Electeds, Party Leaders, Organizers Call for Change in NY State Democratic Party Leadership

“Last week, voters across the US successfully combated a ‘red wave’ and instead flipped several state legislatures and gubernatorial seats to democratic control and fought valiantly to maintain congressional seats.

Here in New York, however, the State Democratic Party – led by Cuomo appointee Jay Jacobs – failed to commit the time, energy, and resources necessary to maintain our deep-blue status: 4 Congressional seats flipped to Republican control, and Governor Hochul won by a slim majority— the smallest in two decades.

The writing is on the wall and has been for some time: Jay Jacobs is not fit to serve as Chair of the State Democratic Party, and it’s time for Governor Hochul to work with the party to elect a focused, determined, unifying party leader.

During his victory speech, Lt. Governor Antonio Delgado said New York must continue to be a beacon of progress. But we cannot be the guiding light for our country under a party chair who spends his time creating a third party, actively works against Democratic nominees (while comparing them to nationally-known racists no less), supports his local Republican Party, doesn’t lift a finger to enact constitutional amendments to protect our democracy, and blames everyone else for his leadership failures.

The New York State Democratic Party is better than this. We, the undersigned, are ready to work with Governor Hochul to elect a real party leader who embodies actual democratic values and is – as our party website clearly states – ‘committed to building a party that ensures New Yorkers have progressive, fair, and dedicated leaders at every level of government.’”
