Svitlana Hololobova is a graduate of the Lysenko Kyiv Secondary Special Music School (2006) and the Tchaikovsky National Music Academy (Kyiv, 2011), working with assistant professor S. Ryabov.

Winner of the music competition:

International Art-Festival Competition “Art Premium” in Kyiv, Ukraine (III prize, 2011);

International Internet Competition in Belgrade, Serbia (I prize, 2013);

Winner of the Grand Prix of the International Julian Cochran Piano Competition in Warsaw (Poland, 2015);

National Competition named after Sergei Prokofiev in Kyiv, Ukraine (II prize, 2019);

International Competition VRICMF in Oslo, Norway (III prize, 2019);

International Music Competition "Muse" in Athens, Greece (I prize, 2020);

Sanremo Music International Competition, Italy (I prize, 2020);

France Music Competition 2° in Île-de-France , France (III prize, 2020);

Franz Liszt Center Piano Competition in La Nucia, Spain (I prize, 2022);

XII International Art Competition "ART PLANET" (chamber music), I prize, Turkey, 2023.

Svitlana took part in the master classes of the International Summer Academy of Music (Kyiv, Ukraine) in the nomination “Play with the Orchestra” (professor Vadim Rudenko, 2011) and «Piano Solo” (professor Yakov Kasman, 2013).

Svitlana performed with solo programs in Ukraine, Poland, Germany, as well as accompanied by a symphony orchestra at the largest concert halls in Kyiv. She has repeatedly participated in the All-Ukrainian musical project titled “Creative Workshop for the Interpretation of Modern Music” (Kyiv).

As part of the main prize in the International Cochran Piano Competition 2015, Svitlana recorded her debut solo CD album “Svetlana Gololobova. Piano Virtuoso” at the Polish Radio’s Witold Lutosławski Concert Studio in Warsaw. The album was released in October 2016 – and was followed by an international concert tour.