

Job opportunity

Pre-Doctoral Research Assistant

I'm looking for a pre-doctoral research assistant. Applicants should be completing (or have completed) a bachelor's or master's degree and demonstrate strong quantitative and programming skills. Experience in Stata or R is essential. This position is ideal for individuals seeking to gain experience in economic research before pursuing graduate studies in economics or public policy.

Since the current projects utilize Japanese data, I can only consider applicants who are fluent in Japanese.

The next round of applications is live. If you are interested, please email s-chen@pp.u-tokyo.ac.jp.

Please send your application packet (including the CV, a sample of your STATA or R programs, and a brief description of your long-term career plan) before 10th July.