

Manifesto of the Independent Politicians Organization

Edit :D - fix?

A spectre is haunting England- the spectre of non-partisanism. All the powers of old England have entered into a holy alliance to exorcise this spectre: Minister and Party Leader, Rhodes and Bowie, Communalist and Burgher. Where is the independent that has not been decried as unserious by the parties?

Two things arise from this:

- I. Independents are already acknowledged by all parties to be a power.
- II. It is high time that Independents should openly, in the face of the world, publish their views, their aims, their tendencies, and meet this nursery tale of the Spectre of non-partisanism with a unified, organized, free-thinking faction.

The IPO is that faction. In the IPO, you are free to think. In the IPO, you are free to say your political positions without fear. In the IPO, you are free to change your positions. All IPO members support each other regardless of opinion. When you are in the IPO, the parties see you with fear as the one who will dethrone them. In the IPO you are a serious, legitimate politician while not succumbing to the oppression and narrow mindedness of the parties. The IPO is the best option for new, ambitious politicians.

The IPO, relatively to its number of members, has been deemed the most influential party.

In the IPO, you are free.

The IPO cares about you.

Independents, unite!

WTF Derpy - lock editing