

About 1kx:

1kx is an early-stage fund that helps founders launch and bootstrap token networks. We primarily lead Seed and Series A investment rounds with a focus in DeFi, NFTs and social tokens. We started in 2018 and have since been building a world-class platform to support our portfolio of 40+ companies, with the goal of being the most founder-friendly and helpful source of capital.

We are looking for Analysts to help source deal flow, conduct market research, and support our portfolio companies

What we offer:

- Unique insights and access to the best network of the cryptocurrency industry
- Independent work that favors self-starters
- Direct access and daily dialogue with the fund partners
- Non-political, merit-based work culture
- Future opportunities for roles within our portfolio

What you offer:

- Passion for crypto assets and public blockchains
- Self-starter mentality with a proven ability to take initiative and operate with little oversight
- Intellectually curious, with strong, demonstrated analytical and communication skills
- Empathetic and ready to roll up your sleeves and work with entrepreneurs on their most pressing problems

What you'll do:

- Conduct deep market research & analysis for one of the following sectors:
 - DeFi
 - Metaverse
 - Social Tokens
 - Governance
 - NFTs
- Source investment opportunities within your sector, conduct due diligence, and provide a summary & investment recommendation for each deal
- Regularly engage with portfolio founders to support their efforts across governance, community building, data analytics, and other tasks that may arise
- Publish in-depth research within your sector
- Organize events and network with founders & investors in the industry

To apply, please email jobs@1kx.capital with your:

- Resume
- Twitter and/or Medium if available