

Karmalist Terms & Privacy Policy

Karmalist, powered by Woodenshark LLC, is committed to fostering a transparent and secure environment where users can engage in social rating and feedback. Our platform is designed to enhance social connectivity by transforming the traditional address book into a dynamic social graph, enriched with karma ratings. Herein are detailed our Terms of Service and Privacy Policy, reflecting our dedication to user privacy, data control, and innovative social interactions.

Terms of Service

About Our Services:

- Minimum Age: Users must be at least 13 years old, with higher age requirements in some countries.
- Account Registration: Utilizes phone numbers for registration, with verification via text.
- Privacy & Data Handling: Emphasizes user privacy with no monetization of personal data. Karmalist accesses device contact lists to enable app features but does not store this information on servers.

Using Karmalist:

- Users are expected to adhere to our Terms and use our Services responsibly.
- Karmalist facilitates user interactions through karma ratings.
- Account security is paramount, with users encouraged to maintain the confidentiality of their account details.

User Rights & Responsibilities:

- Users retain ownership of their data.
- Intellectual property rights are respected, with any use of Karmalist's IP requiring prior written permission.

Disclaimers and Limitations:

- The Services are offered "AS IS" with disclaimers on warranties and limitations on liability.

Resolving Disputes and Ending Terms:

- Disputes to be resolved within specified legal jurisdictions.
- Terms are subject to change, with continued use of the Services signifying agreement to updated terms.

Privacy Policy

Information Collection & Use:

- Minimal personal information is collected for account setup and functionality, with a strong focus on user consent for data sharing.
- Contact information from devices is used for app functionality, enhancing the user experience without compromising privacy.

Data Sharing & Disclosure:

- Karmalist engages with third parties for essential services but ensures user data is protected and shared only with user consent.

- Users have the ability to control, manage, and revoke data access, emphasizing Karmalist's commitment to data empowerment and privacy.

Updates to Privacy Policy:

- The Privacy Policy is subject to updates, with significant changes communicated to users.