

Option: [enter option here]

Subject: [enter subject here]

Additional Format: [enter additional format here if applicable]

Ethical Dilemma: [enter ethical dilemma here]

Research question: [enter question here]

Personal code: [enter code here]

Word count: [enter word count here]

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION.....	3
WORKS CITED.....	4

Introduction

[This is the body of your paper. The entire paper is double-spaced. Notice the indent at the start of each paragraph. There is no extra line space between paragraphs. The font should be a common, easy-to-read font, such as Times New Roman or Arial. The font size must be between 11 and 13. The margins around the edge of the paper should be 1 inch (2.54 cm).]

[Whenever you create a new section, and you want the title of that section to appear in your Table of Contents, set the style for the title of the section to Heading 1. To get the section headings to appear in your Table of Contents, click into the Table of Contents, and at the top, select Update Table from the drop-down menu.]

[The Works Cited list will always start on a new page at the end of your paper. Please see the next page for the placement of the Works Cited list.]

Works Cited

[When an entry in the Works Cited list extends over more than one line, every line after the first will have a hanging indent (like you see here). Every entry in the Works Cited list needs to follow the proper formatting for that type of entry (e.g. book, journal, web site, etc.).

See the MLA Style Center online for instructions and samples: <https://style.mla.org/>.]

[To export your Works Cited list from NoodleTools, open your project, click on the Export/Print icon at the top of the page, and export your Works Cited list to Google Docs or Microsoft Word. You will then need to copy and paste your list into this template.]