

Strong partnerships shine in third year of elk translocation efforts March 24, 2017

Wisconsin

DNR News

Twenty-eight Kentucky elk have arrived at their new home in the Flambeau River State Forest in Sawyer County. Once released into the wild, the “class of 2017” will join the current Clam Lake herd. Check out a video highlighting their arrival in Wisconsin below ...