

First off, here's some "no's" and "don'ts" right off the bat!

"Is Azumi a self-insert?"

No. She's simply a character I created for a series I love! She is in no way meant to be a vicarious insert for me, she's my spunky daughter and I love her <3

"Can you draw me/my character/specific art idea for me?"

I do not do commissions, nor do I do free requests unless specifically stated otherwise on a post to post basis. Please do not hassle or guilt trip me into creating art for you.

"Can we be friends?"

I want to address this seriously and plainly because I've been getting this type of message a lo.

This is probably the quickest way for us to not be friends; or at least the quickest way for me to be turned off to the idea. Friendship takes time and all my current online friendships have developed over the course of enjoying each other's content, engaging with it, and mutually giving off vibes that we'd like to continue interaction on a more personal one-on-one setting like DMs or Discord.

I understand that these kinds of messages are innocent and likely from someone much younger than I am, but it puts me on the spot, makes me feel awkward and obligated. And in many personal cases in the past it's very clear that someone's asking that because they see me as a somewhat known creator in the community and want to be in on that, or to get free art when they see I often draw for my friends. Which is gross and has seriously affected how I interact with new people.

I am a real human being, and I have just as much a right as anyone to tailor my social spaces and protect myself.

"Do you roleplay/Can we roleplay?"

I only very rarely roleplay with my close friends on Discord, so no!

"Will you do Y/N?"

Sorry but no! That's not really my forte ^^;

“NSFW?”

No. I restrict access to my NSFW content to close friends and trusted mutuals. I am very guarded about it. Do not hassle me about it or request things. This also goes for anyone fishing for fetish material. I see you, get out.

Now onto the FAQ!

“Who is Azumi?”

Azumi is my Demon Slayer OC! I encourage you to look at my ToyHouse profile to learn a bit more about her and see some more art! However here’s a quick rundown of her:

Azumi Fuji

Gender: Female

Age: 16 (17-18 Final Arc)

Rank: Tsuchinoto (Introduction) || Kinoto (Final Arc)

Sword Color: Red

Breath Style: Breath of Spirit (Derived from Breath of Flame)

For the most part her story follows along the main cast and storyline, with her building relationships with them and partaking in most of the arcs. Her mentor is Kyojuro Rengoku, and she is paired with Inosuke Hashibira.

“Who is Dokuchi?”

Dokuchi is my KNY Demon OC! He’s quite new and also has a toyhouse profile, but again here’s a quick rundown:

Dokuchi

Gender: Male

Age: Chronologically unknown, but equivalent to mid 20’s

Blood Demon Art: Toxic Blood

Dokuchi cannot remember his given name at birth and has adopted his current name in its place. He was a victim of a mass poisoning event in his village, and was given a chance by Muzan to enact revenge on those that had a hand in the tragedy.

“Do you have any writing or fanfiction?”

Currently that’s in the works! Whenever it may be done, it will be on Wattpad or Ao3 under the same username as all my other accounts.

“What program/tools do you use?”

I use Paint Tool Sai! Brushes are default options save for a few unique texture packs. My graphics tablet is a Wacom Intuos Pro M.

“Can I draw/write something about your oc?”

I'd be absolutely flattered!! Thank you!! If I don't happen to respond to anything posted, feel free to message me somewhere and link it! Notifications aren't always reliable for mentions and tags.

“Can Azumi/Dokuchi be involved in my OC's story?”

I'm perfectly fine with other slayer OCs knowing of or having met Azumi before! And Dokuchi is currently being utilized in another creator's story as a villain standin! After all, slayers should be familiar with their comrades, and demons are a common threat! However I'm not comfortable having them involved any further/more in detail unless we are close friends and have discussed that beforehand! If we are familiar with each other, feel free to ask and we can talk some things out!

“Can I incorporate Spirit Breathing in my OC / Story?”

That would be neat!! I'd only ask you credit me for this specific version of spirit breathing if you do use it!

I don't claim the general concept of spirit breathing, but I've put a lot of work into this specific version, its origin surrounding Azumi, and its forms, so I'd love to share while being acknowledged :D

MANGA SPOILERS AHEAD!

“Is Azumi involved with _____ person / in _____ arc/scenario/fight?”

Azumi is involved very heavily in the Mugen Train Arc, Entertainment District Arc, and Final Arc! Other minor story appearances are the end of the Drum House Arc, and the Recovery Training Arc. All other appearances are scattered.

Significant canon people in her story:

- Kyojuro Rengoku - Mentor
- Mitsuri Kanroji - Close friend
- The Kamaboko Crew: Close friends and in the case of Inosuke, a couple.
- Akaza - Need I say more?

Any iteration of “What about Aoi? / Where’s Aoi? / Aoi is better.”

Welcome to the world of fanfiction! Where we can have fun <3 You’re free to like a canon pairing better than someone’s personal iteration.

Aoi is still in my version of the story! The only difference is she and Inosuke just don’t develop attraction.

Not that I need a reason to have my own oc x canon ship, but I had been shipping Azumi and Inosuke for quite some time before Aoi and Inosuke were set up to be a couple at the end of the manga, and that wasn’t about to stop my fun! I like Aoi! But personally the ship didn’t quite sail with me because of how little interaction/build up it had in the story. I’m not about to go into someone’s comment section though to tell them otherwise.
