Commitment & Communication

I greatly value parent/teacher communication in your child's educational experience & welcome feedback. If you ever need to reach me, please feel free to email me at musicathomegtx@gmail.com or call/text (512) 316-9976.

You are committing to, at minimum, the full session of group classes through May. Your commitment helps me plan activities and keep a consistent schedule & will benefit the music education of your child & others.

Missed Classes

Tuition cannot be reimbursed for classes missed by a student; however please let Granger know if your child is sick & will be absent. If Mrs. Granger must cancel a class due to weather or sickness, a make-up class day will be scheduled.

Other Policies

Parent Expectations: Parents are welcome to attend/participate in the classes, drop off, or sit & watch. If your child needs a snack, please take care of this before class begins so that they can fully participate. Siblings are always welcome; however please do not let them become a distraction to the class.

Arrival + Facilities

Students must be dropped off & picked up in a timely manner, as lessons are scheduled back-to-back throughout the day.

Classes at Fairhaven Pavilion: Parking & Arrival - There is a parking lot available on Dubina Ave.

In the event of any property damage caused by a student or family member, the parent/guardian will be responsible for all repairs or replacements. We hope that this will never be a problem, but we understand that accidents happen.

Mrs. Granger thanks you for your cooperation and understanding of these policies.
