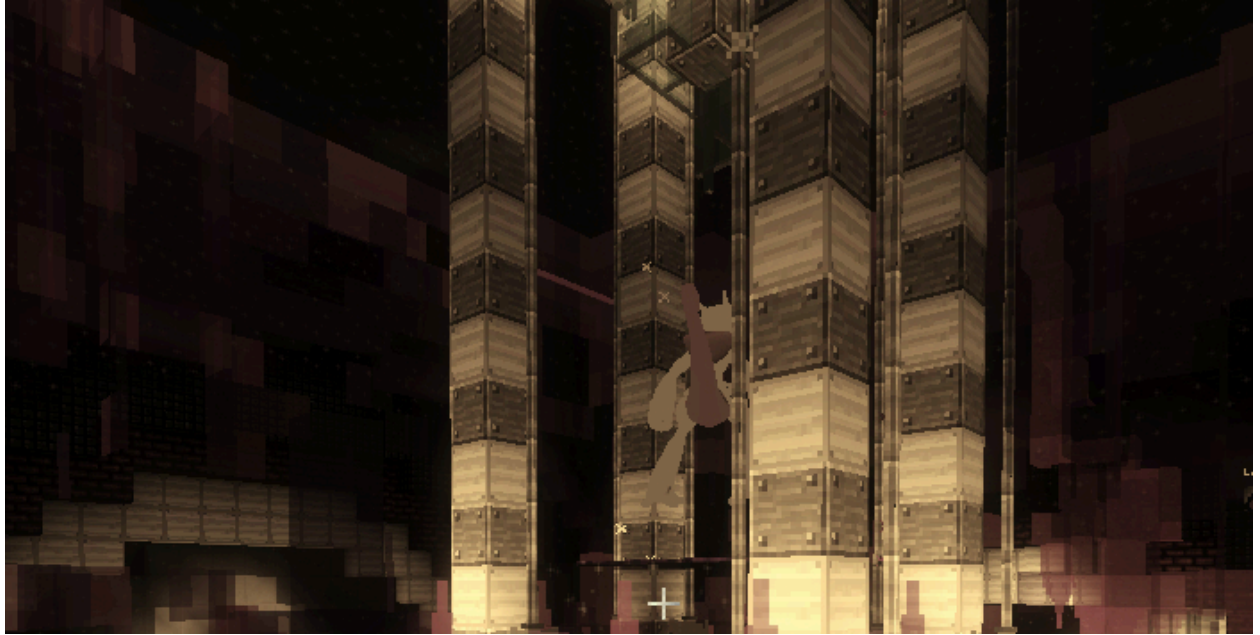

Mewtwo's psychic ability is still incredibly potent. It is capable of turning most objects into projectile weapons, even ones that might be out of view.

Additionally the amount of psychic energy it emits has been shown to be able to influence the environment. The location it was created in is filled with psychic energy, to the point that the energy has even begun to crystallize.

The scope of Mewtwo's abilities are still unknown and might remain that way indefinitely.

IMAGES :

Due to the nature of this form, the image captured was taken from a limited perspective.

(Mewtwo, seen from behind)