

What exactly is a non-deposit bonus?

An unsecured bonus (or "No Deposit Bonus" in English) may be awarded in the form of a free spin, free roll, free betting, or bonus credit from a gambling provider. Sometimes there's no deposit free spin for registration, but the actual bonus page has a good overview of this. This page is mainly about bonus campaigns for regular customers of online casinos.

Unsecured Bonus: What Works?

There are some pitfalls you need to know without a deposit bonus credit so that you don't have problems with your online casino later on. For most online casinos, the following rules are standard:

Turnover: You have to make a bonus XY bet with no deposit so you can withdraw money from the real money casino. When you make a bet, you often lose the entire bonus as quickly as you get credit from the casino.

Deposit: No deposit is required for non-deposit bonuses. But you can read in the casino terms and conditions that you have to pay 10 or 20 euros before you make the first payment. Then it's not really a bonus without a deposit.

Maximum cash withdrawal amount: Sometimes online casinos charge the maximum cash withdrawal amount in the absence of a deposit bonus. For example, you can only pay 100 euros out of the prize money for a free bonus. Any amount in excess will be forfeited in full.

Max-Bet-Rule: There is usually a fixed maximum bet when playing with bonuses. If you bet more on one spin, your bonus expires. Typically, the maximum betting rule is 5 euros per spin.

Bonus Code: You may need a code or coupon to receive a bonus, and you will need to enter a promo code from that casino to receive the bonus. 경마

Bonus for everyone: Unfortunately, not all players get a deposit bonus. Sometimes you have to make a deposit within a certain period of time or once in casino history. It's a legally personalized task that sometimes requires email or SMS.

It's not a bonus for every game: in most cases, you can only run the bonus on a slot machine. Jackpot slots are generally excluded from bets. However, there may be other restrictions.

IMPORTANT: Despite the no-deposit bonus, only play in reputable online casinos

Many online casinos with somewhat weak gaming licenses offer bonuses in the form of starting credit cards or free spins without a deposit. You should think carefully about which casino to join. Players from Germany are advised to play in online casinos with a German gambling license. Players from Malta, Gibraltar, and the Isle of Man are good for athletes from Austria and Switzerland.
