Who am I talking to? Who is reading this copy?
Susan who wants to learn acrylic painting

Where are they right now? Where are they emotionally? Where are they physically? What part of Maslows Hierarchy of needs are they? What are their biggest dreams? Biggest pains?

They are on their tablet and want to get started and paint better with acrylics

Feel overwhelmed and afraid so need to comfort

Want to learn a new skill which leads to status

Wants to learn techniques and create gorgeous acrylics wants to feel passionate and inspired to create gorgeous acrylic paintings. Flawless confidence, no overwhelm, expert technique and amazing art pieces. Would feel like nothing can stop her and would feel like she can do anything and have a blast with it

Without being confused overwhelmed or think that she made a mistake cuz of imperfections,

Doesnt know all the techniques and doesnt have the supply knowledge to avoid poor supplies which leads to her paintings looking ugly and flat

Where do we want them to go? What do I want them to do? What action do I want them to take? What objectives must they achieve?

What steps do I need them to take?

What do they need to think & feel to get them from their current state to their dream state?

what emotions do i wanna create?

what movie do i want them to see?

now describe it.

What emotions do they need to feel?

Need to get comforted

Need to see how easy it is to paint and how they just need the right teacher

To speed up and simplify the process.

How joyful it is to paint my ideas one stroke at a time,

Needs to experience how beautiful it is to create gorgeous paintings

Needs to be understood/ I remember how scary it was to paint on my own for the first time...

After 10 years of painting,

And over 1,000 students under my wing,

I think it's safe to say these 5 free lessons are perfect for any beginner wanting to get started with acrylics.

How its FREE lessons to help them get started

The cycle continues.
