The diagram illustrates a memory page layout. A large rectangle contains five rows of data represented by small squares:

- Row 1: 8 squares
- Row 2: 16 squares
- Row 3: 16 squares
- Row 4: 16 squares
- Row 5: 16 squares

Below the main rectangle, there is a vertical column of three squares. To the left of the main rectangle, there is a horizontal line with a label "00000000".
