Collection: Irreplaceable in the AI Era™

"Because leadership begins with you"

This is not just another ebook.
It's a practical guide for leaders who—amid the relentless advance of technology and artificial intelligence—seek to ensure that their leadership, decisions, and results remain relevant and sustainable.

It was conceived and written from a place of deep conviction—combining strategic clarity with the genuine love for positive impact, the personal power that comes from lived experience, and the essence of leading with integrity. Every concept, framework, and tool included here has been chosen with a single purpose: to deliver real value that can tangibly transform the way you lead and generate results.

Experience shows that most failed transformations don't fall short because of technical limitations, but because of invisible factors that silently erode performance: internal resistance, cultural misalignment, loss of strategic focus, or lack of team commitment.
These rarely appear in the metrics—yet they determine the success or failure of any initiative.

In this guide, you'll find actionable tools and frameworks to help you:

- Identify and anticipate risks that can slow or derail your strategy.

- Protect and strengthen your leadership capacity in high-disruption environments.

- Use technology—including AI—as a multiplier of results, not as a replacement.

- Stay competitive without compromising your team's cohesion or your organization's future.

This resource is available in PDF format for quick reference. If you prefer the editable version, you'll find a link to the download center at the end, where you can get it in Word format and adapt it to your needs. A new ebook will be added to the collection every week—until all 25 are complete. Simply visit the download center to see what's new each week.

If these words have reached you, it's likely not by chance. You are in the right position, at the right time, and in the right circumstances for this information to make a real difference. And as you put it into practice, you may discover it could also spark transformation in others.

Because in today's era, real value lies not just in the technology you use—but in your ability to lead with vision, precision, and purpose.

2. Central Theme of the Ebook

Expanding Business Opportunities with Integrity

The central question is:

How can a purpose-driven coach or spiritual leader expand business opportunities globally, while staying aligned with their values and offering deep transformation to organizations?

We will explore five practical levers:

1. Global strategic alliances.
2. Participation in fairs and events.
3. Exploration of new markets.
4. Digitalization of commercial processes.
5. Portfolio diversification.

Each lever includes definitions, frameworks, "caso hipotético" examples, exercises, templates, checklists and KPIs.

3. Initial Sections

3.1. Why business expansion matters for impact

If your work truly generates transformation, staying small is not always humble; it can also limit the number of people and organizations you could help.

Expanding business opportunities is not just about revenue. It is about:

- Reaching decision makers who control budgets and influence cultures.
- Building ecosystems where human transformation and business performance reinforce each other.
- Increasing your capacity to invest in research, team development and social projects.

Growth, when done with intention, is a multiplier of service.

3.2. Purpose of this guide

This guide has five concrete objectives:

1. Clarify the key components of an expansion strategy that respects your values.
2. Offer tools to evaluate alliances, events, markets, digital channels and portfolio decisions.
3. Provide examples that illustrate what works and what tends to fail for purpose-driven experts.
4. Facilitate alignment between your inner compass (why you do what you do) and your commercial strategy (how you reach clients).
5. Inspire action in the next 30–90 days, not in "some future moment when everything is perfect".

3.3. How to work with your team

To translate these ideas into reality:

- Invite collaborators who understand both your vision and your operational constraints.
- Define a pilot scope: one alliance, one event, one new market, one digital process, one portfolio adjustment.
- Use the templates to design, execute and review each initiative.
- Document your learnings, especially where your values were tested or strengthened.

4. Core Module – Development of the Topic

Subtopic 1 – Global Strategic Alliances

4.1.1. Definition

A global strategic alliance is a long-term collaboration between two or more independent organizations that agree to combine capabilities, markets or assets to achieve shared objectives they could not reach as effectively on their own.

For a coach or spiritual leader entering corporate markets, alliances can include:

- Partnerships with consulting firms, coaching schools or training companies.
- Agreements with technology platforms that distribute your content.
- Joint ventures with local partners in new countries.

