As w bask in the joy of the celebration of the 60th (Diamond) Anniversary of the school, th publication is exclusively designed by members of the Old Students' Association to honour an celebrate all the founding fathers, the Staff, all old and current students for their part in keepin the school going in the last 60 years of its inception, till date.

No doubt, the last six decades had been full of eventful and significant activities initiated an sponsored by the community, the government and more significantly the active members of th Old Students Association. PREFACE.

By Chief (Barrister) Ayodele Oyebamji Oyeduntan,
The Balogun Of Fiditi.

ABOUT six decades ago the sleeping, rustic and rural community of Fiditi put up a monumental design that transcended the human conception of a community that is Lessentially composed of an illiterate people called Fiditians. The Community reasoned aloud that the only solution to their children's failure to advance beyond primary School education is to found their own community Secondary School of te without even being certain of the wherewithal of the fund and supportive teaching They seized the bull by the horn and bolted into the challenge of the time abysmally with a little fund less than ₦5000.00.

A courageous and dynamic progressive people in their resolve consulted widely with their ris and kins all over the country and produced a Grammar School, the first of its kind in the environs. The Fiditi Grammar School later opened the neighbouring towns to a desire self-reliant and self-dependent educational structure. Awe community mimicked Fiditi, Tre followed them and Oyo established Oranyan Grammar School later in the sixties. Some other communities in the old Western Region then followed suit. Mildly, one can call it the PACE SETTER.

The founding of Fiditi Grammar School pre-dated Chief Awolowo progressive dynamism in education, if at 1953-1954 the Fiditi Grammar School had become a pan African Institution of learning one may conclude that there had been inhered in that Pristine Society amood for decolonisation of people of Africa and indeed Nigeria as the school later in life de from the far north of Nigeria, the Ibos, the Edos, the Ijaws, the Ekitis, Egbas, Ijebus, the coastal region of west Africa of Ghana, Sierra Leone in terms of students and staff such Koffie, Ferreira (038), Edokpayi, Udeozor, Agbagi, Lander Peregrine, Ugben polo, Puiller Ehogiator.

I had to a greater extent resolved and combated the surging unemployment of middle managers in education sector and provided research forum for some new breeds or graduates of our universities as the epoch of Ajayi and Okigbo had revealed. The academic seal for our budding future professors was being laid at the infantile stage of the school by the encouragement of teaching of Science and provision of a good laboratory by the pincer principals. In the Art subjects inquisitive and ebullient Chief Ajayi had brought leading and eminent literary scholars into the school to give the students lectures on classical literature, poem/ culture. At age 3, Fiditi Grammar school had been beaming academic purity of knowledge that would soon breed high class professionals.

The schools concept of education has thoroughly assimilated and imbibed in students, Chief Awolowo's philosophy of education of training of the minds, hand and heads purposely to make a man fearless, courageous, self-reliant, self-dependent, respectful and spectacle and capable of creating a vibrant society free of ignorance and disease with a....strength capable of fighting deceptions and mere masquerading in governance and for freedom and emancipation of souls a balanced mind. The School inculcated discipline in its students and staff alike in such a way that the products of the school in all their future endeavours exhibited diligence, commitment, divine mind that shunned misuse of executive power, corruption and greed as many of the commission of inquiries in any manner whatsoever described have not nabbed the products of the school as such.

The school's role in developing and growing the NIGERIA NATION in terms of quantity and quality is very robust, identifiable and ascertainable. The products are distinguishably found in politics, medical and legal, military occupations, research, teaching, engineering finance and banking, divinity, public administration, industries and so on. They ar geographically spread and eminent in Europe, America, Japan. Some of them are found in the space technology in U.S.A. Here in Nigeria the likes of Chief Bode Olajumoke, Presidential Aspirant and Senator is uniquely placed in our politics of reconciliation and nation building that healed the wounds in Akintola-Awolowo's family of hostile recrimination and Abiola's posthumous hostilities nationally. We cannot in a hum discountenance my friend, Dr. Yemi Tunde Oloko's renowned personality internationally in Veterinary Medicine, the ilkes of Professor Popoola in law education cannot just be forgotten in a hurry in his bent for prevalence of customary equities over rigour of Statutory and Case laws to ensure substantial justice as against abstract Austinian adherence to forms alone and in a way develop a Nigerian jurisprudence that recognises our cultura challenges and LIMITATION in administration of Criminal justice and Civil laws particularly Marriages.

The Success story of the school in the last 60 years is owed to the selfless sacrifice of an array of dedicated and committed staff both academic and non-academic. The pioneering forbearance of the first principal of the school Chief A.O. Adeyi that shunned the attractions of urban towns and chose to live among his natives in a rural area where water was scarce and climate hot and the environs very uninviting. His love for the school even when in the comfort of government resounded in his seeking financial support of the government for bounteous grants in aid and quick recognition and approval of the school and staff recruitment.

The continuation of the good standard set by the Chief was strengthened by an array of equally able, talented, visionary heads and staffers in persons of Chief Alex Olu Ajayi Chief S.I. Ojelabi, S.O. Ogunjuyigbe, Okigbo, Pa Otubanjo, Mr Adeyemo, Chief Aja and in the recent past B. A. Lasebikan Omojowo, old students of the school, late JA Oguntokun, Ayo Afolabi all of the blessed memories. Chief & Mrs Abodunrin, Ms

Ogbonnaya, Bokosa, Bode Kumapayi and a host of others. All these laid good foundations for the school in Arts Subjects, Science and Mathematics and gave the student body the 3MS of education in a very dynamic Colour that moulded the students in general for greater heights and visionary leadership in the development and growth of the Nation. A highly committed crop of selfless spirits was nurtured and grown the benefit and recognition of Fiditi as a town in the comity of nations world-wide. It is this body of responsible products that left the school at different times that still find themselves bounded by their previous love of the school that made them form the Fiditi Gmmar School Old Student's Association that played significant role in the development he school particularly in the provision of a school library, bore-holes, renovation of the als Golden Jubilee gate, information technology system, and a lot of other beneficial.

Way I close this preface while I challenge the privileged few members of FIGSOSA to join Hands in the fight against corruption, kidnapping, political murder, electoral malpractices we are approaching year 2015 to ensure continuing UNITY of our dear Nation Nigeria. Tur Diamond anniversary celebrations must produce representations at the proposed National conference for dialogue, on the way forward for a sustainable future Government nd 2015. I wish all, happy DIAMOND CELEBRATIONS.

Bister Chief Ayodele Oyebamiji Oyeduntan,

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY COMPENDIUM - A FOREWORD

I was barely settling down after my smooth flight from Venice to London, when I received in my mail box, a mail dated 31st January 2014 from Prince Ade Ayeni Chairman, C.M.& P, the Committee responsible inter alia, for this Diamond Anniversary Compendium in which he talked of the crucial need for me to do a Foreword to the compendium ending it with, "My apologies for this late request, sir. The 60th Anniversary ceremonies will start 14th Feb 2014! Just a mere 14 days to go! A tall order indeed, but then I was a Boy Scout at Fiditi! As the Lagos State Scout Commissioner for Special Scouts 57 years since Fiditi, I remain a Scout - Ever Prepared!

Ten years ago, I did the Foreword to the Golden Jubilee Anniversary publication, and I was therefore almost querying this directive as it were, when it then occurred to me that my colleagues on Fiditi Grammar School Old Students' Association (FIGSOSA), had decades ago conspired to make me Life President of the Association! Going through my Foreword to the 2004 Compendium, I almost decided to adopt all I wrote therein, in the vein of "all protocols duly observed and adopted," but then I realised that times have changed in the past ten years and so have some of the salient facts contained in the old Foreword. This realisation confirms the truism in our school motto - Adspice Virtutem- Emate si waju. We have certainly marched on since year 2004; making giant strides!

Year 2014 marks 57 years that I entered Fiditi Grammar School for Boys as a young, 13 year old lad. Year 2014 similarly marks the year I turn a septuagenarian when on 1st July I become Baba 70! So it is a year and a season of anniversaries and I give all honour, glory and adoration to God almighty for these milestone attainments! Our alma mater continues to grow as between the Golden Jubilee and this Diamond Anniversary, hundreds, perhaps over a thousand students have graduated from the school and thereafter, from Institutions of higher learning, in and outside the shores of Nigeria and joined the critical manpower force of our country. A few of these have joined our FIGSOSA, increasing our fold!

Between the Golden Jubilee of our school and this Diamond Anniversary, I have proudly flown the flag of our alma mater at the highest law making body of this nation, the Senate of the National Assembly, representing Ondo North Senatorial District as a distinguished Senator of the Federal Republic of Nigeria. I am proud to say that I made my mark and represented you all with dignity, honour and without any blemish! Up school!

Between the Golden Jubilee and this Diamond Anniversary, an old student was elevated to the rank of a Major General in the Nigerian Army in person of Major General Kola Ogunkoya and another old student to the prestigious rank of Rear Admiral in the Nigerian Navy in person of Admiral Segun Egbedina. Pretty soon, we will have an old student as Senate President and another a Service Chief! Why not as President of Nigeria? Adspice Virtutem, we are surely marching on!

Our universities here and abroad keep churning out egg heads, from the body of our old students in various disciplines of learning. Accordingly, while an old student and an te legal scholar, Professor 'Demola Popoola gave the Golden Jubilee Anniversary lecture in 2004, yet another egg head and an old student, Prof Adesola Ogunniyi, a ro-surgeon of repute is the Diamond Anniversary lecturer on the 14th of February 2014! We are never in short supply of academics, and men and women in other endeavours of human development - media, entertainment, medicine, engineering, ligion, management, teaching, law etc.

As you read this Diamond Compendium, you should feel proud that you are a product of Fin Grammar School! While the last compendium was put together under the headship of a technocrat and a seasoned administrator, Prince Lola Omojowolo, this Diamond Anniversary Compendium has been put together by a crack team of seasoned media gurus under the veteran TV Broadcaster, our own Prince Ade Ayeni, ably Supported by Hadjia Sherifat Olaide Abass, a Manager in NTA, Ibadan.

We have children, grandchildren and arguably great grandchildren whose parents, grand and great grandparents are old students of Fiditi Grammar School! Still talking of a season of anniversaries, my own son, Bode Olajumoke jnr., a Fellow of Actuaries is 43years old today, 1st Feb.!

Tam so elated and glad to write this Foreword and I say a happy reading and a Happy Diamond Anniversary to you all and especially those old students marking one form of dmark anniversary on this Diamond Anniversary of Fiditi Grammar School, Fiditi.

Senator Bode Olajumoke

National President,

FIGSOSA London, 1st February 2014

FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL OLD STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION (FIGSOSA)

Report of the National Planning Committee on the 60th Anniversary

Celebration: Making of a Dream and Giving Back to our Alma Mater.

IT is with humble hearts and MANY THANKS to God Almighty that we are witnessing a giant stride in the annals of our great school and in particular a demonstration of strong COURAGE AND exemplary LEADERSHIP acumen, by the National Executive Committee (NEC) of the Old Students' Association (FIGSOSA), led by our indefatigable National President and the pride of FIGSOSA, Distinguished Senator (Dr.)Olabode OLAJUMOKE. This great event/celebration can indeed be described as epoch making, as the outcome being witnessed on ground represents a mile- stone that will stand out in the annals of both the school and FIGSOSA. This is a product of sound planning and unwavering commitment of members of the Planning Committee with the exceptional support of the NEC.

THE BEGINNING:

Sometime in December, 2012, a 22-Member National Planning Committee (NPC) was set up by an enlarged National Executive Committee to organise the 60th anniversary of the school for a stated date in 2014, to coincide with the birth of the school. Among others, the committee was to be guided by the following terms of reference:

1. To arrange a commemorative lecture.
2. To institute and execute commemorative projects.
3. Review of the School Brochure in a 3rd Edition.
4. Arrange Anniversary Prayer (Interdenominational)
5. Awards/Gala Night.
6. Novelty Football Match.
7. Project into the future for the development of the School.
8. Diaspora Connection.

The committee, which consists of Old Students from all spheres of human engagements, has my humble self as the Chairman and Barrister Wale Adekola as Secretary. At the inaugural meeting, the Committee broke into three major functional sub committees for effective and efficient delivery of assignments with the active support of the National Secretariat. These committees and their respective coordinators include:

1. LOGISTICS SUB-COMMITTEE -

(Rear Admiral Segun EGBEDINA/Mr. Hakeem Kilanko)

- ☐ School Infrastructure and Facilities
- ☐ ICT
- ☐ Security
- ☐ Support and Logistics

2. COMMUNICATION AND PUBLICITY-

PRINCE ADE AYENI Femi Keshinro

Aaja Laide Abass)

S. Ade. Ojaniyi

- ☐ Documentary on the School
- ☐ Publication of Diamond Jubilee Compendium –
- ☐ Awareness and Publicity to reach all old students in Nigeria and the Diaspora
- ☐ Planning of Socials and Awards
- ☐ Brochure/Programme, Invitation Cards, award certificates etc.

3. FINANCE SUB-COMMITTEE

ENGR. SEGUN RUNSEWE & Alhaji Babajide Atiku

Fundraising to execute the Anniversary programme - Create Trust fund for the future ing of the association and ongoing projects.

Without much ado, the NPC/Sub- committees swung into action and after a critical view of all circumstances, we came up with a 2-Day programme of events spanning Friday 14th and Saturday 15th February, 2014. I believe the detail break down of the arious events as approved by the NEC is incorporated in the Brochure and Programme already published for this occasion.

COMMEMORATIVE PROJECTS

In our humble efforts, works have reached advanced stages in most of the projects designed to commemorate the 60th Anniversary Celebration especially the Publication aff various events including documentary and reviewed / new edition of the school's compendium. But most significant are the projects to be commissioned as part of the history making event. In summary, these projects include:

- ☐ School Fence;
- ☐ Entrance Arcade (2Nos);
- ☐ Comprehensive Renovation Works including the Admin. Block;
- ☐ Production of Double-Seater Students' Table and Chairs;
- ☐ Painting of Key Structures.

I wish to note that these projects as listed above, are just part of a comprehensive scope aff projects that the NPC conceptualized. Our Committee hopes and sincerely believes the NEC will not only conclude the on-going works but also take up some more in future with the active support of all Old Students.

FUNDING AND SUPPORT

Having drawn up our various programmes and projects, the issue of funding became the Five-wire towards executing these projects. And in this regards, I wish to thank the Old students who ACTIVELY supported this dream, including the ever engaging and generous National President who showed true leadership and inspiration in ensuring the success of this event. On behalf of my co-members on the committee, I thank you all.

BUT, WITH DUE RESPECT, I DARE SAY THAT: THE WORK HAS JUST BEGUN AND NOT YET OVER...!

OUR STEWARDSHIP

The committee wishes to thank the NEC for the privilege to carry out this assignment especially the opportunity to serve at this memorable time in the annals of our great school. We are most grateful. On this assignment, I wish to state unequivocally that the outcome is by no means a fait- accompli, rather it is meant to engender a strong desire and inspire all members with a view to giving the school a befitting legacy.

To my colleagues who served with me on the committee (NPC), I wish to express my personal gratitude to you all. I note in particular your openness, positive inputs and deep sense of commitment throughout the cause of this assignment. I am very proud to work with all of you. Thank you.

An Address by the National Life President of FIGSOSA, Senator Bode Olajumoke (1957 set), on the occasion of the 60th Anniversary Celebrations of Fiditi Grammar School, Fiditi.

FOREMOST, all glory, honour and adoration to God Almighty for making us to be partakers in the 60th Anniversary Celebrations of our alma mater.

We cannot but reflect with sadness and grief at the demise of some of our old students and teachers, who as we celebrate this landmark event of our school, are no longer with us. May their precious and gentle souls rest in perfect peace. Amen. 60years in time and history is over half a century! If we remember that Nigeria as a nation is a century old this year, then we would say with glee that Fiditi Grammar School, has come a long way!

Let me at this point, salute the vision, wisdom and thoughtfulness of the founding founders of this citadel of learning who founded the school on the 19th of January 1954. The school has educated and produced young minds who later rose to become responsible citizens of this nation, contributing to the development of Nigeria in all spheres of life such as medicine, law, religion, arts and culture, science and the humanities.

I acknowledge the contributions of old students of our school who in the spirit of gratitude and appreciation for the education received in the school, formed a body of old students known as Fiditi Grammar School Old Students' Association (FIGSOSA). This body has contributed immensely in promoting and sustaining the development and ideals of the school in both academics and sports, while ensuring that the high standards of the school are maintained. Branches of Figsosa are set up here in Nigeria and in the diaspora with monthly meetings where affairs of the school and welfare of members are discussed. Yearly, the Association holds its Annual General Meeting statutorily every 2nd Saturday in November, when reports from the school and branches are received and vigorously analysed and debated. This yearly ritual then proffers solutions to the various challenges of the school, intervening in such areas as paying salaries of recruited teachers to coach students in specific subjects, rehabilitating old structures, supplying computers and books for the library and giving career guidance talks to graduating students. The last AGM-the 25th since inception, was held in the school hall on the 9th of November 2013.

These activities of the Figsosa, carried out by just a few of them, are at enormous, financial and personal costs to these old students. Sadly though, majority of the old students have often displayed a non- charlatan attitude to their alma mater.

