

June 17, 2014

EdChat

JudyArzt @JudyArzt 1h

The 8 Skills Students Must Have For The Future - Edudemic <http://buff.ly/1qmw7Zs> #edchat
#teachers pic.twitter.com/Ab5q1vmNrv

This article took a look at skills beyond reading, writing and math.. It suggested teachers integrate these 8 skills into their teaching.

1. Leadership
2. Digital Literacy
3. Communication
4. Emotional Intelligence
5. Entrepreneurship
6. Global Citizenship
7. Problem Solving
8. Team-Working

I couldn't agree more. With technology being a large part of today's society, we still need to know how to work as a leader and a team and communicate. I am happy on am working on the degree in technology so I can be even better prepared to teach the future.

EdTech

Jeff Herb @InstTechTalk 5h

Interesting: 4 Ways The Internet Is Making Kids Smarter <http://inst.tc/1qm5G66> #edtech
#edchat

Expand Collapse

This was interesting because I actually have thought the internet has declined the kids ability to communicate. According to this article, the internet is improving the cognitive, reading, writing and social skills. Kids like to read online versus textbook and they are socializing more because of the social media sites. It is less frightening to kids to communicate online if they are shy.

ISTE2014

Karen Lirenman @KLirenman 2h

Sharing my passion for tech and young learners at #ISTE2014

<http://learningandsharingwithmsl.blogspot.ca/2014/06/looking-ahead-to-iste-2014.html>

This article was on a teacher who will be presenting at the ISTE2014 conference. They had the 1:1 initiative at their school last year and she found some creative apps that students could use to document with images, voice, and through stories.

