The Mission of SEAC is to:

- Represent the interests of district learners with disabilities from birth to age 22.
- Advise the special education department on parent involvement, current issues, program development and department priorities.
- Serve as an advocate for high-quality special education programs.
- To Promote communication among family, school and community.

Meetings are open to all parents or caregivers of students receiving special education services in ECCS. SEAC acts as an advisory council to the district on behalf of students receiving special education services. Guardians and caregivers are critical advocates for all students and play a significant part in their future success.