This act of ingratitude is highly condemnable and I call for a change of heart from our lethargic old students, reminding them that Fiditi Grammar School has contributed in one way or the other to whatever they might have achieved in life today. Since inception, I have been very active in the affairs of the old students' association of our alma mater and I am humbled by the fact that I have served in a number of positions namely the National Secretary, the National President and now serving as the Life President. Since 1954 when Fiditi Grammar School was established, the school had been privileged with the services of some great teachers that it is difficult to mention names, but I cannot but single out Chief Alex Ajayi who was the Principal when I entered the school in 1957, Chief S.I. Ojelabi arguably the most popular of these teachers and posthumously, Chief A.O Addeyi and Mr Christopher Okigbo.

The current Principal of the school, Mrs P. F. Awotunde has been following in the footsteps these great masters, as widely acknowledged by members of the Association and she should keep it up. I rejoice with all who are part of this 60th Anniversary Celebrations of Fiditi Grammar School.

The Chairman

President and fellow FIGSOSA members,
Principal and Staff, Fiditi Grammar school.
Former Principals and All Former Teachers.
Distinguished Guests.
Members of the Press.
Ladies and Gentlemen.

I am extremely grateful for this honour of being asked to deliver the diamond anniversary lecture. I thank the President of FIGSOSA and members of the Planning Committee for selecting me amongst the pantheon of eminent old students to do this. On this auspicious occasion, it is a dream come true. A little over forty three years ago, an ex-student of our Alma mater, Rev. Yemi Ladipo, then ministering in Jos, delivered the address during the Valedictory service of my set in December 1970 at the First Baptist Church, Fiditi. Jos, at that time was the choice place to live or visit because of the weather; and that was long before the days of sectarian violence and Boko Haram dastardly acts. The event was indelible in my memory and I must have silently wished I could be accorded a similar opportunity. It is therefore with a lot of nostalgia and possibly a re-enactment of a glorious event that I stand before you to deliver this lecture.

A friend and colleague of mine called it another inaugural lecture in university parlance. It is quite coincidental and most appropriate that this auspicious occasion coincides with Valentine's Day which symbolises love. In essence, we are demonstrating our love for our beloved Alma Mater and we rejoice in the Lord for this opportunity. I wish everyone present Happy Valentine's Day. I was on my way to Accra, Ghana on Sunday, January 19 at about 1630 hours when I received a phone call from my friend and classmate, Mr. Hakeem Kilanko who informed me that he was attending the meeting of the Planning Committee of the Diamond Jubilee and that it had been decided that I should be asked to deliver the anniversary lecture, if I would be around. I was taken aback because in all honesty, I had planned a quiet time in Accra to enable me catch up with outstanding manuscripts and revision of protocols, my usual past-time during travels. The time given me to prepare and deliver was another challenge for conceptualization and getting necessary references for a lecture worthy of presentation for a Diamond Jubilee. I was at a cross-road. The choice of a topic was what occupied my mind most of the time. I toyed with a phrase in Latin from our reading of "Latin for Today," in Form 3. I thought of a title like, "Fiditi Grammar School at 60: tempus fugit," but felt that I needed to use another tense in Latin which I could not quite get right. It thus became a mind-boggling exercise to mix and match words and come up with exciting titles.

A catalogue of these abandoned titles reflected the state of my mind as I went through this brain puzzle. However, each time I came up with any title, I ended up jettisoning it because of some inexactitude or other ideas came up. Eventually, on the last night of my stay in Accra, the present title came to my mind out of the blues and I decided that it was simple enough and covered all that one would like to talk about without giving much away upfront. Hence the topic of my lecture is: "Quality education at Fiditi Grammars School over three decades: echoes from the past, the present and a peep into the future".

Anybody who attains the age of sixty years can be regarded as old, according to the World Health Organization. It is great to celebrate 60, looking healthy and productive. Our school can thus be regarded as having attained the status of being senior, relative to some other schools. Disorders of human beings as they attain old age happen to be of special research interest to me. It therefore seems appropriate that I have been called upon, to talk on this occasion. The only difference is that this is not to a medical audience and I do not think institutions suffer from such human frailties like dementia, stroke and the like. I do not intend to scare those who have attained this age and those that are older.

My lecture will have little reference to Medicine to avoid abuse of privilege. The older institutions get, the better and the more the products that can then influence public perception. They can even transform to Universities! The best example of this is the Saint Andrew's College, Oyo which is now a full-fledged University. This is our diamond anniversary and we should regard that as the jewel in our crown at the moment. "Diamonds are forever," is the usual saying. Therefore, I dare say that Fiditi will continue to maintain relevance and produce high-class products that will turn this country around and make great impact. We all pray to live long to celebrate many more years of the school's existence.

I wish to start by thanking the good people of Fiditi for promoting education and for their sacrifice and contributions towards building a great school in this town and for their persistence in seeing the project through. Many of those who initiated the process and saw it to completion are no longer with us. May the souls of all the departed faithful continue to rest in perfect peace. (Amen). In like manner, I pray for the repose of our teachers and students who had also passed on to the great beyond. May eternal light continue to shine on them. We, the beneficiaries of their foresight and generosity, are eternally grateful. Let me single out our dear Principal, Chief (Deacon) Solomon Ipadeola Ojelabi who was there at the very beginning, did a lot to take the school to great heights, has maintained relevance and continues to play a dominant role in the affairs of the school. I join all the old students in thanking you for all these and for more. You have inspired so many of us. May your shadow never grow less. God will continue to prosper you.

The gestational period of the school building project was 8 years because history has it that the first contributions were received at a special event on June 20, 1946, while construction at the site started in 1953 and the school was formally opened in January 22, 1954. The school establishment can now be likened to the biblical mustard seed which has grown so big that we are celebrating her existence and measurable successes at 60. (I will use the tree illustration later in the lecture). Some notable schools, older than Fiditi Grammar School in Oyo State, include St Anne's School Ibadan (1896), Ibadan Grammar School (1913), Government College Ibadan (1927), St Theresa's College Ibadan (1932), Ibadan Boys' High School (1938), Olivet Baptist High School, Oyo (Olivet Heights) (1945) and Queens School Ibadan (1952). In the Oyo area, Fiditi Grammar School (FGS) is the second oldest after Olivet Heights, and the healthy rivalry between the two schools was manifested in sporting activities and results of external examinations. In her first year, FGS admitted 32 students and thirty of them stayed in the boarding houses. Nineteen students passed out as the first set in 1959. Over 60 years, the school has had impact on the lives of 8836 students. I heartily congratulate and celebrate with the surviving members of the foundation students, their teachers (Dr. Tunde Oloko, Alhaji K. Ladipo etc.) and all old students in general for the achievements over the years. This is indeed an opportunity for sober reflections, geared towards making progress by attending to deficiencies identified.

Quality education and the place of Fiditi Grammar School: My focus for this lecture is quality education and to relate this to three time periods in the life of Fiditi Grammar School, drawing parallels, if any and making some projections or proffering advice for the future. I was privileged to read the erudite exposé of Professor Demola Popoola, delivered during the golden jubilee anniversary ten years ago, courtesy Prof. John Oluokun, Chairman of the Ibadan Branch of FIGSOSA. His lecture was titled, "Education as capital and social investment for national development- problems, challenges and prospects." The lecture brilliantly analysed the state of education in this country and made generic prescriptions on ways forward. In my own judgment, at 60, it is a good to be introspective because according to a Yoruba adage, literally translated "If a child falls, he looks forwards, but when an older persons falls, he looks backwards." It is in this spirit that I chose to reflect on events at FGS over three decades and proffer solutions for the identified problems in order to make for progress. I also owe a depth of gratitude to the School Principal, Mrs Folasade Awotunde who provided me with information about the school at short notice and while she was also busy receiving delegates and preparing for the 60th anniversary celebrations. I am also highly indebted to colleagues who provided a lot of reading materials albeit during the short time period.

Since the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1948, school enrolment is the largest component of societal investment into human capital. Nigeria utilizes the 6-3-3-4 educational system comprising three tiers: primary, secondary and tertiary. Primary education is geared towards learning to read and write and preparing the students for the next stage of learning. The duration is 6 years and the pupils obtain a qualifying certificate but must pass a competitive examination to qualify for admission into secondary school of choice. This is organized as common entrance examination at state level. The secondary school education is divided into junior (JSS) lasting three years, and senior class (SSS) for another three years. For each segment, standard examinations are set for all students to measure comparative performance. The final examination is also external and the two examination bodies are the West African Examination Council (WAEC) and National Examination Council (NECO).

The goal of secondary education is to produce competent and well-trained students who can proceed to higher institutions for further education and who are also knowledgeable enough to seek employment, if they choose to stop at this stage and would thus constitute lower cadre manpower. However, this goal may be truncated by many factors. If students drop out of school because of funding issues or health challenges, then this goal may not be realized. Tertiary education is either at the University or Polytechnic and aims to produce senior level manpower after adequate training and exposure post- qualification. University education is usually regarded as a ticket for better life and also as a meal ticket. At least one would not starve if one gets a good job and he/she is prudent with finances. Nigeria's literacy rate is estimated at 61%.

Quality education implies a combination of good teaching and moulding of character. It brings out the best in the students and the school in turn gets the glory of excellent results in external examinations. Quality is always valued and does not necessarily come cheap. Nobody compromises quality for quantity or whatever. According to Martin Luther King: "Intelligence plus character- that is the goal of true education". The University of Ibadan will only graduate students who are found worthy in learning and character. This means that being academically brilliant is not enough. This must be combined with character for the education to be complete. My mother, of blessed memory, always admonished me whenever I did anything wrong or whenever she felt like putting me in my place, "that no matter how brilliant you may be but lack manners, you are nobody and is all a waste". These statements underlie the importance of quality education. I considered the type of education we had in Fiditi during the golden years as being of high quality.

Kudos to our Principals and teachers who nurtured us and led us on the path of success. They all gave of their best. The various calling in life in which we find our old students bear eloquent testimony to this assertion: Members of FIGSOSA should please pardon me if I failed to include their names. It is because of limited space and information available to me at the time of writing: The list is also arranged randomly and not a reflection of importance or relative contribution.

Politics: (Senator (Dr.) Bode Olajumoke, Federal Permanent Secretary, political stalwart Hon Deolu Adeleke, Former Speaker, Oyo State House of Assembly; Industry (Otinba Tunde Runsewe - Petrochemicals, Mr. Bayo Aderinto - Paint industry); Civil Service (Prince Lola Omojowolo Retired Perm Sec and Federal Civil Service Commissioner, Mrs. Ruth Oluokun, Mr. Remi Adekunle); Engineering (Eng. Alhaji Lateef Busari, CEO Broadcasting Corporation of Oyo State, Eng. John Oguntokun, Eng. Alaba Osiname - he was the resident Engineer that supervised the construction of the new Oyo-Ibadan expressway; Eng. Oyetosho). Tertiary Education: (Prof Olayiwola Director Institute of African Studies, UI; Prof. Oladele, Osun State University/Obafemi Awolowo University; Prof. Demola Popoola - Obafemi Awolowo University, Prof. Jare Agboola Federal University of Agriculture Abeokuta); - Agriculture (Prof. John Oluokun, Mr. Taofiki Bello, Mr. Peter Ayanwale); Law (Chief Gbade Ishola, Mr. Adekola); Journalism/Media/Broadcasting (Mr. Bayo Oladele, Deacon Biodun Opaleye, Mr. Sola Omole, Alhaja Olaide Abass); Medicine (Dr. Segun George, Dr. Kayode Agbola, Dr. Idowu Osiname); Medical Laboratory Sciences: (Elder Sam Olanisebe); Veterinary Medicine (Dr. Tunde Oloko); Teaching (Mrs. Kike Onilude, Mr. Adisa Olayode, All the names under Tertiary Education above and more); Military: (Major Gen Kola Ogunkoya - former Director NYSC, Rear Admiral Egbedina-former Commander of ARADU and Head of Logistics, Nigerian Navy); Business (Hakeem Kilanko). The list can go on and on.

These individuals have kept the flag of Fiditi Grammar School flying by their commitment and continued service. I salute them. More accolades and more grease to their elbows..." The determinants of quality education include the teachers, the facilities available, the school curriculum, opportunities for relevant extra-curricular activities and internet access in the modern world. The students also have a part to play because it is usually a 2-way affair. Students' preparedness and the willingness to go the extra mile to source information can motivate their teachers to do more. The selection of endowed or gifted students can also influence the pace of teaching or how many tutorials will be needed to get the lesson understood. Where a school is left with the "dregs" in the selection process, the pace will be slow and not much can be achieved, unless extra efforts are applied including special coaching classes. Otherwise, the results in examinations will not be inspiring.

Apart from internet access which is relatively new, In my judgment, FGS, through the influence and experience of the teachers, the varied teaching programmes and facilities available which were comparable to what obtained in high calibre schools in Western State later Oyo State, the products were not short-changed.. To buttress my point of view, I will now itemize key events covering three time periods: I termed the first period the golden years which covered from when the school started till 1983 when the boarding house was first scrapped. The boarding house system was resuscitated in 2002 but it finally collapsed in 2007. We will have the opportunity to critically examine the examination performance of students before and after the scraping of the boarding house system. The second time period will cover when the school abandoned boarding houses, representing the present (2007 to date) while the 3rd time period will be devoted to my projections based on observations in the education.

THE GOLDEN YEARS: ECHOES FROM THE PAST!!

Fiditi Grammar School was tagged "For Boys Only" but this changed when the first set of girls were admitted in 1966 and the slogan became "Fiditi Grammar School for boys and girls". The first set of mixed students nicknamed ourselves "the Cinderella set," as we brought a change to the single gender atmosphere of the school, apart from female teachers. Every individual admitted into Fiditi Grammar School had unique experiences that spanned the duration of their stay and most of the time this was 5 years except those who joined mid-stream or those who fell short in their academic performances, through being sent home to look for school fees and missing important examinations. I will base my discussions on the things that I witnessed or experienced while in Fiditi and I hope it would arouse nostalgic feelings amongst my colleagues as reminiscences like these could be invigorating for the soul. Please bear with me, if I miss out any particular experience during your time in Fiditi.

The school had good teachers and there was camaraderie amongst students. The teachers were many; of varied backgrounds and styles but the bottom line was their commitment to imparting the best education. All disciplines were adequately covered. It never ceases to amaze me how we had so many teachers in the school (an average of 2-3 per subject). The teachers had their styles and idiosyncrasies but they knew their subjects and were endeared to students. Many of them left lasting impressions - mostly positive but, of course, some were negative. The logical question one could ask at this stage was what brought the best teachers to Fiditi at that time and in good number? I termed that phenomenon the "Fiditi magnetism." The possible reasons I came up with were i) the trajectory of progress and juicy appointments of those who worked at Fiditi Grammar School; ii) the charisma and contacts of the Principals; iii) the training scheme put in place for capacity building, and iv) providence

i) Trajectory of progress, connections and public visibility of some past teachers: Some of the early teachers in FGS got juicy appointments. Prominent names included i) Chief A. O. Adeyi, first Principal was appointed a Cabinet Minister in Western Region ii) Chief Alex Olu Ajayi, the 3rd Principal became the Registrar of WAEC, later UNIFE iii) Christopher Okigbo, Vice Principal was a renowned poet

iv) Mr. S. A. Otubanjo - Former Principal appointed Permanent Secretary by Chief Awolowo

v) Mr. SA. Ogunjuyigbe former Senior Tutor and composer of the School Anthem was appointed Ambassador by the Federal Government.

vi) Chief Tade Ipadeola- former Chairman of PDP in Oyo State

We all know the importance of connections in any dispensation and I think it must have helped to ensure that Fiditi Grammar School did not lack teachers. ii Charisma and contacts: The good relationship between Chief Alex Olu Ajayi and Christopher Okigbo led to the latter being invited to teach at Fiditi. Fiditi became the launching pad of his poetic ability and he blossomed. Chief Ajayi also invited, at various times, academic members from the Departments of Classics, Chemistry, Biology of the University College, Ibadan to give lectures to students in Fiditi. Chief Ajayi remarked in his memoirs on Christopher Okigbo that "this constant flow of intellectuals through Fiditi provided a most desirable and profitable interaction..."

III) TRAINING SCHEME FOR MANPOWER DEVELOPMENT:

The school utilized an ingenious method of capacity building and staff retention through the sponsorship of suitably qualified teachers to pursue higher degree programmes, who in turn return to teach in the school, even during their vacations whilst still studying, as a bond of commitment. The names of those sponsored include: Mr. Adedoyin NCE (Physical Education); Mr. (now Chief) Tade Ipadeola (B.A. English, UI); Mr. Olusola Abatan (B.Sc Mathematics Ife); Mr E.A. Fabunmi (B.Sc Mathematics Ife); Mr. A.A. Afolabi (B.A. English Ife); Mr. Olabamiji Oyelakin (B.Sc. Geography UI); and Mr. Y.A. Alao NCE (Chemistry and Biology). In all, about 20 teachers were trained through such a scheme at the last count, and it was most beneficial. It ensured that the students benefited from these teachers even while they were in training and it helped to reduce manpower shortage. The other point was that the scheme was spaced in time and number to ensure continuity. The beneficiaries of such training programmes would never abandon the sponsoring institution in line with a Yoruba adage that "a river that forgets its source will dry up" Chief (Deacon) S. I. Ojelabi deserves immense commendation for making this a "front of the burner" project. Fiditi community again should be praised for this vision and for providing the wherewithal. That ingenious scheme must have been practised by a few institutions with foresight to overcome the problem of manpower. The same method is currently being employed for promoting quality and quantity as well as retention of academic staff in the universities through a Medical Education Partnership Initiative (MEPI) of the United States Government. Thirteen countries are beneficiaries of the grant, including Nigeria. I am an active participant of that research project.

