What To Post

Are you a student of the YES SUPPLY METHOD or past graduate? Here's content for you:

It helps them design their ideal day, discover their strengths, and find out what kind of coaching practice would fulfill them the most!

Coaches can charge $2000+ for their programs and even $500+ for a single session. If there are people in your life who are wanting to help others, make a difference, and become abundant, it's an amazing vocation!

All you have to do to get your unique affiliate link is go to your affiliate account which you can find at yessupply.co/ysmpartner

Once you log in, click on the tab that says 'Products', and then click on the product that is called 'YES SUPPLY COACH', within there, you can see all the links that you can use that bring people to the different marketing pages that we have set up!

Go here for a tutorial on how to find your links.

If you have any questions about being a Partner, earning from promoting or telling your friends about what we do, email our team at help@yessupply.co!

Create your OWN content

We've provided some incredible posts for you to share the YES SUPPLY Method that you can simply copy + paste.

However, I believe that a message from your SOUL resonates the most deeply. You are here for a reason- to speak what's on your heart, and I believe that if you speak about the tools that you've learned, the shifts you've had, and the TRUE power of your community's power and energy and then you generously share where you're learning all this stuff people will be SO excited and take action.

Post Ideas

Here's a few ways to casually insert your affiliates into your posts:

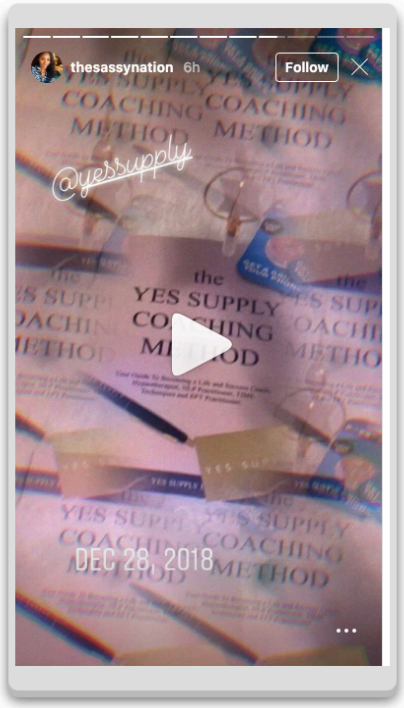

1. Unboxing

When you receive your packages and you are sharing how excited you are to start. #affiliateidea

Many of you are receiving your YES SUPPLY METHOD packages in the mail.

So fun fact about me, I actually get ridiculously giddy when you all share your unboxing experiences with me so I would LOVE it when you get your packages you open them up and share with your online community and tag @yessupply. As you do so I can celebrate with you and shout you out!!! You can see some on my Instagram now @yessupply and many people actually grow their followings and attract clients when I tag you!

Also! When you're sharing online your excitement for starting this new program with your audience, you can tell them about it, how much you love it, and use your YES SUPPLY METHOD partner/ affiliate link and ask your community if they want to take the training with you! A great way to bring in passive income from sharing your life online!

You can simply say 'swipe up' to learn more about the training- and then place your links. Their device they are using will be cookied and if they make a purchase from that device, you will receive the affiliate commission.

2. Offer A Bonus

Offering a BONUS! If you have your own digital products, you can say "for anyone who signs up for YES SUPPLY METHOD using my link, I'm going to offer a free bonus of _____"

Simply ask them to ENSURE they are clicking your link and purchasing from the same device, and then when they submit their receipt to you that they purchased you can give them a bonus (I would only offer this for pay-in-full so that you can ensure you're receiving your full affiliate commission and they pay all the way through the term).