The key word is strategic: the alliance must contribute to your purpose, your positioning and your financial sustainability.

4.1.2. Practical framework

You can structure your alliance strategy around five questions:

1. Why this alliance?
    - What shared purpose or business objective makes collaboration meaningful?
    - Which strengths do you bring, and what do you expect from the partner?
2. Who is the right partner?
    - Complementary capabilities (for example, you bring methodology and facilitation; they bring corporate access and salesforce).
    - Cultural fit: ethics, quality standards, way of treating people.
3. What is the value proposition together?
    - What solution will you co-create that is more powerful than what each party offers alone?
    - How will it impact a specific corporate need, such as leadership for AI transformation or cultural change?
4. How will the alliance operate?
    - Roles and responsibilities, decision rights, communication rhythm.
    - Legal framework: contracts, intellectual property, revenue sharing.
5. How will you measure success?
    - Revenue, number of programs delivered, client satisfaction, referrals, learning outcomes.

4.1.3. Caso hipotético

Caso hipotético: A spiritual leadership coach with a strong personal brand in Latin America wants to reach European corporations but lacks local networks.

- She identifies a mid-size consulting firm in Spain that specializes in digital transformation but feels weak in the human and emotional dimension.
- They co-create a program that combines technology change with conscious leadership practices.
- The partner manages corporate sales, logistics and client relationships; she focuses on design, facilitation and training their consultants in her methodology.
- Revenue is shared based on agreed percentages, and both brands appear together in materials.

After two years, the alliance becomes a main channel for European business, while she keeps direct clients in Latin America.

4.1.4. Exercise – Alliance Opportunity Canvas

Objective: Identify and qualify potential global alliances.

- Roles involved: You (founder), a strategic advisor or mentor, and if possible one person responsible for business development.
- Inputs: List of potential partners, your current offerings, markets you want to reach.
- Suggested time: 2 sessions of 90 minutes.

Steps:

1. Brainstorm potential alliance types (consultancies, platforms, schools, NGOs, corporate universities).
2. For each, note what you would bring and what you expect in return.
3. Evaluate fit using criteria such as purpose alignment, complementarity, trust potential and market access.
4. Prioritize 3–5 alliance opportunities with high potential.
5. Use the template below to document your analysis and next steps.

Deliverable: Alliance Opportunity Canvas for prioritized partners.

4.1.5. Template – Alliance Opportunity Canvas

Potential Partner	Shared Purpose / Strategic Fit	Your Contribution (Methods, Brand, Network)	Partner Contribution (Access, Scale, Assets)	Priority (H/M/L)	First Contact Action & Date
Mid-size digital transformation consultancy in Spain	Combine human transformation with tech change for mid-large companies	Leadership methodology, retreats design, facilitation in Spanish	Corporate relationships in Europe, salesforce, local market knowledge	High	Schedule exploratory call with managing partner – 10/09

4.1.6. Checklist & KPIs

Checklist – Global Strategic Alliances

- ☐ I have defined why I want alliances (beyond "more revenue").
- ☐ I know what unique value I bring to an alliance.
- ☐ I have a shortlist of partners with clear criteria and priorities.
- ☐ Roles, responsibilities and revenue sharing are explicit and written.
- ☐ There is a simple dashboard to review alliance performance.

Suggested KPIs

- Number of active strategic alliances.
- Revenue generated through alliances vs. direct clients.
- Number of countries reached via partners.
- Client satisfaction scores for alliance-delivered programs.
- Renewal or expansion rate of joint projects.

Subtopic 2 – Participation in Fairs and Events

4.2.1. Definition

Fairs, conferences and business events are spaces where companies, providers and experts meet to exchange knowledge, present innovations and explore collaboration opportunities.

For a purpose-driven coach, events can become:

- A visibility platform to position your message.
- A relationship accelerator with decision makers.
- A testing lab to observe market needs and reactions.

The risk is attending events reactively, without a clear strategy, returning home with brochures and fatigue but no tangible business.

