(i) As Loup breaks the different seals, the persona's of Leora gain the ability to have sex with Loup, but not the main persona.

(b) Leora can't have Loups child, this is also driving her crazy

(c) Something has always kept Loup and Leora from being together, each previous life a different reason.

(i) The other personalities themselves will keep Leora from Loup until they can be with Loup.

(ii) They will also eventually drive her crazy.

(d) The curse prevents her from fusing with her final soul fragment, the fragment of the Goddess. The seals also prevent her from fully fusing her other soul fragments.

(i) After the first time having sex with Loup, Leora's past personalities began to exert more control. Attempting to fix seals themselves.

(ii) In order to finally break the cycle and defeat Shar, Leora must free and fuse with her final past life.

(a) Faera is bound to the Dawn blade, Loup's weapon during the war.
(b) Nell is bound to the Efreet King's Blade, the weapon used by Sharikas during the war.
(c) They both were once one weapon, known as the Terminus blade. They are both aware of this.
(d) In order to be fused together again, they will need to go through the Terminus forge within the Sun Needle.
(2) Corrupted Nell
(a) What Nell does not remember is that they were not always a man and not always a demon blade. They used to be female and were known as the dusk blade before being corrupted by Shar.

(3) Origins
    (a) Both Faera and Nell were created separately originally.
        (i) Faera was created by Arcasia as the dawn blade as a gift for the champion
        (ii) Nell was created by Malika as the dusk blade
    (b) When the blades were presented to the champion, he did not know which one to choose so he smashed them together to create the Termanus Blade.
    (c) It was only after the Champion smashed them together did the new weapon become an Ashi.
    (d) They would be separated into two again when the goddess Arcasia tricked Malika into traveling to the demon realm. Arcasia would split them in order to remove the dusk blade along with Malika from the world, as she believed the champion only needed the Dawn blade.