Another fascination was the opportunity to learn and interact with foreign teachers in our formative years. Chief Alex Ajayi did this as mentioned above. During my time in FGS, teachers came in turns between 1965 and 1968 (courtesy the Canadian Universities Services Overseas (CUSO), The Voluntary Services Overseas (VSO of UK and Peace Corps from the US). Amongst the teachers that came on these schemes were: Russell O'Brien from Montreal, Canada, Mr. O'Brien was meek and gentle and was loved by all. He taught Literature to the junior classes and was effective. Mr K. Grunert, Biology teacher came after him from Canada in 1968. His passion for teaching Biology was matched by his love for riding big motor bicycles with which he travelled to Lagos virtually every weekend. His famous warning while teaching was "Upon Pain, Penalty;

Speak only English in this class..." while R.E. Baldwin from the VSO taught Chemistry and he was rather fastidious in style. He always advised students as follows: "Don't be dogmatic to think that you can cram the periodic table" He taught with passion. The teachers were always delighted with successful outcomes in the examinations and even when punishments were meted out to lazy students, they were purely corrective.

Providence:

It was providence that brought many of us including teachers to Fiditi. My peripatetic career started from the age of two weeks, as I learnt from my parents and this love of travelling has not changed. It has generally been a rewarding career path for me and I am unlikely to change or it is too late in the day to do so. I presume my attraction to Oyo started quite early, since my parents are from Awe and my father travelled frequently to our home town usually with me as a passenger in his jalopy. The weary traveller going to Oyo from Ibadan saw nothing of interest apart from a few towns and villages (Moniya, Akinyele, Onidundu, Iroko and Omotunde) after leaving the gates of the prestigious University of Ibadan. Looking mundane and rather inconsequential on this winding road with convoy of slow trailers, some belching thick, acrid smoke, suddenly there is a breath of fresh air as one rounds the corner leading to Fiditi and the sight of the majestic row of yellow painted buildings and a decent-looking football field in the frontage of the school with a dignifying lining of "dogonyaro" trees planted at measured distances from each other. There is immediate recognition of symmetry, beauty, serenity and an inviting learning environment. I was attracted to Fiditi by this sight. The landscape, I have described changed from 1967 when the IITA compound was built and since then a lot more development has happened. The hitherto small settlements have also grown to mini-towns. Buildings only however, do not make for a good school or account for the excellence in performance and productivity. As Amiel said: "Institutions are worth no more than those who work them." I have indicated earlier the efforts made to ensure a continuous stream of teachers who took their jobs seriously. That said, Fiditi Grammar school campus was pretty and very conducive for learning.

Fiditi had the reputation for good food, fruits and palm wine. Fruits in season were plentiful and were quite delicious. Fiditi served as a favourite rest point area for motorists passing through the town and trailer drivers going to and from the north. Famous eating places were the motor park, around Methodist Church and later, Egbejoda market sited close to the school. Looking back at these eating places, the methods of food preservation and the quality of the water, we must have been lucky to escape diseases. I could not recollect anyone that suffered adverse consequences of diarrhoeal diseases. A few travellers might have found the town welcoming and the passion of parents could have been aroused by these natural products. As the name of the town suggests, Fiditi literally means resting place. The people are friendly, hospitable, tolerant and generous. I will digress a little to relate nutrition to intelligence or brain function, albeit briefly: Nutrition in early life may have effects on intellect and long term development. Studies carried out amongst Black South African children and in Barbados as well as Portugal 2-3 decades ago, suggested that the deleterious effects of nutritional deficiencies may have permanent effect on the brain. However, a more recent study by my colleague, Prof. Segun Akinyinka, current Provost of the College of Medicine, University of Ibadan, one of the foremost Paediatric Gastroenterologists in Africa, showed reversal with protein feeding. So, the jury is still out on the final effects. Only last week, it was reported that feeding on fish increased brain size. I will thus recommend adequate caloric intake of school children with plenty of fish for adequate brain growth and maximal benefit from educational activities. Let us now reminisce on a few instances to liven up the discourse:

Papa Fagbeyiro, elderly and rather portly at that time, taught Literature and Latin to Form 3 students. He was a great teacher with lots of experience. Out of sheer overzealousness, my class captain at that time in Form 3A - Demola Aiyegoro (now of blessed memory) and I went in search of Papa Fagbeyiro in the staff quarters to remind him about the class. Unknown to us, he had arrived in class and was quite upset that we went looking for him. He felt our act was an affront, unjustified and deserved punishment. He remarked: "You have turned me into a needle and went searching for me." The prescribed punishment was caning in front of the class. We knew there and then that we should never look for our teachers, because they were conscientious with their jobs and would not tolerate indiscipline. The punishment delivered, there was no repercussion and we both passed the subject. The moral lesson was that teachers took their jobs seriously and did not need the prompting of students for them to do their jobs. Discipline was also well maintained.

The second event also involved Papa Fagbeyiro's reaction to one of the teachers who was young at heart and easy going. The said teacher had just completed his Higher School Certificate course at Government College, Ibadan and he won the prestigious Kennedy Essay Competition. He taught Chemistry and was quite knowledgeable. His pair of trousers was always put at waist level as one would observe young lads do these days. He ended up reading Medicine at the University of Ibadan. He unfortunately referred to Papa Fagbeyiro as, "guy" while trying to get his attention. This slip, as I would call it, would appear harmless to young folks but Papa did not like it. He retorted Ladi emi ni wo npe ni guy, mo ti ko, mo ti bi iru re seyin..." meaning "Ladi, you referred to me as "guy" when I am as old as your father" The moral lesson was that one must be mindful of the way one addresses older persons in line with our culture. Respect should be based on age, status/position and achievements. Of course, respect begets respect. There was Mr. Nwakpa who later became Mr. Peter, the oldest teacher in the school. To me, and I might have been wrong, he was the school watch dog and always looked out troublesome students by hanging around in unusual places and in unusual times. Any erring student was reported to the authorities by the next day for necessary punishment.

Mr. Odesola, now of blessed memory, had a unique style of ensuring students' attentiveness in his class. He would purposely stop from reading the last word of a sentence and expected the students to complete it for him, thereafter, he would teach on the message from that chapter or paragraph. He was very successful in doing this and his students always passed in high grades. His central hair parting would not be forgotten and his smile. Such was the blend in those days that students knew their limits and teachers took their jobs seriously and did not require prompting, a mistake I made in 1968 and would never forget. What about the exploits of students invading farms and harvesting some of their fruits without consent and without any repercussions.

Many of those who indulged in this practice of "jungle exploration with benefits of their exploits" would have been maimed or met untimely death if Fidi farmers were vindictive, at least those whose farms were near the school. Students would do anything to have access to fruits for free. For instance, a few of the students I knew, had farmers as friends for easy access to farm produce. One in particular was a popular wine tapper, a thickset man with characteristic nasal speech. The guttural sound could be heard far off and students used this to know his location on the farm while they laid in wait for their invasion. One of our seniors (name withheld) felt concerned about these visits and showed his angst thus: "Don't go into my father's farm because it is from there my father gets money to pay my school fees" The announcement did not deter would-be adventurers from visiting the farm at periodic intervals. Such spoils of "war" were usually enjoyed during the evening preparatory classes. In 1970, my class was asked to do a road walk/run a marathon race to Iroko, one faithful afternoon, led by our class teacher, Mr. Abatan. By the time we reached Omotunde, we were thirsty and lo and behold we saw some orange trees close to the road.

Instinctively, we invaded the farm and plucked oranges. Unfortunately, the farmers were still around and we met their wrath. Our teacher was held as hostage since he stayed while the students ran away. We had to beg and we returned most of the loot before we could secure his release. We learnt our lessons that not all communities are as forgiving and/or generous as Fiditi farmers. Some of us did not complete the race to Iroko and just returned to school chanting songs. These activities included what made FGS tick at that time. It was indeed a golden time

Balanced Teaching programme:

The school encouraged students to go on excursions to interesting or historic places within the country. In 1966, when Kainji Dam was opened, an excursion was arranged by Mr. Agbejimi, the Geography teacher. I was amongst those (16 of us) who went. It was a great trip, and we actually saw the dam in operation and were conducted round the construction sites and the residential areas. We also visited the place where the turbines were housed. It was an eye-opening experience. The following year, another trip took students to Yakin Hill in the Iseyin area and we climbed the hill. We experienced at first hand, the effect of high altitude on breathing and saw a lake at the top of the hill which was quite fascinating. Such trips opened up minds and made learning easy. It provided an opportunity for students to interact closely with their seniors and teachers and to learn at first hand the wonders of nature. Many other trips were organized to the museum at Ibadan and Idanre hills while I was in Fiditi. For those of us engaged in clinical sciences, and I presume this applies to all areas of learning. There is an aphorism that "to hear is to forget, to read is to know while to see is to remember." By seeing these geographic/historic sites, we learnt and we were inspired. Those with creative minds could have come up with some innovations. These activities resulted in good performance of students in examinations and the State government took notice of our school. In 1969, University of Ife (now Obafemi Awolowo University) began the process of moving campus to Ile-Ife from Ibadan and the Vice Chancellor, Prof. H.O. Oluwasanmi, introduced the US style of inviting would-be students to visit the campus to guide their selection process. This was called "Open Day". Three students were selected to visit Ife and we were accommodated for two days. We visited the Faculties and interacted with some of the lecturers. I recall that at that time, Prof. Makanjuola had just invented the yam pounder and this was the star attraction for those in Technology. My interest was in Medicine and I was eventually admitted into Ile-Ife in 1971 as one of the foundation students. It was indeed the best of times and we had a lot to show for the quality education in FGS.

The Present:

The usual hustle and bustle on Oyo Road with trailers going back and forth and frequently in long queues, has vanished because of the new express road. This shows the importance of good roads on national development and economic activities in our towns and villages. Life in Fiditi has changed and the reduced intensity is obvious. I once drove through the town and felt that Oliver Goldsmith, the author of the piece, "The deserted village," might have been referring to the situation in Fiditi. The women who sold fruits near the school seemed to have abandoned the trade and everywhere looked quiet. Many houses were unoccupied. The beautiful building next to the school where some of us stayed (Shamonda's house) looked desolate. I guessed that most of the old folks had died and the effects of rural to urban migration with relocation of the young folks as well as families to big cities for economic reasons are real and we must accept the facts. Back FGS, presently, there are five hundred and fifty one students registered in the school and they are all day students. Understandably, they are mainly from Fiditi and environs. These students are taught by 22 teachers which include 18 graduates and 4 holders of NCE certificate. The ratio of teachers to students is 25.5 which is quite high and not adequate for proper supervision. The ratio is even worse, if the 2 Principals and 3 Vice Principals that are saddled with administration are excluded. However, the school benefits from the services of a few part-time teachers comprising old students and Youth corpsers.

A catalogue of challenges noted by the Principal is relevant at this stage: "There is insufficient and grossly inadequate teaching staff. The school lacks teachers in Physics, Financial Accounting, Commerce, Economics, Government, English Language, Basic Technology, Civic Education, Physical and Health Education, Business Studies, Computer Studies, Literature in English and Christian Religious Studies". The school has a computer laboratory and computers are available (thanks to the influence of the former School Principal, Mr. Albert K. Afolabi, a former student of the school). Unfortunately, not using these computers for teaching constitutes a waste of resources and short-changing the students. It is a case of gross mismatch of facilities and the necessary manpower. Some of these courses are so important if we want our products to be employers of labour which is essential for prosperity and sense of fulfilment in the current dispensation and as we prepare for the future. Apart from deficiency in the number of teaching staff available, secretarial support is also limited. The school has no Typist and most of the typing job and printing of examination papers have to be done at Oyo.

The other problems well catalogued include: i) students leaving their homes for school but never making it to school either because they hide in the bush or go to work on other peoples' farms as labourers to eke a living; ii) poor quality of the students admitted. It was observed that many of the students scored below 30% in the common entrance examination. Not only are the students poor, but they also lack interest in education and they lack supervision at home because many of them live with their grandparents who are also educationally challenged. It is thus a catch-22 situation - the teachers are few in number and they have the herculean task of training very dull students without the necessary support from the home-front; iii) Books are in short supply. The school library is virtually empty of relevant textbooks. The students are given a list of books to purchase at the end of the semester but they don't usually buy these. I guess, cost may be an issue as well as availability in nearby towns. I gathered that "the only few relevant books available are the ones the Principal managed to buy for the use of teachers from her purse". iv) Truancy on the part of the students and to this can be added, v) insufficient guards to effectively police the school compound and the properties.

The place of boarding houses in moulding lives and efficient time management cannot be overemphasized. Children from different backgrounds are brought together, train together and learn from each other. They bond together and develop lasting friendship, they visit each other during the holidays and parents develop interest in such friendship (as the case of Bello and Ogunniyi). The students also have the opportunity to read together and discuss lectures ahead of classes when they stay in close proximity. The students also learn independent existence free from parental control which I consider essential for personal identity. We can agonize about the abolition of boarding houses but I think the jury is already out and the case is closed. The power situation in the country is another matter of concern. In the absence of electricity at night, serious reading is hampered and homework assignments will not be carried out. One does not need to be a soothsayer to know the resultant effect of all these challenges at the present moment.

The gloomy picture I have painted summarizes the situation with education in Fiditi at the moment. I presume that this is same for many of the community schools and would be a basis for the proliferation of private secondary schools and even universities, which are usually patronized by rich individuals. Kolawole carried out a study on the state of reading in secondary schools in Oyo State and the findings were quite revealing:" reading is not given adequate attention in the schools the way it ought to, all the subject teachers do not handle the teaching of reading while the reading activities in the school are left to the discretion of students. Among the teachers who give attention to reading, we found a majority of them who failed to give students the necessary motivation to strengthen their interest in reading. It was also found out that most school heads contributed to the poor reading culture of the students by their attitude to issues that bother on reading and how it can be promoted in their schools. This is because most of the schools have no functional libraries and other facilities that can promote effective reading..."

We read the disturbing news of a teacher in a near-by state that could not write her name and could not read. How did such a person get employed in the first instance? The verdict at this stage is that quality education cannot be provided at most schools at this time, unless drastic measures are taken. We now return and take a general look on education in Nigeria. According to the United States of America statistics on secondary education, 80% of students failed the SSCE because they had no credit pass in English, Mathematics, and three other subjects in 2010. The identified challenges with our education at present include: staff shortages particularly in the critical areas of science and technology and deteriorating quality and insufficient investment to keep pace with the country's burgeoning school-age population. An estimated ten million out of the 30 million school-aged children are not enrolled in school in Nigeria. Among the major causes of school drop-out at primary school level are: financial handicap (36%), insufficient interest (26%), "child labour" in the form of early job seeking (16%), academic handicap (9%), and distance from school, personal decision and poor school quality. With regards to FGS which is our focus something needs to be done and urgently too, to redeem the image of the school and ensure that as we proceed into the 7th decade of her existence because, "To be thus is nothing but to be safely thus..." according to Shakespeare in Macbeth..

A Peep Into The Future:

I will continue on a philosophical note by quoting Confucius, the Chinese philosopher (6th Century BC) who advised, "If you want to invest for one year, grow rice; If you want to invest for ten years, grow trees; If you want to invest for 100 years, grow people". Our goal of quality education is to grow people who will take their rightful place in society and move the nation forward. We must all accept the fact that education is the key to the future and technological innovations will continue to be the catalyst for change. Imagine what life was like before the GSM phones were introduced. How many lives must have been lost through accidents on our roads and the unquantifiable useful time lost, for needless travels that could have been avoided just by making a call. That is the challenge for the future. The ten-letter word, "INNOVATION" summarizes the hope for the future, and we need to pursue this or develop this attitude with a passion. Our educational programmes must be geared to this end. The recent allocation of 30% of the Oyo State revenue to education in the 2014 budget is heartwarming and a sign that the future will be bright for education. The Governor, Senator Ajimobi remarked: "We decided to give 30 per cent allocation to education because for us, education is what drives the world; it is what make the difference from one generation to the other..." In addition, teachers' motivation was another high point of the government's commitment to educational excellence.

However, we cannot wait for government to do all things. Oyo State has almost a thousand public secondary schools and the money has to be well appropriated. We need to help ourselves. This is where FIGSOSA has a very strong role to play, to assist the Principal of the School and all those who are in the corridors of power so that our efforts will not be in vain. I know for certain that the following problems can work against quality education in future: demotivated and insufficient teachers, poor infrastructure, indiscipline, truancy amongst students, and disrespect for teachers, parents and older folks in general. These attitudes on the part of students can result in breakdown of law and order. Such students are likely to spend time on non-profitable ventures and only lead to punishment, missing of schools and at the tertiary education level, cultism. The craze to keep up with the Joneses is another problem of young folks, especially copycats and those without contentment.