4.2.2. Practical framework

Think of your event strategy in three phases:

1. Before the event – Design and preparation
   - Clarify your objectives: leads, alliances, speaking opportunities, market insights.
   - Select events where your buyer persona is truly present.
   - Prepare key messages, materials and offers suitable for corporate conversations.
   - Schedule meetings in advance when possible.
2. During the event – Presence and connection
   - Practice concise positioning: who you are, what problem you solve, with what results.
   - Focus on quality conversations, not quantity of contacts.
   - Take notes immediately after each interaction.
   - Observe which topics generate curiosity or resistance.
3. After the event – Follow-up and learning
   - Contact each relevant person within 48–72 hours.
   - Offer something of value (for example, a brief diagnostic call or resource) rather than a generic sales pitch.
   - Update your CRM or contact tracker.
   - Reflect on what worked and what should change next time.

4.2.3. Caso hipotético

Caso hipotético: A coach specializing in conscious leadership participates in a large HR conference.

- Prior to the event, she identifies 12 target companies and sends personalized messages proposing short coffee meetings during the conference.
- She prepares a one-page document describing her corporate programs and a short story about a previous client (keeping confidentiality).
- During the event, instead of visiting every exhibitor, she focuses on pre-scheduled meetings and a breakout session where she is a panelist.
- After the event, she sends tailored follow-up messages with a simple offer: a 60-minute virtual session for the leadership team to explore their current challenges.

Within three months, two companies move forward with paid pilot programs.

4.2.4. Exercise – Event Strategy Planner

Objective: Plan your participation in one key event with clear outcomes.

- Roles involved: You, plus the person supporting logistics/marketing (if you have one).
- Inputs: Event agenda, list of speakers, sponsors and participants (if available).
- Suggested time: 2–3 hours.

Steps:

1. Define success in concrete terms: number of qualified leads, alliances explored, speaking opportunities, etc.
2. Identify target companies or individuals and plan outreach.
3. Prepare your materials and key messages.
4. Design your daily schedule during the event (sessions, networking, rest).
5. Plan your post-event follow-up process.

Deliverable: Completed Event Strategy Planner, including calendar and responsibilities.

4.2.5. Template – Event Strategy Planner

Event & Date	Objective	Target Contacts / Organizations	Pre-Event Actions	Follow-Up Offer	Responsible
Regional HR & Leadership Summit – 22/10	Generate 5 qualified leads for corporate leadership programs	HR directors of mid-size tech firms; heads of learning at large banks	Send 15 personalized invitations for coffee; prepare one-page program overview	60-minute virtual diagnostic session for leadership team	Founder + Marketing Assistant

4.2.6. Checklist & KPIs

Checklist – Fairs and Events

- ☐ I participate only in events where my buyer persona is present.
- ☐ Each event has specific business and learning objectives.
- ☐ I prepare my positioning and materials in advance.
- ☐ Follow-up is structured and timely, not improvised.
- ☐ I review the return on investment and adjust my event calendar.

Suggested KPIs

- Number of qualified leads generated per event.
- Conversion rate from event contacts to meetings, proposals and clients.
- Revenue associated with events within 6–12 months.
- Cost per qualified lead (including tickets, travel and time).
- Number of speaking or panel opportunities obtained.

Subtopic 3 – Exploration of New Markets

4.3.1. Definition

Exploring new markets means systematically evaluating countries, industries or segments where your services could create value, and deciding where and how to enter based on clear criteria.

For a coach or spiritual leader, "new markets" can be:

- New geographies (for example, moving from national to regional presence).
- New sectors (such as tech, finance, healthcare).
- New levels inside organizations (for example, from individual executives to full leadership teams).

Exploration is not random; it is guided curiosity plus structured analysis.

