

The EA Hub Needs Volunteers!

The EA Hub (eahub.org) is looking for tech volunteers to help on specific projects including new features such as EA Chats, improvements to existing features and figuring out how to get more users to the Hub!

What is the Hub?

The EA Hub is a 100% volunteer-run project that connects EA community members to each other and local groups. The current Hub features include:

- Community Directory: A global directory for the EA community
- Groups Directory: The golden source of information on local EA groups.

As a volunteer, you can build your portfolio of EA-aligned dev work, be part of a collaborative project and meet other EAs working on meta projects.