Creative Bonus ideas:

- Info products that you already offer (workbooks, a masterclass, etc)
- A mini course

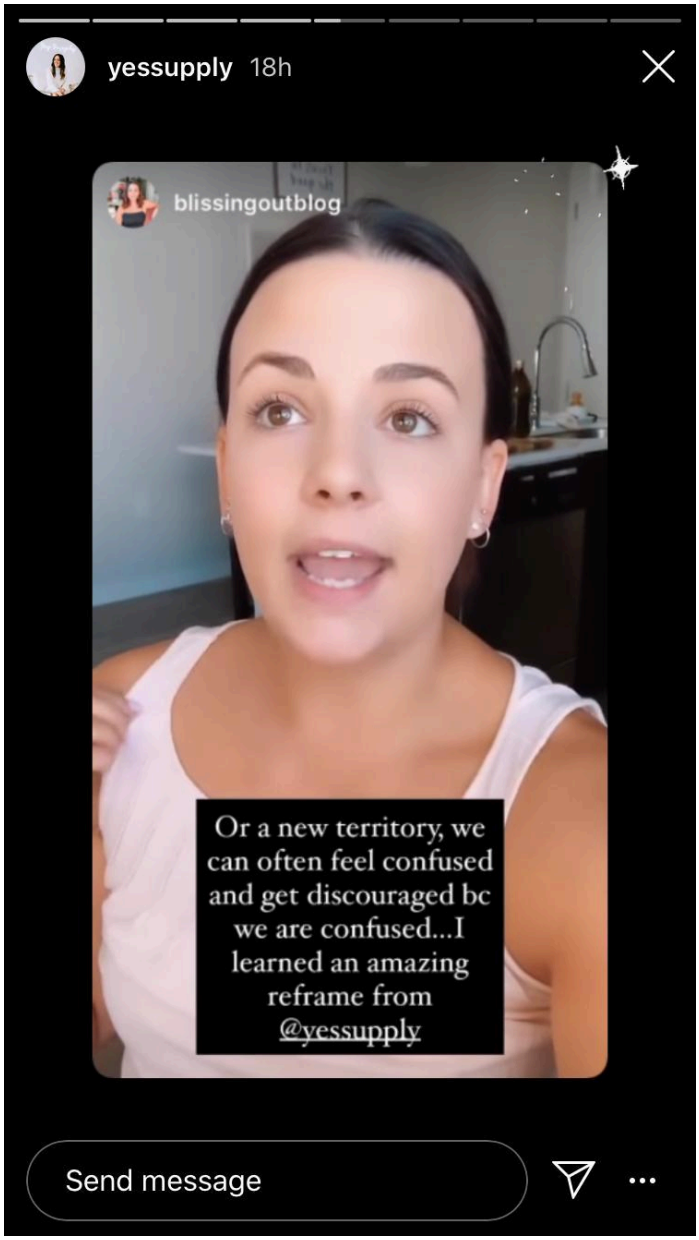

- A 20 min Q&A call with you
- A single session/breakthrough session with you (this is also great if you're just starting out and you want practice the techniques and collect testimonials)
- A recorded meditation
- A hypnosis session
- An EFT Tapping session (live or pre-recorded)
- Journal Prompts
- A goal planning session

3. Share what you learn

Talking about a technique or a powerful message.

If you do lives, or stories and you are sharing a technique or a transformation with your followers, you can mention that you learnt something in the YES SUPPLY METHOD and provide a link for them to learn more in the masterclass, 5 day challenge or head straight to the sign up page!

This is how our student Katie, Manifestation & Mindset Coach, shared a powerful refram she learnt in the YES SUPPLY Method.

4. Speak to aspiring coaches

Giving advice for new coaches:

There are SOOO MANY people out there who want to become coaches, so posting a link giving advice for new coaches is perfect.

Love this YES SUPPLY METHOD affiliate idea by Liz White! What a great way to drive people to the YSM and make a passive income! Liz is one of our top affiliates this year!

She shared business advice for new coaches and added a swipe up to learn more! (if you don't have the swipe up you can add a link!) 🙂

Thanks Liz! 🙏🏽

5. Target hot leads

Search for people already looking for certifications

Our amazing coach Kendall has shared an AMAZING tip that has helped her bring in a ton of affiliate sales. Once a week, she searches in Facebook groups for words like “Life Coach” and “Coach Certification”. She finds posts where people are asking about the best coaching certifications and then she shares her affiliate links.

She also follows up with conversations with them to help them feel trusting and inspired to work with YES SUPPLY. Thank you so much for your support, Kendall, and great job earning so much passive income with us!