4.3.2. Practical framework

1. Define your core strengths and non-negotiables
   o Which types of transformation do you facilitate best (for example, leadership in uncertainty, cultural change, team coherence)?
   o What values and boundaries guide where you will and will not work?
2. Generate a long list of potential markets
   o Brainstorm geographies and sectors where the needs you address are visible.
   o Consider language, cultural affinity and regulatory environment.
3. Screen using simple criteria
   o Size and growth potential.
   o Existing relationships or ambassadors.
   o Level of fit with your approach (for example, openness to introspection and human-centered work).
4. Select priority markets for deeper exploration
   o Choose 2–3 markets with high potential and manageable risk.
5. Run experiments
   o Test with low-risk pilots: webinars, partnerships with local players, small retreats, online series.
   o Learn from feedback and refine your positioning.

4.3.3. Caso hipotético

Caso hipotético: A coach with a strong presence in Latin American family businesses considers entering the financial sector in another region.

- She identifies that banks in a specific country are under pressure to transform their culture to adapt to digital channels and AI.
- She maps local regulations, typical leadership profiles and potential partners.
- She starts with a free, invitation-only online session for HR directors and transformation leaders, co-hosted with a respected local consultant.
- From the participants' reactions and questions, she refines her value proposition for that sector and decides to invest in a full pilot program with one bank.

This careful process reduces risk and increases relevance.

4.3.4. Exercise – Market Screening Matrix

Objective: Prioritize 2–3 new markets for experimentation.

- Roles involved: You, plus a strategic advisor or business development partner.
- Inputs: List of markets, basic information about each (can be qualitative and based on experience).
- Suggested time: 2 hours.

Steps:

1. Define 4–5 screening criteria (for example, demand potential, relationship base, value fit, entry complexity).
2. Rate each market qualitatively (1–5) for each criterion.
3. Discuss results and adjust scores if needed.
4. Select top markets and define first experiments.

Deliverable: Completed Market Screening Matrix and list of experiments.

4.3.5. Template – Market Screening Matrix

Market (Country / Sector / Segment)	Demand Potential (1–5)	Relationship Base (1–5)	Value Fit (1–5)	Entry Complexity (1–5, where 5 = very complex)	Priority (H/M/L)	First Experiment
Mid-size technology firms in Mexico	4	3	5	2	High	Co-host webinar on "Leading AI transformation with consciousness" with local tech association

Market (Country / Sector / Segment)	Demand Potential (1–5)	Relationship Base (1–5)	Value Fit (1–5)	Entry Complexity (1–5, where 5 = very complex)	Priority (H/M/L)	First Experiment

4.3.6. Checklist & KPIs

Checklist – Exploration of New Markets

- ☐ I have clarified my core strengths and non-negotiables.
- ☐ I use explicit criteria to evaluate markets, not only intuition.
- ☐ I run small experiments before making large investments.
- ☐ I document learnings from each experiment.
- ☐ I know which markets I will pause, continue or intensify.

Suggested KPIs

- Number of new markets explored per year.
- Number of experiments run and their outcomes.
- Revenue generated from new markets vs. existing ones.
- Time from initial exploration to first paid engagement.
- Conversion rate from experimental offers to ongoing contracts.

Subtopic 4 – Digitalization of Commercial Processes

4.4.1. Definition

Digitalization of commercial processes means using digital tools and platforms to support the entire client journey—from first contact to long-term relationship—so that your business can scale with quality and consistency.

For a coach or spiritual leader, this can include:

- An integrated CRM for managing contacts and opportunities.
- Online booking and payment systems.
- Automated but human-sounding email sequences.
- Digital brochures, videos and case descriptions.
- Virtual delivery of programs with robust interaction.

The objective is not to become impersonal but to free time and energy for the conversations where your presence is irreplaceable.

