

You will be responsible for the management of day to day operations of the company, including production, shipping and fulfillment, customer service, inventory management and vendor management.

- Set up processes to ensure optimal efficiency across enterprise operations
- Oversee operations of all categories
- Provide operational metrics and analysis, reporting infrastructures, and processes to optimize the cost and performance
- Profitability, P&L and growth responsibility Q on Q Proven experience in building processes in consumer product businesses (preferably fashion/D2C)
- Preference to women candidates