The consequence is stealing and placing of unusual financial demands on parents. This attitude is likely to cause strain and rebelliousness. These should be abhorred for the sake of progress. Another point of concern is the sanctity of the examination process which must be preserved. Laziness and criminality will result in examination malpractices. Cancellation of results due to examination malpractices can cause anxiety for parents and innocent students, in addition to damaging the reputation of the school with serious embarrassment to teachers. Our youths must cultivate the right attitude to their studies and to work in general to avoid immorality, addiction to drugs and alcohol, while teachers must avoid sexual gratifications for their lawful duties. Comportment and contentment are both important and we must continue to emphasize both to the young generation. Appearance, including the style of dressing and what ornaments to put on, determine the type of respect and what level of seriousness should be attached to any demand. Fortunately, the school has prescribed rules on these and must be adhered to. No go areas are skin tattooing and wearing of earrings by male students. Trending amongst high school students in the developed countries are some of these practices and we should only do the right thing, quite apart from the health implications. Our youths must learn to copy what is right from the western world. A lot of information is freely available on the internet.

However, monitoring and discerning what is appropriate at all times require some element of maturity. Accessing relevant information for educational purposes especially for increasing depth of knowledge and for sourcing more information for completing assignments must be encouraged. The school therefore needs to have computer gurus to guide the students and ensure that our students are not too far behind in terms of technology. Proper harnessing of information is mandatory and there is no compromise about this for comprehensive and high quality education desired for the coming generation of innovators. For the future, we need to ensure that we promote entrepreneurial training, because jobs will continue to be scarce as we deploy technology in many programmes.

It is a fact that less and less people will get jobs as we continue to use technology in our daily lives. An example will suffice: Most people now buy their tickets on-line and one can even check into flights without getting to airports. Most airline travel agents have had to close shop or do something else. We can find similar examples in virtually all situations where technology use is in vogue. Therefore it is imperative that for the future, we must change from being users only to producer. That is the key for the future. Developing countries must make deliberate efforts to determine their priorities and channel their energies and creativity towards using research to solve and anticipate problems. Africa is pejoratively described, as the "Dark Continent," where the animals are beautiful but the inhabitants are an embarrassment, technologically and economically mere surplus people.

Closing, a few questions agitate one's mind as we project for the future. The first is quite fundamental: Will the golden years come back? A necessary follow up will be: What can we do to reposition FGS to reclaim her past glory? I do not have the answers. Some people may also ask the question: Why must we project beyond 60 - who cares? The short answer to the last question, is that we certainly care and that is why FIGSOSA has put in so much to motivate the present students and continue to feel committed to happenings in the school. We must not rest on our oars but continue to look for ways to motivate the students and support the teaching staff. Awarding more academic prizes for proficiency will be a way to start, but certain standards must be maintained to avoid celebrating mediocrity. Of particular interest to me, FIGSOSA can consider launching endowment fund to raise substantial amounts in support of the academic programmes.

However, it may be difficult to bring the boarding house system with its perceived advantages back. Once beaten, twice shy and we have already had our fingers burnt by failing at the second attempt. Unless substantial funds are provided to rebuild facilities in the school and match fee-paying schools like Olashore International School or Adesoye College, it may be just wishful thinking. If we even provide such facilities, will the parents be willing to pay for such a school in Fiditi? At that point, an entirely new school will no longer be called Fiditi Grammar School and it will not be our concern. So, it is best to shelve the idea altogether. My wish is that Fiditi Grammar School will continue to produce sound scholars that will be materials for higher institutions. Therein lies our challenge and there is no going back. We must succeed with a high level of commitment and dedication. Our school teachers must promote the social virtues of honesty, integrity, discipline, hard work. We, as members of FIGSOSA must continue to work hand-in-hand with the school authorities to provide the needed support within our capabilities. I started with growing trees and I will end this section by quoting an African proverb by Dambisa Moyo that: "The best time to plant a tree is twenty years ago.

The second-best time is now". I think we have figuratively started in earnest planting our tree of people that will take us into our centenary celebrations also in the words of Confucius. The teachers must continue tree planting by moulding lives through quality education while the society does the harvesting. FIGSOSA members must continue to water the tree as it grows and flourishes, while providing shades for people to sit under. An appropriate quote to end this peeping into the future is the poem by Dr Seuss:

*"You have brain in your head
You have feet in your shoes
You can steer yourself
Any directions you choose
You are on your own
You will decide where you go"*

CLOSING REMARKS:

I set out to motivate our young students and to provide them with some aspects of the history of the school, particularly notable events that bore on quality education in Fiditi in years gone by. I have also attempted to relate all these to the current situations with some crystal-ball gazing for the future. I think the assignment has been well executed.. An old gentleman celebrating his 60th wedding anniversary was asked the secret of his successful marriage. He replied: "Increasing deafness and prolonged stay away from home". He thus, could not hear the persistent nagging of his wife and he was freed from undisguised hostility. We cannot abandon Fiditi since memory failure is common after the age of 60 years. One sentence in our School Anthem states, "---We'll remember thee wherever we go..." It is a pledge that we redeem anytime we sing the anthem.

We therefore cannot forget the school. We must continue to seek relevance and pursue excellence, so that our products will remain forever active in a competitive world and be able to think outside the box. This is evidence of scholarship and corporate responsiveness. Blest be the tie that binds us together as we celebrate this landmark 60 years of the existence of Fiditi Grammar School and as we continue to mold lives of the future generation. ADSPICE VIRTUTEM.

"AN INDISPENSABLE PROTOCOL"

As I often quote that "One who writes a History Book Challenges Criticisms," I am but conscious of my limitations and I do not, of course, -vouchsafe the absolute perfection in the traditional history of the Fiditi Grammar School.

There are very many people, especially the Fiditians, who desire to know the true and correct history of the Fiditi Grammar School, from its earliest inception. On the other hand, there are some people who only rely on hearsay or reported skeletal extracts. There are some other people too, who have no time to find out the real facts, or who do not even know the right people to contact for their research.

Yet, there are still some intelligent, sincere, inquisitive and patriotic elements who honestly approach me to give them, out of my experience and early recollections about the founding or establishment of this our famous and God given Fiditi Grammar School.

This social and thought-provoking demand from me shocks and baffles me so much that I become overwhelmed by a rushing current of thought of either to accept, ignore or decline it. Being one of the Patriotic Pioneers, I have to take the courage to strike the iron while it is hot.

As a challenge to our young ones or historians, I have to relate the history of the Fiditi Grammar School. This great denial or deprivation of higher learning caused us all to hold a special meeting in the Fiditi Methodist School room in April, 1946, to deliberate on the possibility of having a High School of our own in the town. An article on the proposal for a High School for our children, was written and published in the NIGERIAN DEFENDER PAPER early June, 1946.

During the subsequent meetings of the people, at the Methodist School room, the late Paul Akunyun Tella was appointed the Chairman, and I. J. L. Lawale, the secretary/ Treasurer of the so-called Higher Education Campaign. The committee members included Messrs: John Akande Aiyegoro, Isaiah Ogunwale, Nat Ojo Opaleye, J. A. Adekambi, S. L. Atanda, Late J. O. Adewoyin, E. A. Adewuyi, E. L. Adesina, M. A Agunbiade, George Ayantegbe, P. I. Olagbami from Ijebu-Ode, and some others.

The resolutions passed by the committee members were:

1. To raise a fund to the tune of £4000 (N8,000.00)
2. To acquire a large piece of land at the Upper Aro Stream, for the proposed High School for Fiditi.
3. To demand contributions and donations from both men and women of the town.
4. To open and operate a savings account in the Barclays Bank, Ibadan.
5. To publicise or communicate the idea of the project to our other people abroad.

The reigning Bale at this crucial period was Bale Ogunrombi - Eniti o fi oju ekuro wo

Orunmila Ifa yio pa a. He was ever on our side till the end. Series of meetings and contributions continued. The first instalment contributions made by both men and women at home on 20th June, 1946 amounted to £48 5s.0d or (N96.50k). While the contributions were in progress, the committee members started negotiating with the land owners of the Upper Aro Stream on the Fiditi-Ibadan Trunk A Motor Road, for the proposed Grammar School. After useful and peaceful discussions between the Landlords and the Committee members, the owners agreed, in principle, to spare or surrender the plot for the proposed school. The landlords finally agreed to accept any compensation that the town might give them, since the project was for the common good of the whole town's people. The committee then decided to offer the land owners, as a token of gratitude and appreciation, the sum of N100.00 and a carton of Dry Gin and some kola nuts. This negotiation was almost finally completed by the end of 1950. The land was then surveyed and the plan drawn, showing various demarcations. But no compensation had yet been paid since then till date.

Fortunately, our people in Lagos, in particular, stepped in and did meritoriously by safe-guarding the project. They twice remitted the largest sums of money towards the materialisation of the project. They also contributed full moral support in all ways possible. Our people in Ibadan, Osun area, Abeokuta, Ijebu-Ode, Ghana, Oyo, Oke Ogun, Northern Region and elsewhere contributed generously to the bright success of this Fiditi Grammar School.

The total contributions of all our people at home and abroad up to September, 1953 amounted to £2,916.19s 5d or (N5,833.95k). This figure was the initial amount by which the ball was set rolling. Construction of the school blocks was started early 1953 and the school was formally founded in January 1954.

This Fiditi Grammar School had been set up along the Western side of the Trunk A Motor Road running from Ibadan to Oyo. It is about 11/2 (One and a half) miles away from the centre of Fiditi town. It is located on a lofty Upper part of the Aro Stream, Fiditi South. It is about 24 miles away from Ibadan and 10 miles from Oyo. It is very spacious, attractive and lovely indeed. It has many feeder-schools from the neighbouring and far away towns in the country. It is indeed, the most coveted glory and heritage of the Fiditi town.

Before obtaining Government approval for the formal official opening of the school in January 1954, the school promoters were demanded to engage a qualified graduate teacher to man the school. When the town's people could not get anybody available at the material time to head the school, they then contacted the Fiditi 1st Baptist Church to spare or transfer, Chief A. O. Adeyi, M.A., to become the principal of the Grammar School. He, through thick and thin conditions, was able to raise the standard and morale of the school from 1954-1956, to its golden age.

The school was well started. It really enjoyed the keen interest and support of the people at home and abroad. In the early years, the people cheerfully paid N1.00 per head, annually, towards expansions and development of the school, at its inception. The Bale Ogunronbi was given the honour of representing the interest of the proprietors. But owing to one problem or the other, the people or community seemed at this point to have lost their interest in the affairs of the school. Though this should not have been so at all.

There are still some dead and living characters, Muslims or Pagans whose contributions should be mentioned or recorded with BOLD LETTERS in the annals of the school. Whether or not due reference is made to them, history and posterity will surely judge. She only expects everyone to discharge his or her duties diligently and faithfully. Wishing us all God's blessing. Amen.

FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL FIDITI

Report and remarks on the first Inspection Visit by H. J. Savory, Ag. Director of Education, Western Region on 28th June, 1954.

1. Board of Governors:-

The Fiditi Education Committee has not yet appointed a properly constituted Board of Governors, and this must be done as soon as possible. A typical Constitution for a Secondary School and a Board of Governors is attached for advice. Your board should have representation of the Local Education Authority, the Native Administration, the Church, as well as the Proprietors.

2. Site and Buildings:-

The site consists of 30.5 acres of level open savannah country which is pleasant and should present any difficulty. The school building opened in January, has 3 ordinary sized classrooms and one larger room. It will provide adequate accommodation for 2 or 3 years. The next stage will be to build hostel accommodation- at present all 32 boys are boarders who are housed in a rented hostel - 10 of them from Ibadan and only 20 from the Fiditi area.

3. Staff and Teaching:-

The principal, Mr. Adeyi is a Science man and wants to start Science straight away. He has American degree but had one year at the London Institute, under the late F. A. Meccer, of Bedeles. He teaches only 4 Science periods per week and 2 Civics. So, he should have good ideas.

Mr. Kolade is a Higher Elementary teacher from the Government Teachers' Training College, Ibadan and passed his Rural Science Part I. He is teaching English, History, Agriculture and Physical Training - 14 Periods in all.

Agboola passed School Certificate at Baptist Boys' High School, Abeokuta and was way taking his General Certificate of Education (Advanced Level Mathematics, Logic and Geography). He teaches Mathematics, Religious Knowledge, Yoruba, Geography and Singing-15 periods.

Mr. Ojelabi of Fiditi is in training for an Arts degree at Fourah Bay, in English and Religious Knowledge. The time-table might be improved by the Principal taking some English; he could certainly help with reading, literature and spoken English. Mr. Kolade has not much of teaching English and History, and Mrs. R. W. Savory kindly sent him advice on able books.

Science:

I am quite agreeable to Mr. Adeyi taking elementary General Science with his Class 1. He borrowed some apparatus already. If he shows he has the right idea, then a grant to equip a science room year by year can be considered. He should send in an indent for his Classes I and II, General Science and a plan for the Science room. He should also submit a suggested scheme of work for classes I and II and I will come to the School to see him teach.

Finance:

Mr. Adeyi should arrange to visit the Senior Accountant with his account books, submit a budget for 1954 and 1955. A maintenance grant can be accessed and Mr. Adeyi can be instructed as to the correct and most appropriate manner of keeping the school accounts. The boys pay £11-5s per year. Tuition fees, a Development fee of £1 and a Library fee of 6/-

5. General:

On the whole, it would be better to replace one of the academic staff with someone who can teach a Craft or Art. A Principal and one assistant is enough for this year. Mr. Kolade takes Rural Science and Singing, outside of normal classes and a new appointment next year should be able to teach some sort of outside class activity, unless Mr. Agboola can do this. The Principal could leave the timetable with Classes in Local Studies" 66 handiwork, making visual aids (models pictures etc) for illustration class work. He should certainly make sure that the school is not going to suffer from poor English in its early years. Mathematics could be reduced by 1 or 2 periods.

FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL FIDITI

Lives Twice Again

By Chief Alex Olu Ajayi, Principal, 1957-1959

"It is this to live twice again: to remember with advantage one's past life". In this Golden Jubilee of Fiditi grammar school, she can look back on her past vigorous sixty years with great advantage. The school has run a noble race and has won a golden prize. Like a great eagle, she has soared very high and kept her height so long. The school therefore lives twice again.

The old students make me proud. Forever, they are nobly attached and committed to their alma mater. They sing her praises, they triumph in her name, they themselves in their endeavours and pursuits, have placed their hearts on the height "Mentes in Ascensionem deposuit". With the well-structured and virile FIGSOSA, under a dedicated leadership, this has been the bedrock of great achievements for the school. I can look back with great advantage, to my most exciting and challenging years at Fiditi, where I was opportuned to have my first command early in life. On leaving the school, I was invited and did serve on the Board of Governors, an especial honour and privilege I will cherish ever.

I commend the sophisticated people of Fiditi who embraced education with great fervour. I commend the unquenchable spirit of the founding father, especially the Fiditi Community in Lagos and the Diaspora, the Baptist Church; I commend the indestructible courage and abundant generosity of Papa Obalana, and the astute men of his generation, including the first Chairman, Mr. A. Akintola. I commend the great vision of my mentor and founding Principal, Hon. Chief Adebisi Adebisi whom I had met on the boat on his voyage home in 1952, and he single-handedly brought me to Fiditi in 1957.

The pioneering boys were such a tremendous inspiration to me, with their unquenchable spirit of adventure, their resoluteness to weather through the strains of the early beginnings; their appreciation and their ability to adapt easily to the rapid innovation through which they had to pass. They applied themselves with resounding success to every facet of their academic, social and spiritual life. SALVETE PUERI.

That had been my determination to make Fiditi Grammar School the "ETON COLLEGE OF THE WEST". I convinced myself that, with the school's setting being at the same stance of about twenty miles from the regional headquarters at Ibadan, just as Eton is from the capital city of London, Fiditi has the added advantage of being barely fifteen miles from the University of Ibadan, and on the same side of the same highway, I was determined make it a model of which the Regional Government was proud to show off to visitors from overseas. It was to be a model in all spheres, in the universal coverage of academic disciplines, in the variety of sports for the boy's physical fitness. And so it remained with all science subjects presented separately; Physics, Chemistry, Biology; with four languages: Latin, Greek, English, Yoruba, plus the general subjects of History, Geography, Religious Knowledge, all in the first year of students taking WASCE in the school in December 1959. French Language was introduced that same year to students in Form 1.

The sophisticated game of cricket was introduced, and the school triumphed over all other schools, and, indeed the University College in football, with the immortal Teslim Balogun as coach. The staffs were indefatigable in their efforts, and sacrificed the last ounce of their energy to equip the students for a vigorous academic life. The staffs were reinforced from the academic staff of the University of Ibadan who enriched the life of the students.

Telescoping the future, I can assert that Fiditi Grammar School lives on, gloriously and twice again into the second half of her century, fulfilled to face higher challenges, to continue to meet the aspirations of the founders, and those of us who were privileged to participate in a little measure in the efforts, and remain in the vanguard of scholastic attainments.

May these thoughts be our guide, as we confidently take our first step into greater tomorrow.

