

CURRENT:

C&H Electrical Contractors are a family run business, established in 1978. We are full NICEIC Approved Contractors, NICEIC Domestic Installer Approved and are members of the Electrical Safety Register. We carry out all work for electrical installations for domestic, commercial and industrial. All work is carried out and certified to BS7671 as amended and completed to the highest of standards.

We are based in the Fetcham area and cover the whole of Surrey. All of our staff are direct employees and are fully qualified approved electricians. As a member of the NICEIC and Electrical Safety Register, we are annually reviewed and inspected by the NICEIC to verify our standard and compliance with current regulations and safety requirements.

We try to recognize our clients' requirements and interpret these in a cost effective solution.