4.4.2. Practical framework

1. Map your current commercial journey
   o Awareness → Interest → Conversation → Proposal → Contract → Delivery → Follow-up → Renewal / Referral.
2. Identify manual bottlenecks and risks
   o Lost emails, forgotten follow-ups, inconsistent proposals, weak documentation.
3. Choose digital tools pragmatically
   o Simple CRM or contact trackers.
   o Scheduling apps that sync with calendars.
   o Document templates stored in shared drives.
   o Collaboration platforms for program delivery.
4. Design standard processes
   o Clear steps, responsibilities and timeframes for each stage.
   o Templates for proposals, agreements, onboarding emails and feedback forms.
5. Monitor and refine
   o Use dashboards to see pipeline volume, conversion rates and cycle times.
   o Adjust processes as your business grows.

4.4.3. Caso hipotético

Caso hipotético: A coach who has grown through referrals finds herself overwhelmed: she tracks leads in her memory and in disconnected spreadsheets.

- She decides to implement a simple CRM.
- All contacts from events, alliances and past programs are consolidated and categorized (type of client, stage, potential).
- Email templates are created for initial outreach, proposal follow-up and post-program check-ins.
- A virtual assistant helps update the system weekly.

Within months, she has clearer visibility of her pipeline, follows up more consistently and converts more opportunities without increasing working hours.

4.4.4. Exercise – Commercial Journey Digitalization Map

Objective: Identify where digitalization will have the most impact in your sales and client management process.

- Roles involved: You, plus whoever supports operations/administration and, if available, a technology-savvy collaborator.
- Inputs: Overview of current tools, spreadsheets, email flows and forms.
- Suggested time: 2–3 hours.

Steps:

1. Draw your current commercial journey and list all steps.
2. For each step, note the tools you use, manual tasks and common issues.
3. Identify 3–5 high-impact opportunities for digitalization.
4. Define a simple project for each opportunity.

Deliverable: Digitalization roadmap for your commercial processes.

4.4.5. Template – Commercial Process Digitalization Roadmap

Stage of Client Journey	Current Practice / Tools	Pain Points	Digitalization Initiative	Owner	Target Date
Follow-up after initial meeting	Manual notes in notebook; email sent "when there is time"	Lost opportunities; inconsistent messages	Implement simple CRM with follow-up reminders and email templates	Founder + Virtual Assistant	30/09

4.4.6. Checklist & KPIs

Checklist – Digitalization of Commercial Processes

- ☐ I have mapped my full commercial journey.
- ☐ I know which tasks are repetitive and can be supported by tools.
- ☐ Key templates (emails, proposals, contracts) are standardized.
- ☐ Data about clients and opportunities is stored securely and centrally.
- ☐ I monitor basic commercial metrics regularly.

Suggested KPIs

- Number of qualified opportunities in the pipeline.
- Conversion rate from first meeting to signed contract.
- Average sales cycle length.
- Percentage of follow-ups completed on time.
- Revenue per client and client retention rate.

Subtopic 5 – Portfolio Diversification

4.5.1. Definition

Portfolio diversification is the intentional design of different products and services that address the needs of multiple segments or entry points, while remaining coherent with your core expertise and brand.

For a coach or spiritual leader, this might include:

- Keynote talks, workshops, and multi-month transformation programs.
- Executive retreats, group programs and digital courses.
- Assessment tools, books, toolkits or licensing of your methodology.

Diversification is not about scattering your energy; it is about designing a ladder of value for different clients and budgets.

4.5.2. Practical framework

1. Clarify your core transformation
   - What shift do you help people and organizations make (for example, from fear-based leadership to conscious leadership)?
2. Map your current offerings
   - List everything you currently sell, with objectives, audience, format, duration and price.
3. Identify gaps and overlaps
   - Are there simple entry offers to test working together?
   - Are there deeper programs for long-term transformation?
   - Are there products that drain energy but add little value?
4. Design a coherent portfolio
   - Low-intensity, low-risk offers (webinars, talks).
   - Mid-level offers (short programs, assessments).
   - High-intensity offers (full transformation journeys, licensing).
5. Test and iterate
   - Pilot new offers with selected clients.
   - Collect feedback and adjust.
   - Phase out offers that no longer fit your strategy.

