

Natalia Martino graduated from Winnebago High School in Winnebago, IL. She was the IHSA Regional and Sectional Champion in the 2020 Cross Country season, and she placed 8th individually and 1st as a team at the Shazam Cross Country Championships. While completing her high school coursework and competing in Cross Country and Track and Field, Natalia also earned an Associate of Science Degree through Rock Valley College. She will attend Portland State University in the fall and major in Biology with hopes to enter the medical field. Of the impact running has had on her life, Natalia wrote, "Running on the Cross Country and Track teams has meant everything to me and I would not be the person I am today without those experiences."
