

We zoom in to the interior of a meat locker. NICHOLAS STONE is debating with a large side of beef.

STONE

You want to cut back medicare? All you'll be doing is leaving our senior citizens with a piece of paper that has an empty promise written on it.

STONE nods his head feeling very proud of this statement.

STONE

This country needs to take care of the older generation because we have so much more to learn from them. This act would bring-

LEROY enters.

LEROY

Word from up top is that they want someone to debate Mitt Romney. He's a presidential candidate. They just want you to just go a few rounds with him. Go easy on the rhetoric. He's still hasn't officially accepted the nomination for Republican president.

Cut to MITT ROMNEY and STONE debating in a ring.

ROMNEY

What my opponent here doesn't seem to understand is that big government is the problem. Big government isn't going to save us from this economic crisis or create new jobs.

STONE responds obviously going easy on ROMNEY.

STONE

Ahhhhh...the economy's fine.

ROMNEY

Mr. Stone I don't think you even understand the economy. The Democrats aren't going to fix this economy, Paul Ryan and I have a plan to fix this economy. We can resuscitate this economy that has since been on life support.

STONE loses it.

STONE

Well, perhaps Mr. Romney, you should outline that plan for the American people. I can't even think of one time where you have truly outlined the economic plan. The way I see it Mr. Romney, Paul Ryan and you would be the death blow to the economy.

ROMNEY is knocked down in the ring. ROMNEY gets back up and begins shouting at STONE. ROMNEY and STONE have to be pulled apart while ROMNEY continues shouting.

ROMNEY

You're a bum Stone, that was a lucky fact. Let's do this properly. Madison Square Garden, Tuesday. I'll debate you for real!

STONE

Bring it on you old android.

Cut to ROMNEY and STONE at Madison Square Garden in a ring.

ROMNEY

I am very strong on foreign policy, more so than my esteemed opponent. In my foreign policy plan America will have a distinct red line if Iraq does get nuclear weapons. We have a plan to deal with the problems in Syria.

STONE

Where would you set the red line with Iran?

ROMNEY

Well, it would be...

STONE

Where?

ROMNEY

Ummmmm, it would be.

STONE

If I were president, I would set the red line at acquiring nuclear weapons. My foreign policy would also not include telling the English that they're not ready for the Olympics or telling Israel that Jews are good at making money.

ROMNEY falls to the ground. The Rocky theme begins playing. The crowd begins shouting "STONE." A woman goes onto the stage.

BEDELIA

I love you Stone, I've always loved you.

STONE

I don't know you.

BEDELIA kisses him.

THE END.
