Sales Pitch:

You point to a pair of small, round metallic balls that are locked up behind a security case.

"What are these?"

"Oh, the Inseminator Pro," Sabrae says, sliding the case open. "It's produced with the partnership with one of the offworld companies, so it's compatible with your ... Codux? Codic? Codex? Anyways, these are pretty cool, and will save you up from buying all sorts of transformative pills."

"How so?" you inquire.

"Oh, these get put inside your balls, and artificially produce semen for you. And the cool thing? You'll still be able to produce offspring with your genetics, as long as you crank the virility meter up high. On top of that, you'll be able to produce up to 500,000 mLs of semen, even with regular-sized balls. And as long as you configure this thing right, you'll never get blue-balled either."

"That's a pretty sweet offer," you remark.

Sabrae seductively winks at you.

"Sure. Seven hundred fifty thousand if you want them."

That's a lot.

Seeing the look on your face, Sabrae adds, "Economies of scale, honey. This sucker is practically a prototype."
