

1. Privacy Policy Overview This Privacy Policy outlines the types of information we may collect when you visit our website or use our apps, how we use this information, how that information may be shared, and your rights and choices regarding the information you provide us.

This Privacy Policy was last updated on October 5, 2018.

2. Information We Collect

Information that we collect will differ depending on the app you are using or the section of the website you are visiting. We've listed below the information that may be collected in apps, information that may be collected in each separate section of the website, and information that may be collected on the entire website on any page.

In our mobile apps, we may collect the following information:

- Your mobile device's Advertising ID (IDFA) may be used by third parties in order to serve advertisements within the app. Please see Section 4 to learn more about advertising and your choices.

3. How We Use This Information

The purposes for which we may use this information, subject to applicable law, include:

- For mobile apps, to serve advertisements to users of our apps. Flipline IDS LLC does not use or store any Advertising IDs directly, and this information is only used by the third party providers.

4. Third Parties and Advertising Cookies

Third parties, including Google and its advertising partners, use cookies to serve advertisements on our website based on your prior visits to the website or to other websites, and to provide you with relevant advertisements when you visit the website. You can control the use of cookies in your browser to disable this feature, though it may affect your use of this website or other websites.

You can read about Google's policies and how they use your information for advertising here:

<https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-sites>

You can choose to opt out of personalized advertising from Google by visiting the Ad Settings page in your Google Account here:

<https://adssettings.google.com/authenticated>

You can choose to opt out of other third parties' use of cookies for personalized advertising by visiting this site:

<http://optout.aboutads.info>

You can learn more about cookies and how to disable them in your browser here:

<https://cookiesandyou.com/>

For mobile apps, third-party advertising providers may serve advertisements within the app, and may collect and use information like your device's Advertising ID to provide you with relevant advertisements when you use the app. Many mobile devices let you opt out of targeted advertisements.

You can learn how to limit Ad Tracking and opt out of targeting advertisements on Apple iOS devices here:

5. Security

The security of your data is important to us, and we work hard to protect our visitors' privacy with reasonable security measures with appropriate confidentiality and protections. No method of transmission or storage is completely secure however, so we can not guarantee the absolute security of transmitted or collected data. For visitors using the Flipline Studios Forum, this account information is protected by a password, and we encourage users to choose a unique and effective password and to keep it secure.

6. Lawful Basis for Processing Personal Information

Data protection laws in the EU require a legal basis and legitimate interest for collecting and retaining personal information from citizens and residents of the EU under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Our lawful bases and legitimate interests for collecting and process your person information include:

- We have a legitimate interest in collecting analytics and measurements of the usage of our website to improve and maintain our website and services for our visitors.
- We have a legitimate interest in enabling data collection for third party advertisements in order to provide a more customized ad experience for our visitors and app users.
- It is contractually necessary to collect and process usernames, email addresses, password details, IP addresses, cookie data, and similar information to fulfill our obligations in the terms of service of the Flipline Studios Forum. Additionally, we have a legitimate interest to protect the Flipline Studios Forum from abuse and fraud, and this collected information is required to fulfill this interest.

7. Data Minimization

We take reasonable steps to ensure that the information we collect and process is limited to what is reasonably necessary in connection with the purposes outlined in this Policy. When appropriate, we will collect and process anonymized data rather than your full information in order to protect your privacy.

8. Controlling Your Information

Users residing in certain countries who are subject to the General Data Protection Regulation have certain rights related to personal information that is collected, including access to their data, correcting their data, withdrawing consent for processing data, and requesting deletion of their data. If you wish to access, update, or delete your personal information, please contact us at privacy@flipline.com. We may require information to verify your identity and confirm your country of residence before we can complete your request. In some cases, some of your information will need to be retained for legal purposes or legitimate business uses.

For users of the Flipline Studios Forum, you can choose to delete your account on your profile page. To request all of your posts be removed on the forum when you delete your account, first contact us at privacy@flipline.com before deleting your account to ensure these posts can be removed.

Please see Section 4 for more information about advertising cookies and how you can control your information in regards to advertisements.

9. In-App Purchases

Many of our mobile apps offer additional purchaseable content as In-App Purchases. When an In-App Purchase is requested, all relevant account information is sent to the store provider (Apple, Google, or Amazon) to complete the purchase, and this information is not collected by us.

For children using our mobile apps, parents and guardians should be aware that they can prevent unwanted purchases by requiring a password before in-app purchases can be made. Parents and guardians are responsible for maintaining security on their devices, as the store providers will not always honor refunds for purchases when proper security is not followed.

You can learn how to secure your device and prevent unwanted in-app purchases here:
