Jacket vs V

(Hotline Miami vs V For Vendetta)

For both subjects we'll be using Hotline Miami 1-2, Hotline Miami 2: Wrong Number digital comics, Hotline Miami wildlife for Jacket and V For Vendetta Mini series and V For Vendetta movie for V.

Payday will not be used as the events cannot be canonical despite what's said.
I'm using two different continuities for V because I want to.

Subject J-001 aka: Jacket. The Masked Maniac.

Bio.

"So this is what the end looks like... Beautiful."

Name: Unknown. Possibly Richard.

Age: unknown

Height: 5'10.

Weight: Unknown.

Subject Jacket was a former US Special Forces soldier, fighting against the Russians in 1985. Not much is known about what Jacket did during this time. What he do know is at the final day of war, he and the rest of his squad went in to kill the soviet general in a power plant, but quickly found out that he died from suicide and that the plant was in a meltdown.

Jacket and his squad went to escape but the elevator they were going to use blew up, killing a fellow soldier, Barnes, and injuring Jacket himself. He was carried out by his friend, Beared, where a photo of the two was captured.

4 years later, Jacket got an apartment in Miami, Florida. On April 3rd, he got a call on his phone, instructing him to go to "Tims bakery" and a package of ingredients. These ingredients were a rooster mask, Richard. His first task was going to a Russian base and taking a package to drop it off in a dumpster, which he did. This marks Jacket's first hit job on the Russian Mafia.

He took a few other hit jobs of little importance until April 25th, Jacket had a "date" with Kate. At the scene of the "date", outside of the usual Russian mobsters, Jacket fought against a movie producer and killed him. In the producer's room, Jacket found a girl, all drugged up and asking to die. Instead of his usual brutish and murderous nature, Jacket took her and kept her at his apartment.

On May 23rd, Jacket was sent to a condo from "Harry". After clearing out the Russians, Jacket got a surprise call that someone at Phone Hom was causing prank calls. At the Phone Hom headquarters Jacket found it cleared of people except for one person, Biker. After a vicious battle Biker was defeated by Jacket.

In a twist of fate, on June 8th he went to kill Russians and when he returned, he found the girl's body in the bathroom and Richter watching TV on his couch. When Jacket confronted the killer, he was shot in the head. The events of the game have been mostly memories Jacket had, encounter with Richard, Rasmus, and Don Juan, seeing Beard in stores, and skips in time, all memories from Jacket being in a coma.

On July 21st, Jacket woke up from his coma, escaping the hospital and returning home to a mess. After some time, he went to the local precinct and killed several officers to get to Ritcher. When he got to Ritcher he was persuaded not to as the rat told Jacket that the same mysterious phone calls sent him as well. Digging in police records Jacket found that the Golden Truck Stop was suspected of mob activity.

On July 23rd, Jacket arrived at the Golden Truck Stop, killed the Mafia inside and reached the top where The Father was with his ninja bodyguard and 2 panthers. After killing the Panthers and the bodyguard, the Father joined in, shooting at Jacket. Using throwing knives to incapacitate The Father, Jacket went to kill him but The Father denied Jacket the satisfaction of killing him by taking himself out.

Jacket reached the far top where he had one last obstacle, the grandfather. A wheelchair bound mobster who Jacket killed. After looking at a photo Jacket was arrested and taken to court where he was calm during the entire trial. His murders inspired a movie to be made about him, a group to follow him, and the destruction of the world from nuclear warfare.

Subject V-002, aka: V. The Man In Room V.

Bio

"Remember, remember the 5th of November, gunpowder, treason and plot; for there is a reason why gunpowder and treason should ne'er be forgot."

Name: Unknown

Age: Unknown. Likely in his 40s

Height: 5'11

Weight: 175 Pounds

Most of Subject V's history before his imprisonment at Larkhill Resettlement Camp. He was imprisoned for an unknown reason but most likely it's for his radicalist views compared to what the government wanted. He was subject to medical experiments and injected with artificial hormones in an attempt to kill him and other prisoners. V survived this. While imprisoned, V learned of Valerie Page and her story. V was given the ability of gardening where he grew roses and increased crop production for the facility.

This was a mistake as V was able to make mustard gas and napalm, causing an explosion and escaping. With his new found Freedom, V spent 4 years building The Shadow Gallery and killing 40 workers from Larkhill. On November 5th 1997, V encountered Evey who was being harassed by Fingermen. V killed some of them and took Evey to a roof where he showed her why the 5th is important by blowing up Parliament.

