

"The Training and Technology Group of the Association for Talent Development Orange County Chapter(ATD-OC) has been devoting their activities to create an online training program that will serve as an on-demand learning tool for all nonprofits that are seeking to recruit volunteers. The training will give nonprofits looking to fill volunteer opportunities the ability to learn how to post to our Volunteer calendar. It will also alleviate staff time that was utilized twice a month to run the training as a live webinar. By making this training more self-paced and accessible at any time, nonprofit professionals won't have to wait to be trained before they can post, and will be able to return to specific learning modules at any time should they need a refresher; something that was not possible when the training had to be led by an instructor via the webinar format. We are grateful for this group of professionals coming together with the passion and desire to make this training effective for the sake of our nonprofit clients. It has not been an easy process with systems changing, minimal budgets, not to mention that all the professionals within the group have full-time jobs. OneOC wants to honor them for their time and commitment to the project."

Victoria Torres

Director of Professional and Organizational Development, OneOC

