What do you wear in rainy weather?

How to Choose Rainy Weather Outfits?

Select waterproof materials

How to dress for rainy season? Of course, clothing made from waterproof materials can save you from the rain. Not only does it give a fresh, impressive look, but the waterproof items will also keep you warm on a rainy day.

This is one of the best rainy weather outfits used by most fashionistas during the rainy season.

Light-colored clothing

Priority is given to items with bright and eye-catching colors. However, pastel-colored items should not be listed in rainy weather outfit ideas. These outfits will provide you with a dull look.

Brightly colored items give the wearer a fresh style and partly bring positive energy.

Wear accessories

Not everyone loves clothes with bright colors. It's okay to choose dark-colored items, but consider choosing an outstanding accessory for yourself.

This accessory will become a mischievous highlight, bringing elegance to your rainy day weather outfits.

Bring a cross bag or backpack

Cross-bags are one of the essential parts of the best rain outfits that will give you a cleaner, more dynamic look on rainy days. Especially in the case that your hand is busy holding an umbrella.

Likewise, the backpack will also give you a dynamic look and still look trendy. Special backpacks are suitable for simple yet stylish outfits.

What Fabric Works Best for Rainy Days?

Which fabrics are the most suitable for casual rainy-day outfit ideas? You should consider materials that can maintain your warmth, such as polyester, nylon, or silk. Alpaca and Merino wool are also great options.

However, while some of these materials are water-resistant, they might not always be waterproof.

Generally, look for something breathable and quick-drying to help regulate your temperature and prevent moisture. You may also want fabrics that are waterproof or water-resistant to protect yourself from the rain.

Which fabrics are suitable for rainy weather outfits?

On the other hand, here fabrics to steer clear of in rainy days:

- Velvet: It has a greater capacity to retain water. If you unfortunately get wet wearing velvet, the possibility it will dry off in a few hours is low.
- Leather: While leather is an enduring and waterproof fabric, the treatment can harm leather goods if it gets wet.
- Wool: It is not recommended for rainy days, as it starts smelling musty when exposed to damp air.
- Denim: It becomes heavier when wet. If soaked, you may need two days to dry off your pair of heavy jeans completely.
