Subject: Protect North Carolina Small Healthcare Practices in Tax Reform

Dear Senator _____,

As a North Carolina chiropractic physician and small business owner, I am writing to express serious concern about a provision in the House-passed tax package (often referred to as the "One Big Beautiful Bill") that would eliminate the ability of certain small businesses, including healthcare providers like myself, to deduct state and local taxes (SALT) at the entity level.

This change unfairly targets Specified Service Trades and Businesses (SSTBs) — including chiropractic physicians, medical doctors, physical therapists, pharmacists, CPAs, attorneys, and many others — by subjecting us to double taxation and removing a vital tax benefit that supports patient care, job creation, and practice investment in our communities.

Large corporations would still receive full SALT deductions under the proposal, creating an uneven playing field that hurts (state name) small healthcare practices and the patients we serve. This shift is contrary to the original intent of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, which sought to create parity across business structures.

I respectfully urge you to oppose this provision and work to ensure that small businesses like mine are treated fairly in any final tax reform package.

Thank you for your leadership and for protecting the small business owners in your state.

Sincerely,