60 years of Secondary Education in Fiditi - Salute to FIGSOSA

THE Fiditi Grammar School was founded January 1954 - i.e. 60 years ago. By its founding, Fiditi coast has been enlarged. It has contributed to the economic, "social, religious and physical life of Fiditi. Thirteen (13) years after the founding of this premier institution, the Fiditi Grammar School Old Students' Association (FIGSOSA) was inaugurated in Dec. 1966. By 2016 FIGSOSA too will celebrate its own golden jubilee anniversary. Immediately the Association was launched, it swung into action. Members donated trophies to the school for sports and academic competitions, they were invited to chair-man and launch many activities in the school and even in the town. I.FIGSOSA spear-headed many land-marks in the school history - e.g (a) the Silver Jubilee (25yrs) celebration of the school (Feb.1979) (b) Launching of N5million Development Appeal Fund - 7th Dec.1991 (c) Ruby (40yrs) celebration (29th-30 Jan. 1994) (d) Rehabilitation Fund For Resuscitation of boarding school at Fiditi Grammar School (June 11, 1994) a joint programme of the PTA, Clubs. Societies and the Fiditi Community. (e) Golden Jubilee Anniversary (50yrs) - (Jan.2004) (f) Diamond Jubilee Anniversary (60yrs) - Feb. 2014) Old Students have come back to teach in the school.

We remember Prince A.O. Omojowolo, Mr Olabanji Oyelakin, Alhaji Lekan Salami, Mr Atilola Ojelabi, Mr Layode Adisa, Mr J.B. Olopade, Mr S.I Ohwerei, Dorcas Ojelabi (Mrs Ojedokun), Dupe Atanda (Mrs Odebiyi), Mr A.K. Afolabi III(a) Individuals and groups have donated money & materials; sponsored projects. Class set meetings are sponsored by committed members otherwise these meetings would have died natural deaths. People like Alhaji L. F. Busari, Senator Bode Olajurnoke, Dr Tunde Oloko, Professor J.A. Oluokun have spear-headed monthly meetings and annual get-togethers. (b) FIGSOSA and individuals have sponsored evening classes for WASCE students in the school; they have paid PTA teachers; they have found appointments for their members or members' children. People like Alhaj Sheu Fadairo, Olawuwo Esuola Senator Bode Olajumoke & Runsewe come readily to mind. IV. And at the Golden Jubilee anniversary the following projects were executed. (a) Renovation of the school's Golden Jubilee gate and the perimeter fence. (b) Sinking of a bore-hole and deep wells as back up with reticulation materials. (c) Providing a new school Library, equipped with computers, photocopiers and modern equipment for information management (d) Renovation/refurbishing for dilapidated classrooms.

NOW A CHALLENGE

As an-old student, what part have you played in FIGSOSA activities listed in items I-III above? How many have you offered appointments? Have you offered yourself to come back to the school to teach for a term or session? Do you attend FIGSOSA meetings in your fferent corners? Do you care a hoot about what happens to your alma mata? Are you even proud of your alma mata? How do you project its image? Have you visited the school since you passed out 50, 40, 30 & 20 yrs ago? And what can we say about Fiditi boys & girls who have benefitted from this school and have refused to pay their debt or gratitude? They bite the fingers that fed them. Most of the FIGSOSA members who do Fiditi & Fiditi Grammar School proud are non-indigenes. Have we Fiditians taken things for granted? We need to check-up and shake-up.

THEN LEST WE FORGET Our Principals/Teachers-Past & Present The contributions of our Teachers and principals (Leaders That Build Leaders) past and present should not be forgotten. In the history of the school, 20 principals & acting principals have served. You will find a list of then on another page of this brochure. The following have passed to the great beyond. 1.Chief A.O. Adeyi 2.Mr E.A. Adeyemo 3.Chief S.A. Otunbanjo 4.Chief S.J.O Odubiyi 5.Mr 1.O.V. Agboola 6.Chief S.T. Adelegan 7.Chief J.I. Popoola 8.MrA.A. Afolabi 9.Deacon J. B.

Olopade Even though gone, their labours should not be forgotten. The school that keeps their records should not forget their services. Their families should always be invited to school activities.

And Finally: Let me recall my favourite sayings to you during assemblies & devotions. (a) Proverbs 22:29: "Do you see a man who excels in his work? He will stand before Kings; He will not stand before unknown men" (The Scofield Study Bible) (b) This is in Yoruba: "tete jaye ki o ma baa jaye pe. Ma tete jaye ki o le ba jaye pe" Most of those who have passed through my tutelage in this school and other higher institutions where I have worked have written and/or called to say. they have even benefitted by these sayings." Hope you too will commend the statements to those who may have ears to listen. The Future: For the past 20 years, I have been making a passionate appeal to all old students of Fiditi Grammar School. My dream is that "Fiditi Grammar School will one day be up-graded to a higher institution of learning - either as a college of Education or a college of one of our universities - State or Federal". See my write-ups on page 19 of the 40th Anniversary Celebration (1994) and on page 48 of the 50th Anniversary Celebration (2004).

My vision is based on the fact that Fiditi Grammar School and Fiditi Community have produced people who are in positions in Nigeria and different parts of the world who could influence the siting of a university or Polytechnic in Fiditi. Fiditi Grammar School has produced people who single-handedly bring a University or Polytechnic to Fiditi. I have received assurances from well-meaning Fiditians & FIGSOSA members that by the grace of God my dreams will come to pass in my life time. I pray it will be so in Jesus Name. And so, in the words of the Lord to the Israelites through Moses in Exodus 14:15b: "Tell the children of Israel to go forward" and let your song be "Onward Christian Soldiers, marching as to war" and keeping in mind the motto of your school- "Adspice Virtutem", I say "E maa tesiwaju" FIGSOSA.

OKIGBO, FIDITI AND I

By Chief Alex Olu Ajayi

FGS Principal 1957-1959

FIDITI Grammar School, to which I, as Principal had invited Christopher Okigbo provided the turning point in his life and was the launching pad from which his poetic soul leapt, liberated and unbound into the freedom of the muse's and the prolific productivity of the avant grade he became.

Christopher and I had met and become friends in March, 1995 when I took temporary residence in Mellanby Hall, University College, Ibadan (now University of Ibadan) while I was doing some post-graduate research work on Keats and Tennyson in the African section of the University Library. Our friendship flourished everlastingly and, maybe, that is why I have not yet been able to gather myself together to write on him. Christopher left the Federal Civil Service in 1958 because of the hypocrisy of the colonial system of those times. He had worked as a Marketing Manager in the Nigerian Tobacco Company, in charge of vast areas of the then Western Region before joining the administrative service of the Federal Government. As a staff in the private sector, he had incorporated a company, Kitson and Co. ever before joining the government. On joining the Federal Government, however, the company had not been dissolved, and some finicky colleagues made mountains out of this, and he had to leave the civil service.

This was the most depressed and, I would say, the only depressed period of his life. In the 50's government were the all-powerful employers, the private sector was still very diminished, a reversal of the present day dispensation. I had been invited from Ijebu-Ode Grammar School, at Christmas 1956, to Fiditi Grammar School to be Principal by Chief A. O. Adeyi who had just been appointed Minister of Local Government by Chief Awolowo, Christopher had visited me at Ijebu-Ode on several occasions, and, once with his wife Princess Judith Sefi Attah.

As soon as news reached me of his plight, and knowing the likely opprobrium this will generate in the limited circle of elites in colonial Lagos, I drove to his residence at Igboere (Lagos) and stayed for a week with him, and convinced him to come with me to Fiditi Grammar School at Fiditi, near Oyo. He agreed and I got the Board of Governors of the School to appoint him as my Vice-Principal. I put him in charge of Arts Department and he taught Latin and Greek. The only student presented in Greek in the 1959 WASCE had an 'A' Then indigenes of Fiditi and the staff protested the status I accorded him, but I stood my grounds, and the gentlemen and I let go.

The highest class at Fiditi grammar school when he joined in 1958 was form five, and the first set of students for the WASCE were yet to be presented in December 1959. He, therefore, had two years of a new lease of life.

Using the advantage that the school was a community institution, we provided more than he would have earned in government, and other emoluments as inducement. I put him in charge of sports and football, got him the celebrated Teslim Balogun to coach our school football team.

I had been writing poems since 1955, and I continued more in 1958, and I showed him my own poems at which he expressed great pleasure. We used to read these and other poems together. T. S. Elliot's "Ash Wednesday", was the greatest sources of inspiration and he used to point out magic imageries such as 'the smoke from the chimneys rubbing its muscles on the wall' or such idiomatic phraseology as 'one night cheap sawdust restaurants'. He would then burst into peals of infectious and electric laughter.

Such was his popularity with students and staff and the success of all endeavours on which he put his hand that this succeeded in bringing him from the depths of despair to the brilliant light of creativity. I invited, in turns, academic members of Classics Department of University College, Ibadan to give lectures to boys of Fiditi Grammar School on classical times and literature, including Professor Ferguson, Head of Department, Dr. Classen, Professor Esan, Dr. Thompson, Mr. H.F. Gulte, etc. I made him play host to them all.

His football team included the elder Odegbami, a.k.a 'Key to Soccer', who was mentor to Nigeria's Segun Odegbami. His team beat all schools around, including the 1959 winners of The Thermogene Cup, Ahmadiya College, Agege. This was an all-Nigeria cup competition for full-fledged grammar schools which Fiditi was yet to be. To crown it all, that same team beat the University College, Ibadan first eleven, Twelve (12) goals to nil (0). The UCI team included Professor David Oke (a senator during the second republic in Nigeria), Dr Edozien, formal Economic Adviser to President Shagari, 2nd republic civilian president.

With this versatility, he was able to participate at the highest level in sporting, poems, intellectual and social activities fully at Fiditi, without the pretensions or inhibitions of civil service or marketing distractions or boisterous Lagos.

Christopher Okigbo, after six months stay and returning to an academic career soon found his life to begin again. He and myself would go to join his elder brother, the world renowned economist, Dr Pius Okigbo who had just returned from teaching and research in Oxford. Whenever we came to Ibadan, Dr Okigbo would read passages from modern American poetry till the little hours of the morning, while we drank strong coffee and whisky.

In those years, I invited young academics from University College, Ibadan to teach the boys at Fiditi. Such academics included Professor Alex Boyo who had just obtained a first class degree in Chemistry and was working on his Masters. All the boys who offered Chemistry scored distinction. We had invited Emmanuel Ifeajuna to the staff, but he later joined the army.

This constant flow of intellectuals through Fiditi provided a most desirable and profitable interaction for an intellectual companionship for Christopher. J.P. Clark used to spend nights with us and we would read aloud some attempts at budding "Black Orpheus". It was indeed a great transport of delight to watch Christopher evolve out of the turbulent past into the spiritual refreshment which he received from the auspicious circumstances and sylvan tranquillity of Fiditi. His demand were fully satisfied, and his, supplied in all facets. His academia at Fiditi had its inimitable purpose and provided leverage for his genius.

Little wonder, therefore that at Fiditi, Christopher had burst into numbers and into poetry, little wonder that he began writing the poem "Debtors Lane" at Fiditi. Little wonder that he dedicated his first efforts in poetry to the boys at Fiditi Grammar School, to whom it would have been a permanent injury if I had allowed Obi Nwakamma's left-handed compliment to pass uncorrected, both for time and eternity, and indeed, the immortal soul of Christopher Okigbo

During the Easter holiday of 1959, I requested Okigbo to accompany me on a grand tour of Eastern Nigeria to enable me know my country to meet Chinua Achebe who was then at the Nigerian Broadcasting Service, Enugu, writing his second novel, No Longer at Ease, the draft of which he showed us. I was at the time doing a write-up on the "Beginning of Novel Writing in West Africa" for the University of Durham, with the guidance of Professor M. Mahood, then Head of English Department, University College, Ibadan. This tour was a follow up to a previous visit I had made with Okigbo to George Laming, the West Indian novelist who had just published his novel, "Of Age and Innocence". The meeting had been arranged for me by Professor Boyo of the University College, Ibadan, where Laming was giving a series of lectures. The journey to the East afforded Okigbo the opportunity to meet many of his friends and relations at Onitsha, Ojoto, Ogidi, Orlu, Owerri, Aba and Port Harcourt where we anchored for days. The trip buoyed up his spirit and gave his friends and relations renewed confidence in his future. (Culled from GR.)

THE PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS AT THE FORMAL OPENING AND DEDICATION OF THE £7,000 NEW GIRLS' HOSTEL ON THE 21st OF OCTOBER 1971

Kabiyesi, The Alaafin of Oyo, Chiefs, Honourable Commissioner for Education, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen. We give grateful thanks unto God for making us see this glorious day. On behalf of the entire members of Fiditi Community, the Board of Governors, the staff and students of Fiditi Grammar school, Fiditi, I welcome all our friends and visitors who have come to share the joy of this day with us..

Kabiyesi, this is your second visit to our compound this year. We recall, with great pleasure, your familiarisation visit 2nd February, 1971. You have made yourself so familiar with us that we shall always have great respect for you and always wish to see you, if possible, at all times. I want to report. Sir, that the coconut tree which you planted in front of the Science Block to mark your memorable visit of 2nd February, 1971 is growing fine, and you can rest assured that we shall give it the greatest attention it deserves.

We are also fortunate to have the Western State Commissioner for Education, Mr. Olaniwun Ajayi, with us this morning. We could have opened and dedicated this building since July or August when it was completed, but we were waiting for a Commissioner of Education to perform the ceremony.

We can safely claim to be the first to receive the official favour of the new Commissioner by his appearing in person, at this ceremony since his assumption of office. This, to us, is a good omen.

Fiditi Grammar School was promoted by the entire members of Fiditi Community. It was 66 founded in January 1954, and we are now eighteen years old. Our motto is "Aspire to Virtue- E ma te siwaju." Within these eighteen years, we have made appreciable progress physically, academically, morally and spiritually. Today's ceremony is another pointer to our physical growth. The school started with 32 boys in 1954, and the population now is 440 of 297 boys and 143 girls. We are now treble stream up to Form II. Of these 440 students, 400 (260 boys, 140 girls) are boarders. 150 of our students come from Fiditi; the rest are from other parts of Western, Lagos Mid-West, East Central, Rivers and Kwara States. And even of the 150 who are from Fiditi, only about 30 have their parents resident in Fiditi. Hence, the need to run a boarding house and therefore provide good dormitory accommodation.

We thank the Western State Government for help rendered so far. The school became grant- aided in 1956, and between the time and 1962, we received our due share of £15,000 building grants and £2,000 for Science Block. We are deeply grateful for these.

But the school has been expanding at a very alarming rate since 1962 when we received our last pound the building grants. Four flats of staff quarters were built in 1964; the school became full double-stream in 1966; girls were admitted for the first time too in 1966; and the science block was completed in 1968; treble stream started in 1970, the science block was completed at a cost of £12,000; staff quarters worth £6,000 were built, a block of classrooms worth £3,000 was also built and now the £7,000 girls' dormitory. All these moneys were raised through our own efforts, through bank loans with 12.5% interest; and through our parsimony. These things have not been easy, the Honourable Commissioner for Education. And yet, we still want to expand. Now, we run the arts and the sciences, we want to introduce Commercial, Technical and Agricultural Training. We want to build the principal's quarters, Assembly Hall, Administrative Block, another block of classrooms, separate Library block and more staff quarters. In the light of these facts, and the high cost of building materials, won't the government come to our aid the more and review the £15,000, (now £10,000) building grants for an institution's life time? We need expansion grant. Now, about this new block we are ready to dedicate and open formally. We started making blocks for it in October, 1969, the foundation was laid in February, 1970, the work was completed in July, 1971. We did not give the work to any contractor because we think it will be more costly than we can afford. And since a Principal in a voluntary agency school is used to combining many offices he is a teacher, administrator, estate manager, chief financial officer, spiritual leader, medical officer etc. The work of supervising, the construction was undertaken by the Principal and his staff. At this juncture, I have to thank openly Mr. Niyi Adelakun (the Divisional Engineer, Oyo) and Mr.D.G. Adeleke (one of our contractors in Fiditi) and the members of the Board of Governors who were consulted at every stage of the building, and who gave their expert and technical advice, free of charge. I thank all the bricklayers, carpenters and the labourers who also worked heartily. I have to thank my students too for they provided some lorry-loads of rough sand dug from a part of our compound.

The building cost us roughly £7,000. It could have been more if the engineer and the supervisors should send in their bills.

This building is modern in all ways shower baths and water system toilet. It is imposing, it is grandiose; it has a capacity for 150 students. It is our belief that students should live in clean and hygienic surroundings. The girls who will be living here are the mothers of tomorrow and if there is any future for our country, it depends largely on what our women are.

At this juncture too, I want to appeal to our Ministry of Education to help us appeal to the Water Corporation about, the exorbitant water charges in schools. We want our students to live in decent surroundings and we use water system toilets. In this school, we now pay an average monthly bill of £50, and when our girls move into this new hostel next week our bill may rise to £60 a month. This means we shall be paying about £1,000 on water every year. Schools are placed on metered consumption at the rate of 5/2d per 10000 gallons. Schools are not commercial enterprises, and some of the students' parents pay water rates in their towns where we have pipe-borne water. If a school has to pay about £1,000 on water every year, I wonder what will be left out of the already inadequate boarding fees. This is not peculiar to Fiditi Grammar School alone, and the Ministry of Education should please look to this and help us.

The Board of Governors of the School, at its meeting of Saturday, 31st July, 1971, decided that it is fitting and honourable to Christian this block, and it has thought of no other name more fitting, at this time, than that of the current Chairman of the Board Mr. Joseph Onatokun OPAKUNLE who is one of those who have contributed so much to the founding and continued progress of this school.

