

Fab 5 in 5

If you can get excited to sell $99 in 15 minutes hand over foot, left and right, day in and day out, then - Here is everything you need to do a FAB 5. It's very basic and simple AND works! These are designed to book and hold within a couple of hours or at least the same day. Women can be spontaneous with their 5 minutes with little notice. They will become busy or forget if booked too far in advance!

  I have the outline up on my computer and reference it throughout. Feel free to read straight from it. The more you do them, the less you'll need to read. Keep them by your camera so you're not looking down, and your Zoom guests think you're looking at them. ⚡ Do these products with ALL of your customers before you do new products!!! Master this one first. It's flawless. You can do these from your car while your kid has ball practice. You can do these while on vacation. It's the MOST flexible "party" I've done since it's so fast.  17

These can be your 10 parties you hold! Remember your challenge?? 10 parties and 30 faces?! You could hold 10 in a day if you really wanted to! I like doing 1 a day. Boost my energy and excitement!

You could do a Fab 5 Friday and book 5 then focus on the facials booked the rest of the week. That's how a friend of mine started doing it. Works for her. But I like doing one daily.

When filling the order, offer a facial in a bag and see when she has a 20-minute time slot. Then ask which of her friends would want one. Then book it and get their facials ready. FAB 5 leads to the skincare.  Watch this Zoom training we recorded for you word-for-word & step-by-step HOW to do one. If that doesn't answer your questions, reach out and ask!
