Vibranium--what can't it do?

Pretty expensive for a normal. I feel like the claws should do less damage, yet we see them slice through the Reaper's sword, and Black Widow's excuse to Baron Strucker depends on the idea that one energy dart can knock someone out. I tried to give the costume Absorption that added to the Energy Blast, but couldn't make that work. So I set the level at the middle, and slicing the sword is use of the "Our technology is more advanced" quality.

The GM can make use of the "Vibranium--what can't it do?" quality to compel explosions as the vibranium absorbs energy and becomes unsafe.