V took her in and showed her what the government was hiding from her. Someone later V went to a train and cut the power, kidnapping Lewis Prothero making him re-live what he did to those in the camp and driving him inside by destroying Lewis' prize doll collection, leaving the broken man at new Scotland yard. The voice of faith taken out.

Next V headed to the top of the Old Bailey, talking about his issues with what justice has become, destroying Lady justice in the flames of freedom. V got the help of Evey to help take down Lilliman, killing the bishop with poison. Evey was only filled in on half the plan, this caused her to run off but apologize later. Doctor Surridge was next on V's list, eliminated by a simple poison. Ahmen was sent to kill V but with an unleaded gun he was murdered as well.

V took Evey outside and left her, leaving with just a mannequin. His next attack was on the television station where V killed the guards and bursted inside, taking over the studio and playing a tape he made, explaining his message all over the country. Escaping capture by covering a worker with his costume to take the fall.

In a dream-like state Evey was taken by V once again and put into a model of the camp he was in where she experienced everything he went through to break her and see if she would betray him. She did not. With the cameras gone and the voice untrusted, Britain fell into chaos. Protests filled the streets and the leader was in distress, obsessed over a computer.

His final plan was a train filled with explosives to finally destroy The Head. Finch, a detective, found the train and V, where he fired his gun and shot V. With his remaining life force V went to Evey and collapsed, dying in her arms. Evey took V to the train and put him inside, sending the train off destroying V's mortal body and The Head. As Midnight struck and V was almost announced dead, Evey jumped out as V.

The movie has a different history, mostly with how the victims are killed and how V dies. The biggest change is that V was experimented on because of a disease and how to survive it.

Subject Jacket.

Abilities.

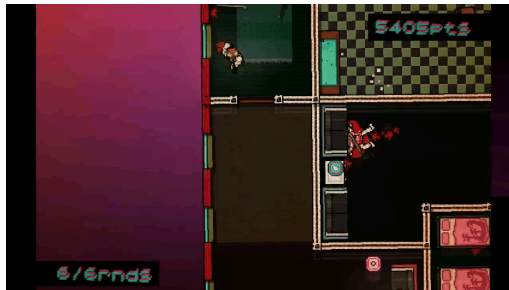

"If you're travelling through, we say: safe trip! If Washington is your final destination, we say: welcome home."

Despite Jacket's human appearance Jacket has some abilities.

Outside of his super human abilities he has the ability to see far away. Either a gameplay mechanic or an actual ability Jacket is able to see far distances and lock onto people through walls.

Jacket is also extremely stealthy when he wants to. (I had a gif but it's not working so damn)

Subject V.

Abilities.

"The only verdict is vengeance; a vendetta, held as a votive, not in vain, for the value and veracity of such shall one day vindicate the vigilant and the virtuous."

V also despite his human appearance does have abilities as well.

He has a superhuman ability to resist pain as he was burned with Napalm and walked off.

V is also skilled in stealth.

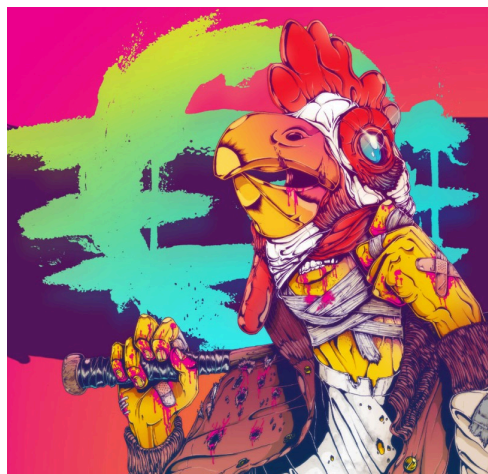

Abnormal kinesthesia and reflexes from his time as an experiment. (May also have enhanced senses as it's implied that he's blind)

V is able to mimic voices to trick people.

Finally, we have Jacket's masks.

Richard

Rasmus: This gives Jacket enhanced senses to see secrets. It makes the puzzle pieces and collectible masks glow.

Tony: This increases Jacket's physical strength enough to kill people in one shot, this includes people who don't usually go down with a punch like dogs, bigger opponents, and Panthers.

Aubrey: More guns spawn. Maybe a game mechanic but I like the idea that he summons them. Not that he knows which ones but they do appear. In Hotline Miami 2 causes Jacket to start with a double barrel shotgun.

Don Juan: This causes door slams to be lethal and kill in one shot.

Graham: This makes Jacket move faster by 25%.

