FACTS FOR THE INFOGRAPHIC

Sunflower High School is upgrading its workout equipment in the fitness center. The new facility will begin construction in June 2016 and be completed by January 2017. The total cost of the project -- $125,000 -- is being paid by the Sunflower Booster Club.

The name of the facility will be the Hendricks Center, named after former football coach and strength coach, Marty Hendricks. Hendricks died in 2014 at the age of 75. He retired as the most winning football coach in Sunflower High School history with 128 wins during his 15 seasons at the high school. (See image "Hendricks.jpg")

The new facility will be designed by Yellow Flower Architecture and will be built by Clinton Construction. Yellow Flower has provided the architectural rendering included in your images. (See image "Rendering.jpg")

The current strength coach Tina Round has provided some sketches that she has done as instructional materials for weightlifters. Those are also included in your images and you are able to use them in your infographic.

Round said, "I am so honored to be a part of the legacy of Mr. Hendricks. He was a hero to me when I was a Buffalo here at Sunflower playing volleyball and running track. This upgrade will take all of our sports teams to the next level, not just the ones that you associate with a weight room. It will help our golfers hit farther, our runners run faster and our pitchers throw more accurately. I can't wait until opening day." (See image of Round "Round.jpg")

You are also welcome to do reporting on the lifts that Round has provided.

Other facts about the Hendricks Center:

- Includes a bench press, a smith machine, a t-bar row machine, a cable raise machine, a leg press machine and a seated cable row machine among other machines.
- Two treadmills will be included.
