

Make predictions about the text & look for clues to confirm predictions

The prediction I am making is..	Why I made this prediction	Clues that confirm my prediction
The story is set at a troubled and sad place	The story says that it is dangerous to travel the northern road with a troubled heart else then you may find yourself wandering to the cursed city.	This was confirmed by the word used like depressed, sad, troubled, anti - social and unhappy.
This story is set with magic and curses	I made this prediction because the text says that there is a cursed town.	This was confirmed for me because there are magical beings and curses set throughout the book.
There is a baby and she is so beautiful that whoever sees her falls in love with her.	I made this prediction because they said that the baby was beautiful and was irresistible.	This was confirmed by the girl being stared at by everyone that walked by and people wanting to kidnap her.
The girl gets put in danger.	I made this prediction because she is so beautiful that people may want to have her for themselves.	This was confirmed by people wanting to kidnap her multiple times.
She falls in love and will do anything for her love.	I made this prediction because the front cover shows a man but the main character is a girl.	This was confirmed by the way she found a person she fell in love with and tried to save him time and time again.
She turns out happy in the end.	I made this prediction because the text said she had some light in her life and she found someone to love.	This was an incorrect prediction and it is wrong because her love dies.
She comes across a magical being.	I made this prediction because there are magical beings and the girl likes to	This was confirmed by the girl fighting off a magical being.

	adventure.
The girl comes back to the town.	I made this prediction because it seems that she loves her family and she won't stay away too long.	This is an incorrect prediction because she died