Dennis: This has Jacket start with a knife. Maybe a very specific use of matter manipulation. Or game mechanics.

George: This allows Jacket to see farther.

Ted: This has dogs not attack Jacket.

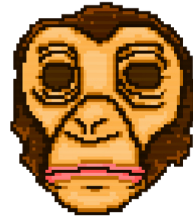

Rufus: This has Jacket survive a bullet when he would die. 3 bullets in Hotline Miami 2.

Rami: this gives  $\frac{1}{2}$  more ammo to a magazine. Another case of matter manipulation.

Willem: This allows Jacket to steal weapons from people.

Peter: This reduces the sound of weapons.

Zach: pure game mechanics. It makes combos last longer.

Oscar: This messes with Jacket's perception, making the world darker.

Rick: This causes opponents to die to the first bullet.

Brandon: This makes Jacket even faster.

Charlie: This causes more weapons to spawn.

Louie: This causes Jacket to become harder to detect.

Phil: Traduisez tout dans un très mauvais français. Peut-être s'agit-il d'une sorte de manipulation mentale ?

Nigel: This reverses Jacket's movement.

Earl: This allows Jacket to survive two bullets that would kill him. 3 bullets in Hotline Miami 2.

Jones: This causes more blood to come from kills and executions.

Carl: This makes Jacket start with a drill.

Jake: This causes thrown weapons to be lethal.

Ritcher: This has Jacket start with a silenced Uzi.

Russell: this messes with Jacket's perception making it so he sees in black and white.

He also has an Acado GT

Vantages

- = Stealth
- = Ability to see Jacket
- = Strength with equipment
- = Armoring.

More in depth conclusion.

So this is a very interesting match.

Comparing their physical stats, Jacket is at 151.67 Joules while V is at 59.30 kilojoules. This has V 390.98x stronger.

With equipment and the Molotov feat, Jacket is at 0.04 -0.06 tons of tnt while V is at 3049.56 kilojoules or 0.07 tons of TNT.

Jacket would be 82.32x stronger than the glove explosion. V is 1.1x stronger with the chocolate bomb.

Strength is going to V not only physically but with equipment they he can reliably pull out.

For speed Jacket is 10 meters per second at worst to 1,248.38 meters per second at best with V at 8.14 meters per second at worst to 3,131.47 meters per second.

Jacket at their worst is 1.23 x faster with V 2.51x faster at their best.

V and Jacket both have enhanced senses to catch someone who's stealth along with having stealth themselves. This also means V using things like his tear gas to blind Jacket most likely wouldn't help.

Jacket absolutely has range but V, despite his death to a gun, in the movie was able to kill several people and he had the ability to kill Finch if he wanted to.

The winner?

V.

I believe for the most part they're equal in speed with not a huge difference on either side. Strength goes to V physically as his stabbing through a human with his fingers should make him on par with a knife or the bullet that put Jacket in a coma but with the survival of the napalm explosion he caused he should be able to take a hit from Jacket.

Both have an equivalent feat of breaking a neck.

V technically has good armor with the sheet of metal but it also doesn't keep V fully protected and he still can be shot to death. It should be comparable to the masks that let Jacket survive fatal shots.

The biggest thing is that V is a great manipulator and Jacket has been susceptible to manipulation as he was manipulated by 50 blessings and into believing that 50 blessings was Russian.

It doesn't help that V has a great pain tolerance and could take a good few shots before dying.

Jigglypuff vs Dan Hibiki
(Pokemon vs Street Fighter)

Questions that may be asked.

Why wasn't payday used but the movie was used for V?

No actual good reason besides wanting to.

What's up with V's 22.78 ton feat?

It was done when V had prep and if I give him access to it, V would have to get far enough to not die in the explosion while Jacket is in it.

Why use the hotline Miami comics? Aren't they non canon?

I don't believe they are. Wildlife isn't as it doesn't contradict anything and the digital comic (which is mostly in contention) only has huge contradictions if you don't go with the idea of everyone being an unreliable narrator in Hotline Miami. Most characters in their minds get dates wrong or think they act differently than what they actually are like. Jacket is a huge example of an unreliable narrator as he kills Biker but Biker canonically lives.

Why is Jacket scaling to these people that he never met?

It's complicated. I don't believe Jacket is like, peak inverse but, he's not a pushover. He was apart of a skilled group of soldiers, a group better than The Fans which has Corey who can just dodge rolls away from bullets and Chris is a guy. Kurt is a soldier as well so Jacket should be comparable.

Why Dan vs Jigglypuff?

Idk, it seemed funny.
