CNFans Helper does not collect, transmit, or share any personal user data.

The extension only reads the current CNFans.com product page URL to inject a referral code (if the user consents) and to remove page popups. No personal data is accessed, stored, or transmitted. All actions happen locally in the browser via `chrome.storage.local`.

No external servers are used. No information is logged or shared.

If you have questions, you may contact the developer via the Chrome Web Store listing.