Mr. J. O. Opakunle hails from Ajele compound in Fiditi. He had his primary education at the famous Baptist School, Fiditi, in the thirties. From 1939-1942, he was a student at Baptist College, Ogbomoso/Iwo. He has a wide teaching experience. He taught at Baptist Day School, Iwo, Ade-Oshodi Baptist School, Lagos; Headmaster of Ishokun Baptist School, Oyo; Headmaster of Baptist School, Iree; Headmaster of Alafia Oluwa Baptist School, Fiditi, (1949-1951); Headmaster of Agbor Baptist Girls' Secondary School, Agbor, Mid-West (1952-1955).

For two years (1956 & 1957), he was at the Baptist Theological Seminary, Ogbomoso, preparatory to a degree course in Christian Journalism. In 1958, he taught at the Baptist Boys' High School, Oyo, (now Olivet Heights), and by September, 1958, he proceeded to the United States of America where he read B.Sc (Journalism) and Msc.

(Political Science). He returned to the country in 1962 and has been working in the Baptist Building, Ibadan where he is now the Editor, 'Nigerian Baptist', the Publication Secretary and The Acting Manager of the Baptist Press, Ibadan.

Mr. Opakunle has been a member of the Board of Governors of this school since January, 1964. He was elected Chairman of the board of governors in November, 1963. Mr. Opakunle is noted for his progressiveness, forthrightness, scholarship and Christian leadership. His period as Chairman of the Board has witnessed so many giant achievements, and one way of immortalising his name for his contribution to the cause of education in this institution is to name this new block in his honour. And from hence-forth, this building shall be called OPAKUNLE BLOCK.

Kabiyesi, Commissioner for Education, distinguished guest, ladies and gentlemen, I would want to end this speech by thanking you all for your patience and cooperation. I should like to assure you how much we value your support, encouragement and good wishes. In turn, we are promising that, God helping us, we shall not disappoint you. I feel proud to say that our teachers and students are doing their best to make this citadel of learning worthy of its ideals and aspirations. To parody the words of one of the Christian hymns, I say:

We are pressing on the up-ward way; New heights we are gaining every day; Still praying as we on-ward bound, Lord, plant our feet on higher ground.

FIDITI THE HOME OF FRUITS

BY OJO TEMILOLUWA SENIOR PREFECT GIRL (2013/2014)

THE above appellation is attributable to my country home Fiditi because of its advantageous location on the main road linking the southern and Northern parts of Nigeria. Fiditi, a famous town known for citrus in Afijio Local Government of Oyo State in the South west Nigeria was believed to have its earlier settlers around 1843. Good soil, flat terrain and favourable climate enabled the people settling there to engage in agriculture and hunting.

Predominantly, yam tubers, cocoa, coffee and citrus are planted for immediate consumption and marketing especially cocoa and coffee. Polygamous way of life by our forefathers provided more hands on the farm to enhance extensive cultivation. Like I mentioned earlier, the construction of the major road link between the Northern and Southern part of Nigeria brought Fiditi to limelight.

Fiditi women who were not only helping their husbands on the farm became so virtuous that they helped in marketing their husbands' farm produce particularly fruits such as oranges, pine-apples, coconuts, pawpaws e.t.c along the major road which was busy with traffic moving to and from the Northern and Southern axis. Most vehicles plying the road stop at Fiditi with commuters alighting to buy varieties of fruits which were attractively displayed on the counter with great enthusiasm. Business was booming; our mothers were making huge profits and they were learning other languages, Hausa in particular, since many of their customers are from the Northern states. The glory of Fiditi around this time began to shine because most enlightened citizens and foreigners who plied the major road must stop over at Fiditi by then to buy fruits which are refreshing for consumption as they travelled a harrowing long distance from home and took them home as souvenirs.

Our father on realising this trade boom, were also encouraged to cultivate more orchards and the money realised was spent judiciously on their children's education and building of houses. It was not astonishing then, that most of our mothers who were fruits merchant built houses and trained children up to the university level. Along side with fruits, Fiditi is notable for pounded yam and bush meat. Palm wine is also there to wash it down. While in Kaduna, one old man asked me which part of Nigeria came from? I replied, 'Fiditi'.

He said, 'Oh, the home of fruits' and I was surprised at how he quickly identified my town as the home of fruits. This is an attestation to the fact that Fiditi is the home of fruits. is therefore necessary to state here that Fiditi the home of fruits is an appellation given by outsiders and not the indigenes. This means that we are not arrogating the attribute of Sving fruits to ourselves rather people know us for it and this is a genuine fame. Tam proud to be a native of Fiditi, a renowned town in Afijio Local Government of Oyo State in South-West Nigeria.

COLLEGE POLISH

("Toga Virilis" or Badge of Boyhood or Spinsterhood)
- A REFLECTION OF EARLY YEARS 1954-1958
@ FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL TO MARK HER DIAMOND (60TH)
JUBILEE-JANUARY 2014

BY BIODUN OPALEYE (1956-1961 SET)

THE late Professor H. A. Oluwasanmi, and also Professor Ajose in their early years as Vice- Chancellors of the University of Ife (now named Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife) about 1961 were reported to have often drummed it into their students' ears "Don't just pass through the University, let the University pass through you."

That is tradition, which every institution whether academic, religious, social or traditional must put into its adherents for lasting legacy, otherwise known as "COLLEGE POLISH". I also want to say that as there are dangerous traditions, so also are there good and lasting or eternal ones.

On account of the missionary/publishing and journalistic nature of my career from which I officially retired since over a decade ago, but which I still practice at my own pace and convenience, people who don't know where to place me often curiously ask me questions about my background experiences; In replying such people, I could not exclude some unique experiences at FIDIGRAMS - otherwise known as FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL FGS for Boys and later Girls "THE ONLY SCHOOL!.

How could one fail to appreciate the mixed nature of our earliest FORM ONE classes between years 1954-1958 and the catchment areas from where students came to Fiditi. I mean names like: Tokunbo Oyekan, Aromasodu, Ojora, Aileru, Bode Olajumoke, George Obalana, Tunde Agbaosi, Olaifa (Snr.), Sekete, Mensah Boboe, Adio Moses, Peregrino, Daniyan, Egbedina, Alatishe (aka Snr. Cargo), Kofi Fereira, Danny Kay Momoh, et cetera, - all coming from Lagos to receive education. From FIDITI township herself, we had students like: Ayo Kehinde (aka - Horrible), Biodun Fadokun - (aka Young Fad), Julius & Augustine Kayode, Dejo Awodiran (aka - Awo Metye - Porteson Jacques), Oba Timber (Obalana Junior), Jacob & Bayo Oladele, Lanre Oyadiran, Senior Kunle Alaba (aka - Popoola Janway - The oldest student); Olopade, Senior aka 'Bula Matari & Olopade Jnr.; Tunde Ogunmola, Alaba Ipeaiyeda (aka B.Sc. Botany); Duro Ogundiran (aka Sir Krobo Edusei - a Fiditian from Ghana: The Duo of Bode Adekanmbi and Joshua Agunbiade (Humorists); Ayo Adewoyin: Bamiji Okunlola; George Adewole; Layo Adegbite; Bayo Adeniran (aka - Ade Rico); Idowu Laleye (aka Gbogi); Solomon Ohu; Dokun Adeyemi (Holy Mee); Dokun Adeyi, Paul & Ojo Laniya; Job Fategbe, Timothy Oyedele, Deji Opaleye, Bayo Oyewale: Ogunkunle; Raimi Bamigbade (aka Sir De Gaul); Tunji Okunlola, Bola Oyegbemile, Ipade Idowu; Odetola (Hunter-lad), Odedeji, Kunle Opakunle, Yinka Lawale, Ogidi Lawale - etc.

And from IBADAN axis, we had: The Adeduntans (Senior Prefect for six years); The Adewumi Ogefon (Brothers); The Lawals (Esso-Bay of Eleta); The Ogundepos (Three of them); Ropo, Tunde Oloko, Adisa Saanu, Babs Animashaun; Thompson John; Akinlabi (aka - Oreekan); - Agbaje (Ayeye); Mojidi Salami (Idikan); Adewolu Salami (Eleta); Derby Allen (Idikan); Abulanga, Lateef Busari; Razaq Murainah, Lere- Adepoju; Gbade Ishola; Kasaliu

Shittu, Da Costa, Yemi Ladipo (Goal keeper for 5 years); Hassan (footballer), Jeiffous Ladelo (Footballer! Kcggje; Adekunle Kehinde (Onoye-Awol, Bamiji Oyelakin, Abiodun - Bello (aka - Intellectual Fecundity & Casavity); John Abioye (Iroko) et cetera. Olumide Johnson (Ijesa) came all the way from Jos; Prince Lola Omojowolo (Ijebu-Jesa):

Ayodele Arowolo (Gbongan), Akindele and Fajimolu (Ilesa). From Ekiti: Aladejana, Alade, Adega, Gidado, Ayeni, Alabi, Afolayan et cetera.

Across Southern Nigeria came the following: Udobi, Edjerevbe, Emudianughe, Edokpayt, Bayo Ayesa, Igtehon, (Binis); George Offodile (Onitsha), The Okigbos (Ojoto-Onitsha); Okagbue (Onitsha); Onyiekwu (Owerri-Ukwu); et cetera.

And from Oyo North came: Bamimore, Adio Kasaba, Silas Akinfenwa, Awujoola et cetera. From Oyo Alaafin, we had: Lawal (aka - Arolu-cushion); Biodun Sanda; Bello-Gbadegesin; Onipede; Hamed; Aboyade (Akinmoorin); Rashidi (Imeleke), Siyanbola (Iware), Lanrewaju

Omolodun (aka-Yarn-Tuber) (Aawe), Gbola Durojatye (Aawe) et Cetera. Those from Ogbomoso included: Akande (ace footballer); Adeoye (aka - Iwa (Goatee Beard)-Transporter, who ended up marrying a Fiditian) et cetera. Motors From Ijebu, we had: Ayanboye, Osinusi, Adepoju, Bakare, Adeyemi, Ayodele et cetera.

From Egba - Yewa axis we had about three Odegbamis (All footballers), The Dedekes otballers); Odunewu, Odunmbaku, Derin Laditan, Ogundele, Karounwi, Imisiola Sobowale, Kola Animashaun; Kunle Animashaun etc.

One Aro came all the way from Owo. When you talk cosmopolitan, international or versal, FIDIGRAMS had her humble but erudite share at foundation. We once had Mr. Garland (Briton) as Science Master and Miss. Mary Schaffer (Briton) as Arts Teacher. Rev. Earl M. Fine, Science Master at Olivet Baptist High School, Oyo, an American Baptist Missionary a Nigeria often shared Science equipments with Pioneer Principal, Chief A.O. Adeyi for ching Chemistry and Physics. Long after Chief Adeyi left FIDIGRAMS to serve as Western Nigeria Minister under Premier Obafemi Awolowo - the Rev. E.M. Fine often came to our stool to lead evening worship services. We remember Rev. Fine for a particular sermon on BROLINESS. Unfortunately the hall where we met for worship had on its wall, a chart showing teditiest boy of the week. Absentees ran into trouble with the Principal after worship; But too affen when I write and my article is published people say, "It is to be expected or that you are still chip of the old block". It is often from such background that tradition is established.

Red miller once wrote:-

Writing is easy; you just sit down at the typewriter and sweat blood" - quote from : Christian Author" magazine.

Butone Francis Bacon succinctly put it better by saying:- Conference makes a ready man;-

And WRITING, an exact man.:

By now, readers can better understand what COLLEGE POLISH could mean for the pose of this paper. Talking about Fiditi Grammar School, vis-a-vis college polish especially 1950;s credit must be given to MR. ODUOLA-a member of staff and an Andrian as those who passed through St. Andrews College Oyo Alaafin are called. It was he (Oduola) while assing students assembly one day and some boys were causing distraction- who shouted at the "You there seem to lack College polish." The rest of us roared with laughter joking back the boys did not only lack College Polish but also, they lacked KIWI and nugget polish as well-More laughter!.

I guess when the motto "ADSPICE VIRTUTEM" was coined for Fiditi Grammar School, no student was consulted before it was glued on the first school block. But come to think of the fact that both staff and students assiduously worked towards the motto since these past sixty years, so hard that we now have an army of professors, engineers, doctors, the clergy, business men and women, writers, civil/public servants, politicians, lawyers, school teachers, publishers, printers- et cetera.

When you talk of phonetics, early students of FIDIGRAMS must have imbibed that culture from Chief A. O. Adeyi - the pioneer principal - himself - an old student of Baptist - Academy Lagos and a B.Sc (Chemistry) graduate and of Colombia University with Diploma in Education of Indiana and Colombia University USA, and of London respectively. In those early days at FIDIGRAMS Chief Adeyi wore an impeccable suit to school in the morning and after break time (by 12 noon) he changed to French 'A' short and a 'T' shirt with a smart cap to match. Soon, we students took to wearing French 'A' after his June 1956 appointment as a Minister in Chief Obafemi Awolowo's Cabinet of Western Region of Nigeria.

Mr. A.O. Ajayi: on his arrival at Fiditi in 1957, to assume office as Principal thus succeeding Mr. E. A. Adeyemo's brief six-month principalship, he (Mr. Alex Ajayi) introduced a school "Magna Carta" of one hundred and fifty rules. Every student had a copy, which must be in his pocket at all times so that when any student broke any rule, the Principal made him read for himself the section that convicted him before such student was sentenced to a one-day "DETENTION" with hard labour precisely on Open Day which was the last Saturday of every month.

This writer or speaker vividly remembers one extra-curricular offence committed by some seniors in the upper classes somewhat inadvertently. That case was when a particular senior boy "chased" or "toasted" a visiting lady asking to see the Principal - only for all students to later discover the said lady to be our principal's fiancee.

Intelligence reports confirmed that when the Principal and his bosom friend Christopher Okigbo (VP) got to know, they coined an appellation for the then students saying: "FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL - FOR BOYS". There were other interesting incidents different from the above but equally rascally, which earned boys the same collective nickname "Fiditi Grammar School for boys". The alternative was, "Boys will always be Boys". It wasn't a gender preference.

TABLE MANNERS & DRESS-CODE

No housemaster or prefect bothers you on whether you wash your clothes or not. But any day you committed an offence and you appeared unkempt either with un-barbed hairs or jagged shoes you are described instantly as "Rough in manners; Rough in appearance." Such a culprit was given additional tasks as punishment.

The dining-hall was another school of etiquette. You're supposed to hold the table knife on your right hand and fork on the left hand. If you used either of them the other way round, a senior was close enough to correct you, asking you not to injure your mouth with a knife. Do I hear now, 60 years after, that the United Nations (or W.H.O.) has approved a Day set apart to educate the world on "HAND-WASHING" to prevent various infectious diseases. FIDIGRAMS had taken care of that since 1954.

Fresh students, especially Form One students often committed grammatical errors in day to day communication: Cliches like "Senior 'X' told me to told you; you are fool' instead of 'you are a fool'; I want to went; et cetera." A senior was often at hand to tell you: "Come on! Correct yourself!". And the senior would not leave you until you are grammatically groomed. Any student showing un-balanced interest in particular) subject was nicknamed - "Maths Maths Physics-No English".

As for occasional dress we went out in blue poplin shirt over white trousers with a cap or blazer to match. For labour, we went about it in Khaki over Khaki. As for school or class uniform every student was expected to be in white shirt over white short. Nobody wore trousers to class except tutors, , for whom we all stood up when they entered class as a mark of respect and obedience.

LATIN: The Watershed for all subjects and students. Latin, as described by ancient linguists was said to be a dead language only because it is no longer spoken. However, today, in the second decade of this third millennium, ask law students, ask practicing lawyers, ask theologians they would tell you LATIN still lives on as many of them cannot but peep into its roots to move ahead in the course of their studies and/or research programme. Latin as a subject is difficult but relevant and instrumental to understanding English and some European languages. But as much as I could remember, Principal Alex Ajayi (1957 - 59) and Principal E. A. Adeyemo (July 1956-Dec. 1956) - both of them "champions" or erudite in Latin often told students - "Don't have low aim". Thus, like in mathematics they always encouraged students to aspire to greater virtues.

Every student of Latin must start with "DISCIPULI PICTURAM SPECTATE" or "Pupils (students) Look at the illustration". The first sentence in "Latin for Today" book. You must read Clarendon & "De Bello Civili" "Largesse! Largesse! Desperado." Or Great - Disappointment. Vergil Books are meant for final examination.

I remember Suara Ajibike (1957). On his first encounter with Latin and seeing "Et tu Brutel"

Ajibike applied Yoruba intonation to read, "Etu Brute.!" The class responded: "Etu Obeje - elese owo-ari tete gbon eninin".

I also remember my classmate Yinka Lawale who joined us (1958) in Form Three. On his first encounter with Latin, Yinka, seeing: "I am Quinta Hora Est!" Yinka echoed "I am Quinta Hora Est!" The class responded, "Yes! You are Qunta Hora Est" (Laughter).

But there was this our Senior John Dejo Awodiran who, at a Friday Literary & Debating Society recited the whole lengthy chapter of "ATALANTA RACE" from the memory. He used his white bed sheet to don the Roman toga, with a scroll in his hand and latchet shoes like the Roman-wear. John Dejo Awodiran, of blessed memory opened up: "Qui in pedum certaminem dubitat, interdum superatur!" - Whoever doubts in a foot race is sometimes over come.

