

hi Julien i big up to you for reading this and an even bigger up for your video on how to up my social skills that would be useful especially nowadays for the antisocial vampire who stay at in their rooms and are allergic to sunlight

.But anyway i was browsing the youtube "get more social section" if you can call it that because well nothing wrong with sharpening your skills and landed on that video and then to your channel.

saw your coaching trailer video and the fact that "you fucking saved my life" has got me hella curious so i went on your website and its quite the website

however after browsing for a bit i found a few ways to improve and strengthen the brand name and put it on the mainstream. if you want it i can send the file over i'd imagine getting vampires to be social is time consuming so a easy yes or no is fine

all the best

Ali
