

Rajoy recovers its functions. Or not.

The appointment as president Mariano Rajoy, far from causing me joy, which gives me a great uneasiness. In front of him is an amalgamation of parties who seek only their legislature is a failure. If someone asks me what they get with it, I do not know. Not having municipal or regional elections in sight - nothing to gain or lose-I can not understand the negative showing opposition parties to deny hand in case you have the need for future agreements. They do not even know what the president is going to propose and now they are saying 'no'. There are those who bet that this will be a short-haul journey. Even, at times it seemed to appreciate that pessimism in the speech Mariano Rajoy himself. Up to twice had to cheer C's leader, Albert Ribera, with phrases like: "Do not be afraid, Mr. Rajoy, not the band put before the wound." Adding that if he continues gaining support all will be well. If not? If not, problems. I sincerely hope very few positive things of this legislature. Ojala me wrong.
