Abstract

The abstract consisting of approximately 160–250 words. It briefly presents the research background, objective, methods, results, and conclusions. Avoid references and abbreviations. Use past tense to describe methods and findings. These instructions give you guidelines to prepare papers for JTIF. Otherwise, use this document as an instruction set. Avoid references and abbreviations. Use past tense to describe methods and findings.

Keywords- Put 4-6 of your keywords here, keywords separated by commas

1. INTRODUCTION

The introduction provides the background of the research, the problem being addressed, the research gap, and the objectives of the study. It also sets the context and importance of the study within the field. Manuscripts may consist of scientific research articles, research notes, review articles, feature pieces, literature reviews, or editorials in the fields of engineering and science. Submissions must be written in English and must not have been published or submitted for publication elsewhere. The article title should not exceed 12 words.

Manuscripts should be typed in Garamond using Microsoft Word, on A4-sized paper (210 x 297 mm), with single spacing. Margins should be set to 30 mm on the left and 25 mm on the right, top, and bottom. The text must be justified (aligned both left and right), and the total length should be at least 10 pages, including figures and tables. The maximum acceptable level of similarity is 20%.

2. METHODS AND DATA

This section describes the research design, data collection techniques, instruments, software, and procedures used.

Mathematical equations must be numbered sequentially, beginning with (1) and continuing through to the end of the paper, including any appendices. Each equation number should be enclosed in parentheses and aligned to the right. Additionally, one blank line should be inserted above and below each equation.

$$\rho = \frac{\vec{E}}{J_C\left(T = \text{const.}\right) \cdot \left( P \cdot \left( \frac{\vec{E}}{E_C} \right)^m + \left(1 - P\right) \right)} \qquad (1)$$

3. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Present and interpret the findings. Use figures and tables to support the discussion. Explain how the results address the research question. Comparison with related studies is also encouraged.

3.1 Table

Table captions should be placed above the corresponding tables. Captions must use lowercase letters, except for the first letter of the first word. All tables should be numbered consecutively. Figures must be centered on the page, while tables should be aligned to the left margin.

3.2 Figures

Guidelines for presenting images are illustrated in Figure 1. If the image is obtained from a secondary source, the source must be properly cited. Image captions should be placed below the image, and framing the image is not necessary. Ensure that the existing image is of high resolution so that all details are clearly readable 300 dpi.

4. CONCLUSION

The conclusion should clearly address the research objectives and/or hypotheses outlined in the introduction. It should not repeat the content from the results or discussion sections, but instead provide a concise summary of the key findings in relation to the stated goals. If relevant, the conclusion may also include suggestions or plans for future research directions based on the study.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Acknowledge the institutions, funding bodies, or individuals who contributed to the research but are not listed as authors. If this research did not receive funding from any party, this statement is still included in this section.

REFERENCES

In-text citations must be written using Arabic numerals and arranged in the order in which they appear in the text. These numbers should be enclosed in square brackets, for example: "… Zhang et al. [1]…". Citations should be placed one space after a word and follow commas or periods, but appear before punctuation marks such as colons (:), semicolons (;), and question marks (?). When positioned at the end of a sentence, the citation should be placed before the period, as in: "… by several studies [2–3]." All references should be listed in numerical order at the end of the document, following the formatting style shown in the provided examples. The bibliography should be prepared using a reference management tool such as Mendeley, EndNote, Zotero, or similar software. A minimum of 25 references must be cited, with the majority published within the last 10 years. Provide the link identifier (DOI) for each reference used.
