The Department of mathematics organised a talk on the topic 'Cyber security and digital hygiene' on 26th October, 2023. It was conducted in the video conferencing room at 1 PM. The speaker of the session was Prof. Charru Malhotra, lead coordinator of the centre of e governance at IIPA(Indian institute of public administration ,New Delhi.
The seminar commenced with a solemn candle lighting session led by Professor Charu, warmly welcomed by the hosts, Rajan Kaur from the second year, and Anvesha from the first year. The hosts provided an insightful introduction to the speaker after which she started the session.

Professor Malhotra started the session by defining cybersecurity and digital hygiene. She shared her own encounters with cyber threats, emphasizing the significance of being vigilant online. Addressing the audience, she also shed light on the dangers of digital footprints, underscoring the risks associated with unsupervised internet usage. Through various examples, she illustrated the potential harm of digital technology and offered practical precautions to safeguard against cybercrimes. Professor Malhotra stressed the importance of data protection and presented various alternatives for achieving it. Additionally, she emphasized digital hygiene practices, including the creation of strong yet simple passwords and the importance of avoiding suspicious links and downloads.

The seminar was highly interactive, with Professor Charu engaging the audience through thought-provoking questions, fostering lively discussions. Following her comprehensive presentation, attendees participated in a fruitful question and answer session, where the speaker addressed various queries, enriching the audience's understanding.

At the end of the seminar, Ms. Rajni Gupta and Dr. Geetan Manchanda gave a token of honour to Professor Charru in the form of a planter. This was followed by a vote of thanks by Ms. Mamtha Godara, who was the coordinator of the session.

Significance of the event:

This seminar aimed to raise awareness among students about cybersecurity, equipping them with knowledge to protect themselves from prevalent cyber threats. The event's timing in October, designated as Cybersecurity Awareness Month, further emphasized the importance of digital safety.
This made the session an insightful one and a great success!
