

1 – Image shows the logo of which Olympic winter sport?

SNOWBOARDING

2 – Omaha, Razz and Stud are some of the variants of which card game?

POKER

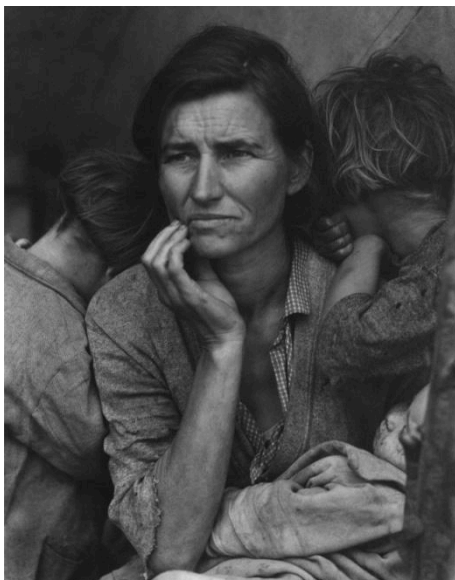

3 – Perhaps because her sister's name is Hennessy, which rapper, born Belcalis Marlenis Almánzar, had a nickname identical to the name of an alcoholic brand when she was younger? As a Cuban company threatened copyright infringement, she modified the nickname so she can use it on stage.

CARDI B

4 – Hugo de Vries, Carl Correns, William Bateson, Walter Sutton, Theodor Boveri, Thomas Hunt Morgan, and Gregor Mendel, are some of the most important names in which branch of biology?

GENETICS

5 – Image shows the most famous work by which photographer?

Dorothea LANGE

6 – Founded in 1888, which company has, up until the beginning of the 21st century, controlled over 80 % of the diamond market?

DE BEERS

7 – Named after a ruler who in 1821 financed the expedition that led to its discovery, which 49,070 square kilometre (18,950 sq. miles) island in Bellingshausen's Sea is the second largest uninhabited island in the world? Apart from that, it is also the largest island not claimed by any country, which was a result of an Antarctic Agreement which squashed the claims of UK, Chile, and Argentina.

ALEXANDER island

8 – „You are about to begin reading Italo Calvino's new novel(...)“ – titled what?

IF ON A WINTER'S NIGHT A TRAVELLER / SE UNA NOTTE D'INVERNO UN VIAGGIATORE

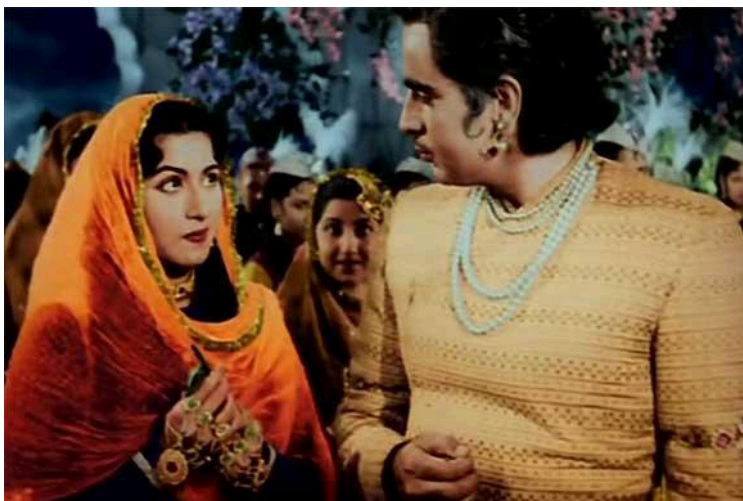

9 – Likely originating from the wartime decrees which were later codified and expanded to include cultural and lifestyle conventions, Yassa is the oral law code declared by what ruler? Code was never written down, which enabled its modification and selective use.

GENGHIS KHAN / TEMÜJIN

10 – Also known as Chenoboscium manuscripts or Shenaset, the Nag Hammadi library is a collection of early Christian and Gnostic texts written in what language?

COPTIC

11 – Image shows the scene from which K. Asif film? Originally shot in black and white, the film was digitally coloured and re-released in 2004.

MUGHAL-E-AZAM / The GREAT MUGHAL