ACTS OF EXCELLENCE Reaching to my article titled "Book Review: Biography of Deacon (Chief) S. 1. Ojelabi - A Scholar Par Excellence" published in the VANGUARD of Sunday 4 Dec. 2011, Chief Ojelabi pointed my attention to one of our staff (Mr. Oke) in the picture published along with the article. Chief Ojelabi told me that Mr. Oke finished his degree in Science at the University of Ibadan at record time or earlier than scheduled. But since he was supposed to remain in the University till the academic years were accomplished, he (Mr. Oke) chose to teach science at Fiditi Grammar School for the remaining years. Students knew Oke was not only a thorough bred academician but also he was a professional and proficient tutor and master of the subject.

HISTORY: Words would not be enough to describe the foundational fame achieved by staff and students in the fields of sports and soccer. Every student had a chance to be in the school's First Eleven; but only the best were chosen to represent the school across the nation beating schools in Onitsha, Port Harcourt, Ibadan, Ogbomosho, Ife, Oyo- Alaafin, Aawe, Jos et cetera. Except for groups and individuals who loved to hate Fiditi for her fame and achievements in the academics, the sports and soccer, we now discover that libraries and records cannot fail (if memories failed) to know that it was Fiditi Grammar School that placed its own name on world map in those foundation years and by the grace of Almighty God.

For example:-

A renowned miler (distance runner) like the late Senior Deji Okesina (aka school timekeeper for 7 years) made name for himself and for the school.

Yemi Ladipo for five years, was school goal keeper in the team that brought laurels for the school and for many years. Today Yemi Ladipo is one of the Westminster priests of the Anglican Communion in London, and formerly of the global Campus Crusade for Christ.

Decades after leaving school, I still met a number of people who recalled that Alhaji Kareem Ladipo (aka - K.Lad) was not only a footballer, but also a seasoned Banker. They just continued to admire him.

The late Rev. Dr. Sam. Ala. Fadeji spent only one year at FIDIGRAMS but had to withdraw due to lack of fund. He later became General Secretary of The Nigerian Baptist Convention (1991-2001). Former First - Lady of Oyo State. Mrs. Mutiat Ladoja spent her first memorable year@FGS. In recent times we have been attending Weddings, Funerals, Birthdays etc that involved FIGSOSA members either as hosts or guests. On each occasion, our school carried the day thus justifying the metaphorical names of "FIDIGRAMS: THE ONLY SCHOOL - 'ADSPICE VIRTUTEM-UP SCHOOL!.

I once became a friend of Late Professor Chike Obi, the renowned professor of mathematics at the University of Lagos. We became friends during the "Daily Times" People's Forum or Debate as I challenged him on whether old politicians were to be permitted or not into the Second Republic politics that debut in 1979 as General Olusegun Obasanjo handed over military "politics" to civilians. For many years earlier on Professor Obi was a lecturer at the University of Ibadan. In one of his public lectures at UNIBADAN on the pre-eminence and significance of History to all disciplines put together, Professor Obi affirmed that it is only a fool or an ignorant man or woman that ignores or shuns history in the course of pursuing a subject matter. By this, may I suggest that every member of this our FIGSOSA should be an historian whose identity might not be complete until his or her experiences are written out for keep. I mean FIDIGRAMS story - from his or her own perspective. "Ita Fiat".

Were it not for Fiditi citizens (75% of whom hailed from the fratricidal Ijaiye War of 1862) who always hungered for modern education despite opposition from governmental and religious "status quo", we would not have had FIDIGRAMS in 1954. And if permitted to establish one, then, not until 1979 some 25 years after when under the late Chief Bola Ige as Governor, every hamlet of Oyo State was opened up for secondary school education. -Up School!!!

Were it not for the calibre of the first set of students admitted in 1954 and who were thorough- bred - Standard Six Primary School Certificate holders, we that followed them would not have imbibed their excellent academic culture or tradition.

Were it not for the radical teaching methods of Tutors like Messrs Adebisi Adebisi; E. A. ,Adeyemo (who later 'founded Okebadan High School); Alex Ajayi; S.O. Otubanjo; S.A. ,Adejayan; D.A. Folorunso; Ayeni; Umeh; S. O. Odublyi; S.O. Ogunjuytgbe; S.1. Ojelabi; Chris Okigbo. Mike Agboola Olajumoke; Ayoade Arowolo; S. O. Kolade; Ijewere; Oduola, B.A. Ajayi, Balogun; Mary Schaffer; Mr. Garland; et cetera - who formed the early core staff strength- not much of FIDIGRAMS would have been heard 60 years thereafter since our school would not have been anything different from myriads of conventional and non-radically manned schools around.

But Hurray! FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL is 'Deo Volente' celebrating her Diamond (60th) anniversary in January A.D. 2014.

Miss. Shirley Gunn (an American Missionary to Nigeria) was the last Missionary Director of Publications of the Nigerian Baptist Convention Ibadan where I retired from, since over a decade ago. One day, I travelled with her from Ibadan to Ogbomoso along the Trunk 'A' Old Ibadan-Oyo Road. When we reached the spot where Fiditi Grammar School was, she called my attention to "that school over there!" She described FIDIGRAMS as the most beautiful, scene or spot in South West Nigeria. Knowing that a white man/woman's yardstick for assessing beauty, value and appreciation is Everest-high different from black man's appreciation especially Nigerian - I asked her why, without disclosing my connection with FIDIGRAMS.

"Well! Biodun" she said, "you see! The grass field is well maintained and distanced from traffic noise to allow students concentrate on their studies". Shirley Gunn continued: "Look at the wide green field again, then the sprawling school blocks laced with flamboyant trees. Then of course, the panorama of shrub trees and green vegetation backing the school in the horizon and on an undulating hilly terrain!!!" She was quite excited when I disclosed to her that FIDIGRAMS was not only my old school but also that I am a member of FIGSOSA. I felt as if I was being given an award or that I received a compensation for the many buckets of sand I carried on my bare head to fill the gullies that now make the beautiful pitch referred to; or the Araba, Iroko-Oluwere and palm trees, we uprooted to give way for the present luxuriant greens we now have around.

In recent time, I met with or heard of old students like Professor Sola Ogunniyi (UCH); Dr. Olopoeniyan, Ex-Special Adviser to Oyo State Governor), Mrs. Biodun Adebawale (Abuja) and a number of others in sensitive but important positions. With the exception of Biodun (Adebawale) who for ten years was Private Secretary to Chief Ekaete - Sec to the Federal Government 1999 - 2007 (and Biodun whose mother shared the same grandmother with me), I never knew that old students were so many in the professions and even so many at the apex. I therefore conclude (and you will agree with me) that there had been continuity of the noble legacy of both founders and students that passed through the "ADSPICE VIRTUTEM" mill-aspiring to greater virtues. And so, let it be. Were it not for these students of the latter legacy, our pride of day, yea, our tradition of excellence would have been shattered or meaningless.

What a legacy and a continuing tradition! What a College polish!

If you are fortunate to read this treatise on FIDIGRAMS at 60 especially 1954-1958, then you part and parcel of the continuing legacy of excellence, virtue, erudition and fame that FIDITI

GRAMMAR SCHOOL was and still is. Please congratulate yourself and all!

Traditionally, and in paying tribute to, and imitating late Tutor and Vice-Principal, Mr. CHRISTOPHER OKIGBO when inspecting students' meal at the Dining Hall, He used to pray:- "Benedictus Benedicatur!

Per Jesum Christum Dominum est."

-Ita Fiat

REFLECTIONS OF FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL,1960-1962.

By Ade Ayeni - 1960 set

AFTER travelling with my father in a lorry, mainly built of wood and firmly attached to the engine section; from Kabba,a town in the present Kogi State to Ibadan for two days, we headed for Lagos the third day. We made the trip boarding the then, famous Armels transport, which I believe, was owned by the post office department then. It was their main mode of carrying letters and delivering them at various post offices along the Kabba-Akure-Ibadan route and also took passengers for a fee to major towns and cities along their designated route, to generate some revenue for their department. The vehicle had 2nd and 3rd compartments, where those at the 3rd Class had to sit on mere wooden planks, and faced the direct opposite of where the vehicle was heading to.

Those of us in the 2nd Class of the vehicle sat on a thin cushion covered up by leather material and a back-rest made of the same stuff of material. We had to pay more, but had the added luxury of facing the same direction as the driver. Most of the journey was made in the night, and that was during the harmattan period. Our destination was Fiditi Grammar School in Fiditi but had to go to Lagos first, for reasons that would be disclosed later.

That journey was the longest I had ever made, before I celebrated my eleventh birthday that year, when I received my letter of admission to Fiditi Grammar School towards the end of 1959,as the first term of each year commenced in January. It was like receiving a golden prize, because of the circumstances surrounding my admission. But that was not the beginning nor the end of the story.

An entrance examination centre to Fiditi Grammar School, had for the first time been located at the St Andrew's Primary School Kabba, where my father was the Headmaster of the Senior Primary School. Five of us from Classes 6 and 7 sat for the entrance examination with two of us out of the five in Class 6, and both of us having a year more to spend in the primary school. All the other four pupils with whom I sat for the entrance examination, were invited for an interview in Fiditi as a result of the examination, except myself.

My father was very livid with anger, and scolded me severely for my playfulness. The small mud football leather, generally known then as 'Toronto' was indeed my favourite, but that was no big distraction for me in my class work.

The explanation I offered to him, for my not being invited for the interview, was that I was still in Class 6, while most of the other pupils with whom I wrote the examination were in Class 7. However, a few weeks after the interview was held, the final result was sent to the Headmaster of the school, (who still happened to be my father), and to his utter disbelief, he found that I was the only pupil admitted into Fiditi Grammar School in that centre.

Incidentally, the other 4 pupils sat for the entrance examination the following year when I was in Form One, and I had to host them in Fiditi when they were all again invited for the interview, following their success in the entrance examination. Unfortunately, as it turned out, none of them was lucky to be offered an admission into the school, even this time around. All that is now history. The point being made is that only a few admitted into Fiditi Grammar out of many, from all over the country who struggled to secure a place in the school. Fiditi Grammar School was known far beyond Western Nigeria. One would not know if many in Fiditi, were actually aware of this situation then.

My father having studied and worked in places like Ilesa, Abeokuta, and in some major cities in the North realised that the school population in Fiditi was going to be largely cosmopolitan, so he took me on a trip to Lagos by train (my first ride in a train) to see the bar beach, and other historical places there for about two days, to help boost my self-confidence when in the midst of my colleagues from other parts of the country. I never realised this then, neither did he make this known to me, until many years later. We then left Lagos by train for Ibadan, and from there to Fiditi by road. As we approached the first building in the school, we saw a gentleman with a tobacco pipe elegantly placed in his mouth, with smoke intermittently being released by him at what looked like measured intervals. He beckoned to me and wondered why my father did not simply put me in a vehicle heading for Fiditi, rather than take so much trouble to accompany me to school. The gentleman turned out to be Mr Christopher Okigbo, the Vice Principal of the school. I was filled with awe and trepidation on hearing this, as I felt that I must have been admitted into a kind of military institution. It was on this occasion, that I saw a TV set for the first time, with the famous 'Anacin' tablet advert being relayed.

My first encounter with Mr Christopher Okigbo, the school's Vice-Principal was very frightening to me, but ironically, after a few weeks in the school, Mr Okigbo grew fond of me, most likely because of that first encounter with him, and most probably because I was the smallest boy in the school, even when I was in Form Two. He would pick me to his house in his metallic, brownish-grey Mustang car, most Saturday mornings when it was time for general labour for all students. He would relate to me how he travels the 9 miles distance between Fiditi and Oyo in 9mins. He never took me on any of the trips, however. His exploits in the Sports arena was spectacular, especially in the football, game.

His no-nonsense, methodical, disciplined and scientific approach to sports made Fiditi Grammar School very popular in the whole region as the school trounced many schools in their football match competitions. However, one incident which had become indelible in my memory, was the football match between the Ife Grammar School and Fiditi Grammar School, in the hotly contested Thermogene Cup football competition, among secondary schools in the then Western Nigeria, which extended from Lagos to Asaba in the present Delta state. At half- time of the match, Fiditi Grammar School was leading Ife Grammar School by 3-1. One saw the relish with which Mr Okigbo went round to assure the students that our boys had imbibed the coaching received, and that victory for Fiditi Grammar School was a foregone conclusion. Just before the second half of the match was to commence however, Mr Okigbo's attention was drawn to the presence of a traditional doctor, who students credited our leading 3-1 scores to.

On being told this, he flared up and ordered the traditional doctor to leave the pitch. Unfortunately, at the end of the 90minutes encounter, Fiditi Grammar School lost the match by a narrow margin of 3-4. The debate thereafter was, whether or not, our dramatic loss of the match(leading 3-1,only to lose at 4-3) was due to the forced departure of the traditional doctor or medicine man, if you like. Most of us concluded, however that our team just lost concentration; that's all.

In spite of the fact that the match was played in Fiditi, there was not an iota of protest as our students dispersed peacefully to their various hostels in a disciplined manner. This was not only to the credit of the Principal and staff, but especially, to the Vice-Principal/Games Master, the pipe-smoking, Mr Christopher Okigbo. Our students went straight to their dormitories, peacefully boycotting the meal for that evening, which were heaps of loaves of 'eko and akara'. What a waste! Of all the teachers in the school then, stood out, Mr S.I .Ojelabi (now Chief Deacon S. I. Ojelabi). His impeccable, neat white shirt on his trousers and especially his distinct. Stentorian and sonorous voice distinguished him from all others.

In fact, I took him for the Vice Principal of the school then, and I felt that Mr Okigbo was just the games master. Another remarkable thing about Fiditi was the overwhelming presence of fruits, in all farms around the school. They were like dividends of nature, which just dropped from the heavens and left to grow everywhere without any tendering by anyone. No one challenged you for picking the fruits any time of the day.

But going to take palm wine in the farm of a short but rotund man, nicknamed, Baba Mundu'was at a great risk, as the man would race viciously after any intruding student, who attempted to drink part of his palm wine. I drank a bit of this though, and found it to be one of the sweetest liquors I have tasted, till date. Baba Mundu was such a sprinter, that he ran so swiftly and good luck to any student he laid his hands upon. Water, in the early sixties was a very scarce commodity. Students had to fetch water in a stream about a quarter of a kilometre from the school gate, towards the town and this was not free. It came at a cost of a penny per bucket of not very clean water, but just for bathing and washing clothes.

The woman who claims to own the stream, (trust students) was nicknamed, 'Iya mo,gba o mu 'She usually shouts-'Mo, gba o mu'-(I have caught you) at those she apprehends trying to fetch water without payment. This strange experience didn't go for too long, however, as the school had pipe borne water just a few months after that.

Babatunde Shoge, the late Akin Olasemo and myself, celebrating the arrival of water in the school premises, would open the taps and ensure we had 6 buckets of water each to have our bath each time, to compensate for the near sordid experience we had in the hands of Iya mo,gba o mu, at the old stream. The 1960 set, to which I belong, according to the school log had about 125 students in enrolment, but from my individual, may be micro view, it didn't look as if we were more than 50 to me.

There were the likes of Latunbosun Popoola, a great sprinter who was said to have clocked 10.9secs in the 100 metres race in 1961/2.He was known all over the country for his uncanny ability to race through both the 100 and 200 metres distance.

Sunday Adedeji, Sam Olanisebe, Daniel Fajuyigbe, Bayo Sanda, Alex Azu, Sylvester Aigbrior, Yekinni Atiku, Adegbindin Ojeniyi, Isaac Olasebikan, Christian Nwokoye are a few of the names of those on the 1960 set that demonstrate the cosmopolitan nature of the school population.

Fiditi Grammar School, provided a learning and training opportunity for all of us who attended the institution and we should remain ever grateful for this and do our best in contributing to make it an enviable citadel of knowledge and sporting activity that it used to be.

UP SCHOOL.

THE OAK TREE AND ITS SIXTY BRANCHES

"I only hope that this search shall be successful. Although I have taken part in the Guilder ultimate search few times before now, this one is completely different. Since I have also entered into this one, I will press on till I succeed, at least for the first time in competitions of this magnitude and character. The consolation is that the reward is too handsome to be ignored; global recognition, national award and handshake with Mr. President followed by a gift of a storey building in a posh area at Abuja. In addition to this, is another cash of N10million to the bargain. What else do I want? When all things are said and done, I will not need more than three days of uninterrupted sleep and a few naira to buy PanadolRX to send all tiredness and pain packing; therefore the tougher the competition the more interesting it seems to me.

After all, tough times don't last but tough people do. This time around I will not quit; quitters don't win and winners don't quit. I must win this one; I cannot afford to fail again. Since there is a long stretch of forest vegetation around, and inside it must be the oak tree with its sixty branches. After combing the forest areas in Akwa Ibom, Rivers, Cross Rivers, Ebonyi, Bayelsa, Delta, Imo, Anambra, Enugu, Edo, Ondo, Ekiti, Osun, Lagos, Plateau, Benue, Taraba, Adamawa, Oyo, Ogun, Kogi for a tree with sixty branches, he concluded he had lost the competition. As he started to think of what next to do, one old man appeared to him from the thick forest around him. Looking at Humphrey inquiringly, he asked, "What are you doing here, at this lonely place?"

