

Actual, Relative, Overall Grades inside Edgenuity (and PowerSchool)

The actual grade is the grade that you should reference for most of the semester because it takes into account scores and pacing. (38.2%)

The relative grade shows what grade the student would get if he / she stopped working at this point. (36.9%) This will be the grade I use for the final grade, which should match the actual grade at the end if the course is 100% complete.

The overall grade shows the average of the student's scores, i.e. the quality of work, (66.1% in the example) but does not factor in pacing.

The complete percentage shows how much of the course the student has completed relative to how much should be completed at this point. (34.1% is complete, but 59% should be by now)

PowerSchool: I have to manually update the grades inside PowerSchool so I normally do that every other week (or once a week when we get close to the end of the semester) which is why that grade is only accurate for about one day. After the end date, I will enter your relative grade into PowerSchool and that will be your final grade.
