Smart Start Resource Exploration Graphic Organizer

What is it?	Who could use it?	How would you use it?
Describe the resource. Consider the following questions as you review the resource: ● What subjects or topics does it cover? ● What are its key features or components? ● What are the main learning objectives?	Consider the following questions as you review the resource: ● What grade levels is it appropriate for? ● What student populations would benefit from this resource? ● Are there any specific learning needs that this resource addresses? (e.g., ELL, special education) ● Could it be used for individual, small group, or whole class instruction?	Consider the following questions as you review the resource: ● How could you integrate it into your existing curriculum? ● What activities or projects could you design around this resource? ● How would you assess student learning using this resource? ● What are some potential modifications or adaptations you could make to better suit your students' needs?