Humphrey's first reaction was to ask him the same question, but in view of the state of mind in which he was, he managed to half-heartedly answer him saying, "Baba, I am looking for the oak tree with sixty branches." "Is that all, then follow me," said the old man reassuringly. Before you can say Jack Warner, the old man took Humphrey to a school building near a tarred road, with a football field in front of it and other buildings at the two sides and behind the building in front of which they stood. "That is the oak tree with sixty branches that you are looking for." Humphrey's anger against the old man grew to the maintain top. "Baba, are you alright?" Humphrey enquired.

The old man laughed laconically and answered, "I tell you, my son, that is the oak tree with sixty branches" As Humphrey raised up his hand to push the old man away from his side, something jolted him from sleep and he found himself on his bed, sweating profusely. He sat up, switched on the light and checked the time. It was 1:30am, "What type of a dream is this?" He asked himself. He could not sleep again. In fact, he was afraid to close his eyes, lest he found himself face to face again with the old man. "An oak tree with sixty branches?" he repeatedly asked himself. As he repeated that question to himself and his eyes were about closing in sleep, he would jolt himself up, rub his eyes with his palm and say, "stop closing or else that old man will come to you again". At intervals, he asked himself about the oak tree with sixty branches and a school building?

What is the connection?" After narrating this dream to some confidants, one of them introduced him to an old man who was regarded as a sage in that locality. "An old man again: could he be the same man I saw in my dream?" It's ok, let's go, resigning to fate on seeing him, he observed he was not the same man he saw in his dream. "My son, the old man you saw in your dream was sent to you to interpret your dream for you but you did not believe him. That school you saw in your dream was the oak tree you were looking for. Those sixty branches represent sixty years that school had been in existence. I may also add that the fruit of these sixty branches represents the students who have passed out of that school; in fact, the first five branches did not produce any fruit. Through natural dispersal mechanisms, those "fruits" from that school have been dispersed to various locations in the world and also to various calling. If you can locate this school and interview people in its premises, they will confirm what I am telling you. But I have to leave you now. I have something very urgent to attend to. So, good day my son. "For a few seconds, the two young men were glued to their seats, gazing at the vast emptiness. When they came to themselves, they stood up and left. On their way home the confidant asked his friend, "Are you relieved?" "Yes I am, thank you," answered Humphrey.

Few weeks later, Humphrey was in his friend's car travelling from Ilorin to Ibadan, on the old road, to attend a function at Iroko near Ibadan. On getting to the front of Fiditi Grammar School, the memory of the school building he saw in his dream came to him clearly. "Eh Segun, can you stop a minute. This school looks like the one I saw in my dream." "You mean your oak tree story with sixty branches. I hope you are not dreaming again?" "No, I am not, I am almost certain it is." "Then, what?" Segun enquired. "I want to see if I can get someone to talk to, in respect of what the sage told us. I know this is not where we were going, but just spare me a second." As they drove into the school premises, they met a woman who introduced herself as the principal of the school. Humphrey sought audience with her. They followed the woman to her office. By the time they left the woman's office, they had been able to confirm everything the sage told them. "The school was officially opened on January 19th, 1954 with 32 students.

With time, the school grew to become a reference point not only in its locality, but also in Nigeria. Even students from neighbouring countries including Cameroun, Ghana, Sierra Leone, Togo, Benin Republic, to mention a few, attended the school. The school excelled both in academics and sports. Products of the school are in various disciplines and are doing well all over the world. In its sixty years of existence, the school has recorded many landmarks. As of today, Fiditi community, the Old students' Association and the Oyo State Government give support in various ways in sustaining the school at its present level. There is still a lot of room for improvement. I know with the continued support of the above three agencies and more, the school will continue to grow and grow. The focus of the school presently are in the following areas, viz: the improvement of infrastructural facilities, the need for more high quality teachers in critical subject areas and the strengthening of boarding facilities to attract quality students from far and near. In addition, our library and ICT Centre also need attention.

As the two men listened to the principal, reeling out information about the school, both Segun and Humphrey did not realize they had spent over one hour with her. When they stood up to go, the principal gave them a copy of the programme for the Diamond jubilee celebration which would come up between 14th and 15th, February, 2014 and to which they were invited. "Honestly, I'll not call you Humphrey anymore, your new name is Joseph the dreamer," Segun said, jokingly. "You will remember, the sage said that oak trees don't usually have up to sixty branches, do you?" "Yes I do", Humphrey answered soberly. That dream was a revelation.

May God reveal to us all, the path of honour, integrity, greatness, peace, love and progress as we celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of our great school, Fiditi Grammar School. I am using this medium to remember and pay tribute to our fallen heroes. Firstly, I remember the founding fathers, the Lawales, the Osobis and many others, who made many sacrifices to establish this great citadel of learning. I remember the foundation students who contributed to mapping out an express way, through the jungle of life in the history of this school to lay the foundation upon which our school stands presently. Oh Lord of ages past! I once again commit to you for eternal blissful rest, the souls of my colleagues who opened this school in 1954. Bodunde Fajumolu, Oyelakin Ojelabi, Olu Ogundiran, Solomon Titiloye Ohu, Olukunle Ogunkunle, Lamidi Olaojo, James and Adeniyi Olapade, Amoda Victor, Ogunfowokan and Joseph Oladeji Okesina. You ran your race of life in this school faithfully and purposefully. You gave your best to your alma mater. Your memory encourages those of us you left behind on this planet, to continue the race to the final end. I also remember the foundation principal, our amicable Chief Adebiyi Omowonuola Adeyi; I remember the two foundation teachers, Chief I. O. V. Agboola and Mr. Kolade. May your heritage remain blessed forever. I remember other supporting staff who have also fallen asleep. Rest in peace until the resurrection day when you will wake up to enter into your eternal bliss. I salute you all.

I celebrate my living mentors Chiefs Alex Olu Ajayi, S. I. Ojelabi among others. I bring into focus, my colleagues as members of the foundation students, who are living to witness the celebration of the 60th year of existence of our school. How time flies! Just a few years ago, specifically the 12th of January 1954, you sat together to take the first supper as the first set of students to be registered as boarders in this school. I congratulate you and invite you to join others in building our school. As you increase in years, so will God continue to renew your strength like that of the eagle. God will grant you wisdom, knowledge and understanding even at your old age, to be reference points to younger generations. I celebrate you surviving past principals, teachers and supporting staff. I appreciate your past and present services in the face of many challenges.

I congratulate the leadership of the Old Students' Association, especially our National President Senator (Dr) Bode Olajumoke, the executive committee and members of the various branches of our Association (FIGSOSA). I appreciate the sacrifice and dedication of the Planning Committee of this Diamond Jubilee Celebration. I express my appreciation to Mrs. Awotunde, who is the current principal of the school and all the teaching and supportive staff of the school. I congratulate the present generation students of our school and I wish them success in life as they join us to make history. Wishing you happy celebration. God bless you all.

FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

By John Oguntokun (1966 set).

IT was a new dawn in January 1966 at Fiditi Grammar School, that year was the advent of the admission of the first set of girls to the school. The school which for so many years was for boys only now for boys and girls. I was among the students admitted at this period I also remember the set (1966 set) was christened "Cinderella Set". Our sojourn in the school was laden with so many activities. With the admission of girls into the school our seniors had to adapt to new environment not running naked within the hostels.

In form one our class rooms (two) were facing the then Obalana and Adedoyin hostels hence all activities in the hostels could be viewed from our class rooms.

Initially we were treated like eggs by both Teachers and Seniors - all eyes were on us. For me it was a new experience to mix with girls since my primary school was for boys only. We were academically sound and there was this binding love among us helping each other in all activities. I believe most of us were from Lagos and Ibadan. It did not take us time to interact even outside the school premises we visited each other at homes during the holidays.

As soon as we got to form three I believe things began to change our girls were now matured and the Seniors were showing interest in a few of them and then jealously we stood up to protect our girls against the intruders. We were declared by the Seniors at a time as stubborn and obstinate hence we punished several times as a group, we were however very firm in our resolution to be one. I remembered on a particular day we were held up in the class rooms during the dinner time, we were only released after the table had been declared free for all. Amazingly we all share the food that was left over.

Of course we had fun while at Fiditi Grammar School; we played pranks like any other students. Most of our teachers including the Principal were nicknamed. I remember our Latin Master Mr. Fagbenro - 'Ko se ko je olure o se, O gba oko olure O ju si gbo' literally translated thus-'A cog in the wheel of Progress' There is no gainsaying it that we were brilliant set and a pride of the school. We however incurred the wrath of the Principal (Mr. S. I. Ojelabi) on the day of our valedictory service, our senior prefect commented on the frequency of beans in our menu. The senior prefect was instantaneously deposed however he was subsequently reinstated few years after. We ended up at Fiditi Grammar School with outstanding WAEC result - 100%. The glory to all our teachers, we will forever be grateful to them they were all dedicated and kind to us.

While writing this a friend of mine and one of my set reminded me that I cannot but mention my late uncle, the then Vice Principal - Mr. Joseph Ayoade Oguntokun - 'My boy I will beat you black and white' Long live Fiditi Grammar School

DEMOCRATIC RULE IN NIGERIA: THE SUCCESS SO FAR FROE
BY OJO TEMILOLUWA
SENIOR PREFECT GIRL (2013/2014)

NIGERIA is a country with natural endowment in terms of human and mineral resources, hence she is supposed to be ruled by people who are going to harness these resources with the fear of God.

Democratic rule came on stage when Nigeria realised her needs for it. It was re-introduced and it came into effect on May 29th, 1999 owing to the then prolonged Military rule before then. The second stage of democratic rule in Nigeria is now fourteen years old and we Nigerians have every reason to thank God when we compare it with the preceding Military rule. As earlier stated, we Nigerians need God-fearing leaders who will make us proud even among other nations. This has been achieved through Democratic rule. Democratic rule as it is being popularly called, is the government of the people, by the people and for the people. It is a type of government which puts an end to dictatorship which is a feature of Military rule. Citizens now have the right to express their opinion on the affairs of the nation. Also the freedom of expression, speech, movement, and so on are now being emphasised because civilians not military men are now at the helm of affairs of the nation. Furthermore, there is a rapid improvement in the infrastructural development of the country, such as the construction of roads, railways, corporate buildings and so on. Nigeria is witnessing all these, because Democratic rule is now on stage. Our leaders who have been elected by fellow Nigerians into their respective political offices, know that they are accountable to the people and must not disappoint them, hence they have improved upon their performances in terms of infrastructural developments and mode of governance generally.

In addition, civilian rule has brought about a cordial relationship among Nigerians, unlike during the military rule when citizens were subjected to harsh treatment, brutal killings, horrible thrashings, unjustifiable detentions and so on, because of minor offences. Democratic rule has indeed drawn citizens close to their leaders. That is why I am not surprised when the nation has began to move forward. An adage says, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall."

Nigeria is moving forward because the ruler and the ruled are in good terms with one another.

Moreover, the level of corruption appear to have reduced marginally, owing to the fact that government agencies such as the Economic and Financial Crimes Commission (EFCC), the Independent Corrupt Practices and other related offences Commission (ICPC) as well as other law enforcement agencies are working round the clock to check mate the actions of avaricious leaders who siphon government funds in order to enrich their pockets.

The activities of these agencies are being encouraged and supported by our leaders in the National Assembly who are in the forefront of our democratic rule. I wonder how Nigeria would have coped with corrupt practices if democratic rule was not in operation.

Notwithstanding, there are certain areas of weaknesses in our democratic dispensation, which should be addressed. Such areas are the constant strike actions by the educational institutions due to insufficient funding of the educational sector.

Also the economic melt down in Nigeria, has to be looked into. This will be achieved if the government helps in improving the industries in Nigeria. More industries should be built in order to provide employment for our teeming youth population.

By this all hands will be on deck in improving the nation's economy. Also, leaders who siphon government funds should stop the corrupt act and refund such illegally acquired money. If the above suggestions and all the principles of democracy are strictly adhered to, the real dividends of democracy will reach all the people in the country. God bless Nigeria.

FIDITI GRAMMAR SCHOOL

"A School for Sound Secondary Education A Citadel of Moral Upbringing" -From 1976 Set

AN adage says "it is better to teach a man how to fish than providing him/her with a fish". I am making this analogy in expressing our gratitude to the effort of the Fiditi Community in bringing about this citadel of learning that taught some or most of us how to fish. Though, a state school, certain efforts went into locating it in Fiditi. This commendable act shall remain in our memory for life, as a matter of fact, not only for life but for eternity, because the history of the life of anyone that passes through this school will be incomplete without the mention of Fiditi Grammar School. To many of us that found ourselves in Fiditi Grammar School at the commencement of the session in September 1976, it was an adventure into a new land, as most of us were either from Lagos or Ibadan with many others, of course, from other parts of Nigeria (I remember in particular a mate from Ghana) and coming to a serene environment like Fiditi away from the bubbling city life of Lagos was partly a great adventure to us.

At the resumption to the school it could not be said that all was that rosy. No!! Those were the days when discipline was at its pick. Seniors were like demi-gods, their words were authority, authority delegated from the Principal, who with our present life experience, may probably not be aware, then, as to what extent its delegated authorities had been executed. Almost every way of life were regimented and as of then, we were not that comfortable with these nor with the seniors, but endurance was the answer, for all of us had targets that must be achieved. As a "boarder" living in the dormitory, your day started at a particular time; voluntarily after hearing the sound of the bell or forcefully with the use of the cane, you were expected to do particular things at a particular time, otherwise, that may result in your missing your breakfast. The breakfast will of course not be available after a particular time-it is the survival of the fittest.

I must say that the experience garnered from that way of life, tremendously assisted all us to get to where we are today. Imagine that this was just some thirty-three (33) years ago, but what tremendous one hundred and eighty degrees (180) turn-around in the life of a nation. Today, the nation is undergoing decadence in terms of child upbringing, the general "don't touch my child" syndrome is destroying the fabric of our existence. Where have we gotten it wrong? And where are we going?

Yoruba adage says that "only a family gives birth to a child but, it is the duty of the society (millions) to train that child" I am dumb-founded as to whether that adage is still relevant today, because, we do not allow our children to be trained or disciplined again by our neighbours. People have even gone to the extreme of going to school with a cane, wanting to retaliate in caning the teacher that corrected their wards by way of caning them. Parents have equally gone off the track by seeking assistance for their children in terms of obtaining marks or certificate for them!!! These were not possible in those days when we were in Fiditi Grammar School. You are on your own and you have no one to report to, your parents do not want to hear stories, they are interested in achievement which they proudly obtained from us. Alas!!! where are we heading to in this Country. I must mention the Master and Chief Disciplinarian Late Baba Peter, a man said to have originated from the Eastern part of Nigeria, a de-tribalised Nigerian, honorary indigene of Fiditi, a father to us (that is, those that passed through his tutelage, right from the day the man came to Fiditi until his death). Late baba Peter moulded us, he use to advise us like his own children and caned us when the need arose. Another attribute of the man is to be moving around in the night with his touch light "that will only come on" if he found any young boy or girl (or both) in an undignified area during the "prep time" or "after light out". Late Baba's action was to prevent the nocturnal adventurers of the adolescent boys and girls who are yet to understand the essence of life or what the world outside holds for them. Adieu Baba Peter. "May GOD grant you peace at the bosom of Abraham." Rest assured that your effort over us was not in vain. If the dead can see I know you will be smiling that your children are doing you proud, as a result of your good guidance.

This write-up will be incomplete without expressing encomium to the good and hospitable people of Fiditi. Most of us have a second home in Fiditi, because of the love of the Fiditians. You are a very loving and accommodating people. I remember those "old" men that used to accompany us with their drums whenever the school played football in Oyo city, Ilora, Awe and the environs. How great it used to be!!! May GOD in HIS infinity mercies grant you peace wherever you are, I also pray that GOD will reward your wards with the love and kindness you have shown to us who were not from Fiditi but felt and still feel part of you. I also believe that the Fiditians will keep the tradition on-going for those students (none-indigenes) who may still find their way into that school, notwithstanding, the economic challenges of the present time.

I like this 1976 set and I am proud to be one of them. Our set was full of strength, extra- ordinary unity and tremendous knowledge with positive "rivalry" to do better than the next person, a driving force that helped all of us and still propel us forward. A particular situation will suffice for this write-up to proof the point about the knowledge- base of this set. It so happened that almost towards the end of our final year in this school, we lacked teachers in some basic subjects; example was in geography. I remember only the Principal (Mr. S. A. Ajadi) could find some time to attend to us. But alas, this set organized itself, as a student that we know is best in a particular subject led in teaching the others whenever there were no teachers or during the afternoon prep. We were never inferior to one another, we took the task seriously.

One could hardly believe that the WAEC results of this set or that of set of 'best students' were withheld by WAEC, WAEC could not comprehend that a school, somewhere in a remote village (Fiditi) can do that well. I remember, I had put in for the following year's WAEC examination, but the School fought gallantly for us, probably taking our assessment documents from the 1st year up to the last year before the WAEC exams. Eventually, several months later, our results were released. Most of us never took the WAEC exam twice. It was an achievement that is still encouraging us today, in our life's endeavours. Friends I made from Fiditi Grammar School remain my best of friends till date, we communicate, we visit one another, both within and outside Nigeria. I was always welcome and they are welcome in my house any day/any time. It is a life time friendship brought about by the virtue of our meeting in this Institution, Fiditi Grammar School.

We all appreciate you Fiditi Grammar School.
