Dear Parent/Guardian:

Throughout September, Eastern will be administering the MindPrint assessment to all freshman students. MindPrint measures learning skills like complex reasoning, memory, and attention. Research has shown these skills to be highly correlated to academic and social and emotional skills. MindPrint consists of a series of computer tasks that feel like games and puzzles and will take your student approximately one hour to complete.

The results are used to understand how your student learns best. Unlike academic achievement tests that measure what skills your student has mastered, MindPrint evaluates how your student best absorbs, understands and problem solves with different types of information and formats. MindPrint will be used to help us support students in the learning process and strengthen study skills in ways that will be most effective for your student.

We also will be using MindPrint to help students develop self-awareness of their unique learning strengths, set personalized goals and cultivate a growth mindset, so students can take more responsibility for their own learning and success.

After your student takes the assessment and has access to their results, we encourage students and families to review the results together and discuss the strategies that are recommended for your student's individual profile.

Sincerely,