4.5.3. Caso hipotético

Caso hipotético: A coach offers mainly individual sessions but wants to work at organizational level.

JavierSimpleMan™

Collection: Irreplaceable in the AI Era™ — "Because leadership begins with you"

- She designs a portfolio with three levels:
    1. Entry: 90-minute inspirational talk for leadership teams.
    2. Mid-level: 3-month group program for managers, combining workshops and coaching circles.
    3. Deep: 12-month culture transformation journey, co-designed with HR and leadership.
- She adds a digital toolkit with practices and reflections that can be licensed to clients.

Over time, talks open doors, group programs create trust, and a portion of those clients move into deep transformation journeys.

4.5.4. Exercise – Portfolio Ladder Design

Objective: Design or refine a coherent portfolio that supports expansion.

- Roles involved: You, plus someone who understands finance/operations (if available).
- Inputs: List of current offers, client feedback, revenue by product.
- Suggested time: 3 hours (can be split into two sessions).

Steps:

1. Place your current offers on a simple ladder: entry, mid, deep.
2. Identify where you are overloaded or under-represented.
3. Brainstorm new offers or adjustments that align with your core transformation.
4. Estimate effort, price and revenue potential.
5. Prioritize 1–2 portfolio experiments for the next quarter.

Deliverable: Updated portfolio map with priorities and timelines.

4.5.5. Template – Portfolio Ladder Map

Offer Name	Level (Entry / Mid / Deep)	Target Client	Transformation Promise	Format & Duration	Price Range	Priority (H/M/L)
Conscious Leadership Kick-off Session	Entry	Executive teams starting transformation programs	Experience a first, safe space to explore leadership in times of AI and disruption	90-minute interactive session (online or onsite)	Medium	High

Offer Name	Level (Entry / Mid / Deep)	Target Client	Transformation Promise	Format & Duration	Price Range	Priority (H/M/L)

4.5.6. Checklist & KPIs

Checklist – Portfolio Diversification

- ☐ I can explain my core transformation in one clear sentence.
- ☐ My portfolio has offers at different levels of depth and price.
- ☐ Each offer has a defined target, promise and format.
- ☐ I regularly review which offers to strengthen, adjust or retire.
- ☐ My portfolio supports alliances, events, new markets and digital channels.

Suggested KPIs

- Revenue by product line and by level (entry/mid/deep).
- Conversion rate from entry offers to deeper programs.
- Profit margin per product or service.
- Number of markets in which each offer is present.
- Client satisfaction by offer type.

6. Global Templates and Tools

6.1. Impact × Effort Prioritization Rubric

Use this rubric to decide which initiatives (alliances, events, market experiments, digitalization projects, new offers) to tackle first.

Initiative	Impact (1–5)	Effort (1–5)	Priority (High / Medium / Low)	Responsible	Next Milestone	Date
Launch alliance pilot with European consulting partner	5	4	High	Founder	Sign memorandum of understanding	20/10

6.2. RACI Matrix – Business Expansion Program

Activity	R (Responsible)	A (Accountable)	C (Consulted)	I (Informed)	Deliverable	Date
Define 202X–202Y business expansion roadmap (alliances, markets, portfolio)	Business Development Lead / Founder	CEO / Main Partner	Finance, Legal, Marketing	Core team	Expansion roadmap approved	30/11

6.3. Expansion KPIs Dashboard

KPI	Definition	Target	Baseline	Frequency	Owner	Data Source
International revenue share	Percentage of total revenue coming from clients outside home country	30%	12%	Quarterly	Business Development Lead	CRM + finance reports

6.4. Business Expansion Risk Map

Risk	Probability (H/M/L)	Impact (H/M/L)	Mitigation	Owner	Status
Entering a new market with a partner whose values are misaligned	Medium	High	Conduct cultural due-diligence; start with small pilots; include exit clauses	Founder	Under review

