Sean Lebita, originally from Lincoln, NE, graduated from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 2022 with a BM in Piano Performance and studied under Dr. Paul Barnes. He is currently the accompanist for Lincoln Northeast High School. While at UNL, Sean performed with the UNL Jazz Orchestra, Graduate Jazz Combo, various chamber ensembles, and was in demand as an accompanist. In 2018, he won the Nebraska MTNA Young Artist competition for piano. He was also awarded the Glenn Korff School of Music Distinguished Undergraduate Artist/Scholar award in 2021. Sean's diverse set of skills allow him to be a classical and jazz pianist, accompanist, and chamber musician. He frequently performs solo and with ensembles in the Lincoln-Omaha area, including with his jazz trio, the Prism Trio. He is also an active church musician, playing for services at various parishes. Sean is a member of the Lincoln Music Teachers Association and teaches with their Music Outreach Program. He also collaborates with fellow pianists while teaching and performing online.

About the Lincoln Music Teachers Association Music Outreach Program

The award-winning LMTA Music Outreach Program (LMTA-MOP) provides low-cost lessons with an LMTA teacher, instruments, printed music, and community performance opportunities for up to 50 area students in need to study the instrument of their choice. Using private donations, grants, fundraising activities, and modest fees paid by the student families, the MOP pays its teachers along with other operating costs.

LMTA-MOP is administered by volunteers with the help of community partners who provide free or discounted piano tuning, instrument rental, upkeep and repairs, piano moving and storage, free printed music, and meeting or teaching space.

LMTA is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) corporation. Monetary, instrument and sheet music donations may be tax deductible. For more information, to make a donation, to become a partner or nominate a student in need, go to www.LMTA.info [Music Outreach Program] or [MUSIC Endowment], or contact MOP@LMTA.info.

Checks made payable to LMTA may also be sent to: LMTA Music Outreach Program, % Jo Riecker-Karl, LMTA-MOP Chair, 6710 Wildrye Rd, Lincoln, NE 68521.
