

Hello,

I was intrigued by your mission to help vegans from all over the world supercharge their health. I recently visited your website, and I am impressed by the amount of determination you have to benefit as many people as possible, as well as the effective strategies and personalized approach that you offer to your clients.

I noticed that you do not have a newsletter yet. That is where I may be able to help. With a newsletter, you can stay connected with your clients and build a strong relationship with them. They are also essential for establishing your expertise and building your brand authority.

Would you be interested in collaborating with me to create a monthly newsletter for your business? As an experienced writer, I can create engaging content that will feature your latest offers, expertise and industry insights. The newsletter will also be visually attractive and designed to support your brand.

I have written an email I know your community will love, should I send it over?

Best regards,

Dayton