6.5. 30–60–90 Day Plan for Business Expansion

Horizon	Objective	Key Actions	Responsible	Indicators	Deliverable
30 days	Clarify expansion priorities and current portfolio status	Run internal workshop using this ebook; complete alliance, event, market and portfolio templates	Founder + Core Team	Workshop held; decisions documented	Expansion Priorities Document
60 days	Launch first pilots in alliances, events and digitalization	Formalize at least one alliance; participate in one strategic event; implement basic CRM	Business Development Lead	Number of pilots launched; CRM in use	Pilot Portfolio Report
90 days	Review pilots and refine roadmap	Analyze results; adjust KPIs and investments; communicate next-year plan	Founder + Leadership Team	KPIs updated; roadmap validated	Business Expansion Roadmap 1.0

7. Summary and Next Steps

7.1. Key messages

- Your work deserves a bigger stage. Expanding business opportunities is a way to serve more people and organizations with integrity.
- Global strategic alliances allow you to combine your depth with others' reach and infrastructure.
- Fairs and events become powerful only when you prepare, connect with intention and follow up.
- Exploring new markets requires structured curiosity, not blind jumps.
- Digitalizing commercial processes frees your energy for what only you can do: holding transformational spaces.
- Diversifying your portfolio builds a ladder of value that serves different client needs and budgets without diluting your message.

Expansion is not a single bet. It is a sequence of experiments, learning cycles and conscious decisions.

7.2. Next-steps checklist

Use the checklist below to move from reflection to action.

Next Step	Responsible	Deadline	Status (Not started / In progress / Done)	Observations
Choose 2 priority alliances and schedule initial conversations	Founder	15/09	Not started	Use Alliance Opportunity Canvas for preparation

8. Self-Assessment – Expanding Business Opportunities with Integrity

Rate each statement from 1 to 5:
1 = Strongly disagree, 2 = Disagree, 3 = Neutral, 4 = Agree, 5 = Strongly agree.

1. I have a clear strategy for using alliances as part of my growth.
2. I can describe what I uniquely contribute to a strategic partner.
3. I plan my participation in fairs and events with concrete objectives and follow-up actions.
4. At least one recent event has generated qualified leads or alliances.
5. I use explicit criteria to decide which new markets to explore.
6. I currently run small, low-risk experiments to test markets before committing major resources.
7. I have mapped my full commercial journey from first contact to renewal.
8. Key parts of my commercial process are supported by digital tools (for example, CRM, scheduling, templates).
9. I track basic commercial metrics such as pipeline volume and conversion rates.
10. My portfolio of services is coherent and aligned with my core transformation.
11. I offer different levels of depth and price, allowing clients to progress over time.
12. I periodically review which products or services to strengthen, adjust or discontinue.
13. There is an explicit roadmap for business expansion in the next 12–24 months.
14. I regularly review expansion KPIs with my team or advisors.
15. I feel that my growth plans are aligned with my personal values and life rhythm.

8.1. Calculating and interpreting your score

Step 1 – Calculate

- Add the scores of the 15 items.
- Divide the total by 15 to obtain an average between 1 and 5.

Optionally, calculate sub-scores:

- Alliances & events: items 1–4.
- Market exploration: items 5–6.
- Digitalization & metrics: items 7–9.
- Portfolio: items 10–12.
- Governance & alignment: items 13–15.

Step 2 – Interpret

- 1.0–2.4 – Opportunistic growth
  - o Expansion depends mainly on intuition and isolated opportunities.

- o Recommendation: Start by mapping your current situation and designing one simple pilot in alliances, events or digitalization.
- 2.5–3.7 – Emerging strategy
  - o Several practices are in place, but they are not yet integrated.
  - o Recommendation: Use the templates in this ebook to build an explicit roadmap and align your team or partners.
- 3.8–5.0 – Conscious expansion
  - o You manage growth as a strategic, values-aligned process.
  - o Recommendation: Deepen your analytics, refine your alliances and use your experience to mentor others who are beginning this journey.

Revisit this self-assessment every 6–12 months to track your evolution.
