

FIND THE MISTAKES OF THIS EMAIL AND THEN COME BACK WITH HOW YOU WOULD FIX IT

\

Good afternoon/morning(name of the owner or supervisor of the company)

I've come to notice through ads your interesting and curious product, also very informative, quite catching I must say, and it came in mind that you could use assistance to broaden your intriguing company and implement new ideas. As I am offering my services as a full-copywriter I can provide numerous ways to effectively bring new clients to your company, that is if you allow me to do so.

If my offering is tempting enough for your great company, do contact me through this email.

Who am I speaking to? Two women that desire to make a profit from traditional rice making for effective growth hair.

What do they lack? A quantity of ads but the quality of it is bad, I already reviewed and passed the ads in youtube, not very tempting, and on IG, I just clicked on it to see the ingredients of the soap, but it truly did not catch my attention.

What do they want? More clients, and more effective ways to advertise their product

Can I give that to them? Absolutely, I am a natural in listening to what people truly want, I am already working in my persuasive side, and with this practice I can be sure If what I'm doing is working.